FOR JANUARY, 185..

spy of an Address from the Bratish Inhabitants of Ceylon, to bis Majesty on his late providential Escape.

ADDRESS TO THE KING:

Toft Gracuits Society,

We, your Majesty's Loyal Subjects the British Inhabitants Ceylon, united by every Tie that can bind a gradeful and factionate People to their king and Constitution, and deeply netrated with Horror at the late attractous Act of Treason, empted against your Majesty's Sacred Person, do now appach your Throse, to adule your Majesty of the fervent and unanimous Grate ade with which We have acknowledged the Signal Interposition of the Divine Goodness in our favour, in preserving a Life at all times so justly dear to us, and this time so indispensibly necessary, not merely for the Welfare of the British Empire, but for the Tranquillity, Security, and Independence of the civilized World.

At the same time that We thus express our Feelings on an event so deeply interesting to ourselves and our Fellow Subjects, it is no small Consolation to us to consider that the Wretch who has excited this alarm through all those extensive Dominions where the blessings of your Majesty's Government and Protection are dissufed, has appeared incapable of appreciating their Value, and We sirmly trust that the Reproach of so atrocious a Parricide will be wiped from our Age and Country, by the unquestionable Infanity of the Man who attempted it.

*That your Majesty may long enjoy the delicious Fruits of those Domestic Virtues which You, Sire, have cultivated with such pious Care; that the bright Example of them may long and successfully operate on the Hearts and Conduct of your grateful and affectionate Subjects; and that those princely Virtues which have raised to so exalted a heighth the Power, Prosperity and Renown of Great Britain, may long continue to display themselves triumphantly at the Head of a great Nation and a glorious Constitution, in the maintenance of true Religion, Liberty, and Social Order, is the Prayer which, Most Excellent Sire, We offer up to the Author of all Good in the utmost Fervour of our Hearts.

The Sarah, Captain Fitzherbert, which arrived from Sooloo, on Friday last, brings accounts of the capture of the Perseverance, cut out from Acheen Roads, by a small Schooner rigged vessel on the 19th November. A Frenchman is arrived on the Sarah. He was prize master of the Bee, a small vessel taken by L'Uni, the day before her capture by H. M. Ship Arrogant. He sold his prize at Acheer, where she is now said to be sitting out; in the mean time the French crew had betaken themselves to a small boat, in the hope of making depredations upon the coast of Pedier, but were fortunately captured, and carried to Prince of Wales's Island.

On Thursday last accounts were received of the arrival of the ship Ganjava, Captain Barber, from China, last from Pinang.

By the Ganjawa, we have been favoured with the following account of an action which took place on the 3d of November last, between the Honourable Company's armed ship Cornwallis, Captain Romaine, and La Gio. e, French Privateer, off the Sand Heads.

"On the 3d of November, at 6 A. M. being in Lat. 19? 471 Long. 887 681 East saw a ship a head standing to the Westward; -at I put 8 the stranger tacked and stood towards the Corn walks , at ; past 9 made the private signal to her, which the did not unfwer;—cleared thip for action—at 20 minutes past 10;—from the very suspicious appearance of the ship and of her superiority to the Cornwallis, as well as from the information of a Gentleman on board who had recently been at Mauritius and knew her to be La Glone privateer of 18 Guns, Twelve and Nine Pounders and 170 men, tacked thip to join five fail of American ships which were then in fight half courfes down; was minutes pail 10, it being little wind, perceived the Privateer with her fweeps out; at 11 got out on Iweeps, shewed our Colours and fired two that across her tarefoot and another at her which passed over her, the immediaately returned it with her Bow guns, houted the National.

Colours; a running and galling fire was now kept upon both sides with round grape and double headed shot; at half past noon, finding that the Cornwallis had no stern chacers, the Privateer got right in her wake, by which means her fails and rigging were much cut, the enemy keeping within Musket thot on her quarter and direct in her wake; at two P. M. having neared the Americans a good deal and finding that the that from one of them reached him, the enemy hauled his wind close on the starboard tack and shod off; the Cornwallis was immediately brought to the wind also on the same tack and commenced a very brift fire upon him, but the many of her that reached shutted him, he made such good use of his Sweeps as to be foon out of Gun shot; she kept hovering about the Americans during the rest of the afternoon, but left them during the night and was not to be feen in the morning. fails and riggings of the Cornwallis were much cut, but fortunately no person was hurt, excepting the Boatswain, wounded by a grape shot.

January 15th.—On Thursday last, accounts were received of the arrival of the Honourable Company's ships Earl Spencer, Captain Rett; Lord Walsingham, Captain Smales; Extra ships Tellichery, Captain Baker; and Herculean, Captain Franklin.

The Lalla failed from Bombav on the 20th of October. We have been favoured with the following particulars of her vovage: -On the Malabar Coast, she experienced light variable winds, chiefly foutherly, with a current fetting to the northward; so that she did not reach the latitude of Cape Comorin before the 9th of November. It was the Commander's intention to put in at Columbo or Point de Galle, for the purpose of filling up his water, the consumption of which was great, from having five horses on board. But on the 9th of November, came on a fresh gale from the westward, which would have made it dangerous to go into either of thole ports. It then became necessary to stand in for Trincomale, and at this time the current ran to the fouthward at the rate of from 60 to 72 miles in 24 hours. On the 19th in the evening, arrived in the harbour, and anchored in Nicholfon's Cove.

This harbour is too well known to require a particular description. It is universally allowed to be one of the finest in the world. The fort, which is situated on a neck of land, contained between the open sea and the northern extremity of the harbour, has a commanding aspect. The slag staff is erected on a point of land about half a mile to the north-westward of the fort. This point, projecting into the sea, is high and steep, consequently the most conspicuous part to ships at a distance. Its latitude is 8° 34' N. and its longitude, by the medium of a great number of Lunar observations, Mr. Bagshaw, the Master Attendant, has determined to be 81° 18' E.

Nicholfon's Cove, where the Lalla came to, contained between the points of Elephant and Osnaburgh, is capable of containing five or fix large ships, and here they are completely theltered from every wind. On the top of Osnaburgh point is a small fort. The ascent, from the western side of the point, is steep and rugged; but the labour bestowed on surmounting it is amply rewarded, by a most interesting and romantic prospect of the fort and the great bason, with the various is and contained in it.

The edge of the harbour, on the road from this point to Trincomale fort, is lined with rocks of pure Quartz, as white as Alabafter, and splitting into regular forms, resembling crystals. All the banks of the harbour and the islands contained in it, are covered with wood, the growth of which is found to be exceedingly rapid. This wood, when the place came into our hands, extended up to the fort, and furrounded it on all fides. It doubtless contributed greatly to the former unhealthiness of this station; which was severely experienced by the fleet under Sir Edward Hughes in 1782, and in no small degree by his Majesty's 80th regiment on their first arrival. The wood is now cleared away, to a confiderable extent round the fort; this work is still continued, and the climate is found to be improved in proportion to its progress. The troops are now healthy, and the fick from other parts of India, who have repaired here for change of air, have experienced a rapid convalescence. Among the trees furnished by the woods in this vicinity, are the Sattin wood and a species of Ebony. The former arrives to a great size, so as to yield Planks of 21 feet in breadth. The harbour produces great abundance and variety of fish. Turtles are not uncommon. The only fruit, when the Lalla was there, were Plantains and Water-Melons, but at the proper season they have grapes, which are faid to be of a good quality.

The business of watering and receiving the necessary supplies occupied two days; during which the Commander and Passengers were entertained with great hospitality, at the house of Mr. Bagshaw. November 21st, at one P. M. weighed, with the wind at N. N. E. and afterwards had fresh breezes at N. N. W. W. S. W. S. S. E. till the 30th in the morning, when they made the Great Andaman, without going to the fouthward of 7°58. N. So expeditious a progress flattered them with the hopes of a speedy termination to their voyage; but from this time, the winds hanging much to the northward, they were obliged to stand off and on, and did not clear the Island before the 6th of December. On the 13th made the Latitude 17 North, and from that time had light variable winds and calms, with foutherly currents, at the rate of 18 and 20 miles a day, till the 21st when they reached the Lat. 18°. The stock of water, rice and other provisions being nearly exhausted, it was determined to touch at Cheduba; and they got fight of that Island on the morning of the 22d. Or the 23d in the morning, entered the straits, and on the following day, at 3 P. M. anchored at Cheduba, in 5; fathoms, mud; in Lat. 18° 51' N. about two miles off the fort, which is the residence of the Rajah, or Governor, under the King of Ava. Before the ship came to anchor, the Rajah fent off a boat, with a present of fruit, and with instructions to inquire whether she was in want of Provisions.

At this place, Captain Young, who went immediately on shore, found Captain Alms, formerly commander of the Amboyna, with three European officers, a Carpenter, Boatswain, Gunner, his Mate (all Europeans) and about seventy lascars. Their ship, bound from Bengal to Amboyna, was taken, on the 15th November, in Lat. 19 N. Long. 90 E. by the French Privateer La Gloire, Captain Bourgogne, and they were landed at Cheduba on the 30th of the same month. The Rajah at sirst assured them of unconstrained permission to depart, and promised to supply a boat for their conveyance to Bengal; but after La Gloire was gone, he began to prevaricate, and at length owned that he could not release them till he should receive an answer from Ava, which could not be expected in less than forty days.

La Gloire was seen on the 6th of December, working out by the northern passage; but the Rajah asterwards informed the Prisoners, that when clear of the Island, she steered to the southward, and in the night of the 8th the report of several cannon was heard in that quarter, where two other ships had been seen by the natives. These circumstances led.

Capt. Alms and his officers to conclude that the privateer had there fallen in with some of our cruizers. She is described to be a long ship, low in the water, with black sides. very taunt-rigged, with the stern entirely open. She carried 200 men, seventy of whom were completely armed for boarding, when she came along-side of the Amboyna. B. informed the Prifoners that their ship was the first prize he had taken fince leaving the Isle of France. He had, some days before, been chasted by a large ship, and thrown overboard all his guns, except two, which he used as stern-chaces. The prisoners spoke highly of the conduct of Capt. B. and his officers, who treated them with the utmost kindness, permitting them to retain their private property, und supplying them with money to defray their expences, during the time they might be obliged to reside at Cheduba. the delay, protracted fo far beyond their expectation, had nearly exhausted their stock; and as the Rajah made them no allowance, they were under no fmall anxiety about the means of subsistence. Another source of great uneafiness to Capt. Alms, was the mutinous conduct of some of his own people, which manifested itself soon after they were put on shore. But this, by a proper exertion of firmness on his part, had been in good measure subdued before the arrival of the Lalla. The fight of her awakened their hopes anew, and they repeated their folicitations to the Rajah, but in vain; so that nothing farther could be done for their relief than to give them fuch a fearty supply as could be spared, and to convey the intelligence of their fituation to Bengal.

The live stock obtained here consists of sowls, ducks and hogs. Rice is produced on the island in abundance; sish of a good quality are plentiful, and the natives salt or dry them very well; but during the time that the Lalla remained there, no fresh sish could be procured, because the Rajah had ordered all the boats to be drawn on shore, from an apprehension that Capt. Alms, or some of his people, might find an opportunity, by their means, of escaping on board of the ship. All these provisions are cheap, when there are no strangers at the port, but the arrival of a single vessel raises the price very much, as may be seen by the following comparative table of prices, when the French Privateer was there, and nine days after her departure.

When La Gloire was there

alier her Departure.

Fowls (small and large) 7 per Aracan Rupee, - - 10 to 15

The Fort is an enclosure formed of Bamboos. The houses are constructed of the same materials, and thatched with straw. They are raised on posts of wood, about two or three feet from the ground, to preserve them from wet; this part of the country being overflowed during the rains. At present all the wells are dried up, and water for the ship was procured from a river to the southward of the Fort. And, although the boats went a long way up the river, yet the water they got there was brackish.

December 26th, left Cheduba, and on the 1st of January, at Noon, having just crossed the swatch, in lat. 21 05, spoke the LORD WALSINGHAM, EARL SPENCER, TELLICHERY, and HERCULEAN, supplied them with as much live flock, rice, vegetables and water, as could be spared. Next morning spoke the Perseverance brig, Captain M'Neelance, from Prince of Wales's Island, from whence he had failed upwards of two months. His rice and water having been almost expended, he sent his boat up the Aracan River, where the was detained eleven days, and nearly given up for lost; but the returned at the end of that time and brought abundance of water, rice, and fresh provisions; so that this vessel was enabled to contribute towards the relief of the Indiamen. Had CHEDUBA been better known as a place of refreshment, the distress of those ships might have been alleviated, at least a fortnight sooner; for they were off that Island; but the account in the Directory having led them to suppose that no supplies could be obtained there without fighting for them, they declined going in. About fix weeks ago, they fell in with his Majesty's ship Arrogant, off the Nicobars, she kept company with them five days. The Arrogant mentioned having chaced a privateer, which probably was La Gloire.

The American ship Fanny, Captain Macalister, which arrived on Friday last, from England, lest the Downs on the 18th of August, and touched at Tenerisse, whence she sailed on the 26th of September. During her stay at this Island, a ship came in bringing accounts of a dreadful plague that had broken out at Cadiz in Spain, and carried off in the course of a sew days, a considerable portion of the Inhabitants. An English Squadron had made an attack upon Ferrol, with what success, it was not stated. On the 2d of November, the Fanny spoke the Abundant Store Ship, from London, to the Cape of Good Hope, and supplied her with water and provisions.

The American Brig Eliza, from Hamburgh, on the 3d of August, and the Cape towards the end of October, is also arrived—H. M. ship Diomede, the Honourable Captain Elphinstone, had been dispatched from the Cape, in quest of three French Frigates, known to have been at Monte Video, in Rio la Plata, but was not fortunate enough to fall in with them. Captain Elphinstone, had however made some Captures in the course of his cruize, two of which arrived at the Cape previously to the Eliza's departure. These were sold together with their Cargoes, consisting of Hides, Tallow, &c. &c. in which latter article, the parchasers had the good fortune to find concealed a very considerable sum in Dollars.

Captain Sydenham, Mr. S. N. Wyatt, Assistant Surgeon; Messrs. Howell, Simpson, Avitmall, Galoo, and Malchus, are Passengers, on the Anna, which arrived here on Friday, from China, whence she sailed on the 25th of November. Considerable apprehersions were then entertained for the safety of the Honourable Company's ship Talbot, which had been a missing ship for upwards of six weeks, and was last seen in a very violent Gale of Wind.

All the other ships from Bombay and Madras, had arrived in safety at Canton. The H. C. ship Ganges having proved very leaky on the voyage, a survey was ordered to take place as soon as she could be unladen, to examine whether she was in a state to receive Cargo, for Europe.

Accounts from the Coast, brought here on Friday Evening.

State the Capture of the ship Frederic North, from Columbo, to this port, by La Gloire Privateer, on the 2d instant, off Point Palmiras. The Passengers and crew were landed on some part of the Coromandel Coast.

A privateer of 26 twelve pounders, and twelve nines upon the quarter deck and forecastle, full of men, commanded by Captain Mourain, sailed from Nantz the 18th July: She was to stop at the Isle of France, and thence to proceed to the Bay of Bengal; with a brig in company of 18 nine pounders.

Another privateer from Bourdeaux, 26 twelve and 10 fix pounders, failed early in Jun, with a Cargo of Wine; the was supposed to be the one that engaged the Wellesly, Captain Gordon, off the coast of Brazils, in August last.

Eleven fail of the line (English) in the North Sea.

The latter and of September last, a most gallant exploit was performed by the boats of the Squadron under Capt. Hotham, emising off the Isle of France, cutting out of the inner-harbour, the ship Sea Nymph, under Hambro' colours. The particulars are as follows:—" This ship was discovered by the squadron early in the morning close under Cannonneer's Point, with light airs of wind, off the land; and notwithstanding every exertion of each ship, they could not prevent her from getting close under the batteries; although the Lancaster sired several broadsides at her:—She was supported by a number of shot from the shore, and the boats from the Privateers, in the harbour, towed her into shelter about noon.

"Captain Hotham was now determined not to part with her, notwithstanding they had succeeded so far, as to get her into the inner-harbour, protected by a chain of batteries and three privateers, ready for sea. At sun set the boats of the squadron were hoisted out, well manned and armed, with volunteers; but notwithstanding every precaution was used to prevent the enemy from perceiving our intentions, it was soon made known to the Captain of the port, that the English had their boats out, and supposed for the purpose of cutting out this ship. In consequence of which a party of sorty soldiers was sent on board her from the shore, and all the batteries manned, ready to prevent a surprise; at the same time three boats were ordered from port to tow her still farther up the harbour.

- ordered to go on board his ship by the municipality, just as it was dark, when he found his ship in possession of the French troops, and the boats in the act of towing her farther up; that he had not been on board more than six minutes, before six English boats were discovered close a-long side, and a dreadful sire commenced on all sides immediately; but, in a few minutes the British Tars had possession of her, and, most of the Frenchmen killed or wounded. They instantly cut the rope, by which the French boats were rowing, and sent their own boats in their stead.
- They towed the ship's head round, and made sail on her, the wind being direct out; upon which a most tremendous fire was opened upon them, not only from the batteries, with shot and shells, but from the privateers of which they had to pass within pistol shot. By the bravery and good management of the British seamen, she was soon without their reach; altho' the ship was much disabled and her masts and riggings cut to pieces, with the loss of eight seamen killed and wounded. The first Lieut, of the Lancaster lost his arm:—the slaughter among the French was great, even from their own guns. She arrived at the Cape on the 18th October, with several other prizes of small value."

On the 12th ultimo arrived at Bombay, the Honourable Company's Cruizer Princess Royal, Lieutenant Francis Higginson, from the North west Coast of Guzzerat, last from Diu, having in tow a piratical Dingey taken by one of the armed vessels employed on the Surat station under the orders of Commodore Selby. On the evening before the Princess Royal came in the fell in with nine Mahratta gallivats, who appeared to meditate an attack, but on the Princess Royal saluting them with a few discharges of round and grape shot, they desisted and hawled their wind to the Northward.

We hear that the Honourable the Court of Directors have been pleased to present Thomas Wilkinson, Esq. of the Civil Service of the Bombay establishment, with the sum of £. 2500, in testimony of the high opinion they entertain of his Services while employed as President of the Commission in Malabar in the year 1796 and part of 1797.

We understand from authority that the name of Carnac has been assumed by James Rivett, Esq. a Member of Council at Bombay, as his sole surname, in compliance with the Will, as well as from motives of respect and regard for the memory of the late General Carnac.

Letters from Tranquebar mention the arrival of the Esther at that Port,—she left the Mauritius on the 5th of November.

By the same medium we learn, that several trading ships had arrived at the Island from Bourdeaux, which were sitting out as Privateers, and that no less than 11 ships of that description were out on their cruise at the time of the Esther's departure.

A Frigate and Corvette had arrived from Europe, and which were faid to be the forerunners of feveral armed ships.

An Address from the Cadet Company at MADRAS, who are about to join their respective Regiments, to Captain Armstrong.

DEAR SIR.

With the warmest feelings of the heart, that gratitude, affection and respect can produce, that part of the Cadet Company who are now about to join their respective corps, with an unseigned forrow bid you adieu. Placed in a situation equally arduous and uncommon, it required no moderate abilities to command universal satisfaction: the best proof we can give of your success in promoting our happiness, is, that we sincerely regret the period is arrived when we shall no longer enjoy the benefit of your instructions as a soldier, and the pleasure of your society as a friend.—We distain to stater any human being, but when glowing expressions are alone capable of conveying our fentiments, we hope you will excuse us for thus publickly declaring the high opinion we have of your character and conduct.

We remain,

Your affectionately attached Servants.

The dress, steadiness, and Soldier-like appearance of the 2d European Regiment under arms at the review this morning, was in all points perfect, and the fullest approbation of the Major General; the marching and heelings were in good time and executed with precision, the evolute and Manœuvres with celerity and spirit, and the firings, close and connected, and the conduct of the corps on this occasion does Major Hopkins, the Staff, and Officers attached to it, great credit."

Mr. N. B. Edmonstone, Secretary to the Government in the Secret, Political and Foreign Department.

January 20th.—The snow Venus, Captain Robert Lander, from Penang, arrived on Wednesday last; she lest Prince of Wales's Island on the 27th November; and heard a firing in the roads for two days, but saw no vessel.

The American ship Adventure, Captain James Barr, junior; last from Copenhagen, arrived on the same day.

The Honourable Company's armed ship Cornwallis, Captain

George Romaine, is also arrived.

On Thursday last, was launched from the yard of Messrs. Gilmore and Wilson, a very handsome ship, about 800 tons, burthen. She was named the Lucy Maria, and is to be commanded by Captain W. Dawes.

On Wednesday the Portuguese ship Monte de Carmo, Captain Januario, arrived from China, last from Macao, whence she sailed the 22d November.

On the late occasion of a disagreeable discussion with the Chinese Government at Canton, relative to a Chinaman being wounded by a thot from His Majesty's Schooner the Providence, the following translation of Extracts from the Camele criminal Code of Laws, was jublished by the authority of the Hammable Company's Supercargoes, for the information of 11 concerned,

The foregoing are articles of the I aws of the Empire of China, according to which judgement is passed on persons offending against them, without allowing of any compromise or extenuation.

Yesterday se'unight, accounts were received of the recapture of the City of London's Prize the Ganjam, by La Gloire l'tivateer, on the 5th instant, off Point Palmiras; the second officer of the City of London, who was the Prize Master, has arrived at Ganjam.

The ship Thetis, Captain Lindsay, from England, Maadeira and the Cape of Good Hope, arrived at Madras on the 28th ult.

We do not learn that any pessengers have arrived on the Thetis.

The Jupiter was the only Man of War remaining at the Cape, when the Thetis touched there; the remainder of the squadron being on a cruize off Mauritius.

We are concerned to communicate the loss of the ship Mermaid, Captain Garden, belonging to this poit:—She struck upon a rock, about two miles from the S. W. point of Diamond Island, in a violent gale of wind, and was wrecked.—After they had clung 13 hours to the rigging, a boat manned with Burmah men, came out to the assistance of the crew; the whole of which was fortunately picked up.—The loss of the Mermaid is entirely to be attributed to her unmanageable state, caused by her having been deprived of the main and mizen masts, when captured and released by the Privateer Malartic.

Letters from Tranquebar, mention the arrival of a vessel at that place, from the Isle of France, which she lest on the 16th of November.—By this conveyance, intelligence is received that La Consiance, Captain Surcouss, with his prize, the Kent, reached Mauritius, in safety early in the month of November. The Cartel, Le Liberateur, dispatched from this port in June last, had likewise arrived, after a passage of five months, conveying thither several of the prisoners captured in La Forte, whose Commanding Officer, it is said, has been tried by a Court Martial for the loss of the Frigate and honourably acquited upon the grounds of the very superior force of her opponent La Sybille.

A Corvette had likewise arrived from France, announcing an intended succour to the Island, of a respectable body of troops, accompanied by a new set of Commissaries, with extraordinary powers.

A letter from an Officer, dated on board the Caledonian, at the Cape of Good Hope, in March last says, " Such was the incredible violence of the wind in the late storm we encountered in latitude 23. 30. and longitude 58. East, that one of the people, in coming down from the main-top, had his shirt blown to pieces from his back; and the jolly hoat was blown from the stern, and carried perpendicularly as high as the mizen-yard.

January 24th.—On Monday last arrived the ship Burnaby, from Bencoolen, under charge of Mr. Russell, the Chief Officer, Captain Gardyn, having died during the voyage.

The Butnaby sailed from Bencoolen on the 6th November, and has had a very tedious passage up the Bay.

The Danish Company's ship Bekkeskow, Captain Krag, arrived also on the same day, from Copenhagen, last from the Cape of Good Hope; she sailed from the former place on the 14th of June, and from the latter the 20th of October.

Extract of a Letter dated Camp near Poonali, 12th December, 1800.

"Scindea, has at last made a movement for his return to Hindostan, he left his palace on the 5th instant, and is now living in his tents about fix coss from Poonah.-The army have not as yet broke ground, though they are in the hourly expectation of receiving orders for that purpole.-We cannot leave Poonah without recalling to mind the many civilities we have invariably received in this quarter, from the British Resident Colonel Palmer, nor can any length of time efface from our memory, his polite and hospitable conduct towards us; his benevolence and generosity have so repeatedly been noticed by others, that it is almost unnecessary to repeat them. Suffice it to add, the heart, which is capable of diffusing so much good to its fellow creatures, will always find an inward gratification amply to compensate him for the act, a reward to a feeling breaft, far superior to the commendation of others: our hest thanks are due to him, for the many favours we have received a: his hands, and wherever he may be, he will always possess our warm and cordial wishes for his health and happiness; long, long may he enjoy them!"

BOMBAY.

DECEMBER 13, 1800.

Extract from the Minutes of Council, under date the 10th of December, 1800. The Governor in Council, while he fincerely regrets the loss of so valuable an Officer as Captain Hall, who fell in the late action of the Intrepid with an Enemy's Privateer in the Gulph of Persia, pays but a just tribute to the memory of this gallant Commander, in declaring his entire approbation of the brave desence made by Captain Hall against the daring attacks of the enemy who with superior numbers twice attempted, but failed to board the Company's Cruizes

Lieutenants Smee and Best, with the other Officers and men of the Intrepid, are also entitled to the praise and thanks of the Governor in Council, for the whole of their conduct, during this action.—Lieutenant Smee, in particular, for continuing the unequal conflict, after the fall of his gallant Commander, finally repulsing the enemy, and obliging him to seek refuge in retreat.

The Governor in Council, to mark his sense of this laudable conduct, directs the Superintendant of Marine, to cause four months pay to the petty Officers and European seamen, and three months pay to the sepoys and lascars to be immediately advanced them, as a gratuity for their exertions on this occasion; Lieutenant Smee will receive the pay of a junior Captain in the Marine from the day of his gallant repulse of the enemy, viz. the 22d November, 1800, until he shall be regularly promoted in the line—the Superintendant being also directed to employ the intermediate services of Lieutenant Smee in as distinguished situations as his Marine rank will admit of.

The Superintendant is also desired to report whether Captain Hall has lest in this Settlement any samily or connections, on whom the Governor in Council could bestow some recompense for their late loss.—It being to him a subject of sincere concern that this Officer has not survived to enjoy in person the just reward of his bravery and meritorious exertions.

DEATH.

On the a8th November last, departed this Life at Mangalore, at the advanced age of 84, BRIGADIER GENERAL JOHN CARNAC, a man highly celebrated in the Historical Annals of India—He was early known as the Friend and Associate of the Gallant LORD CLIVE, to whose Military Genius and political sagacity his Country was indebted for regaining and establishing our Possessions in Bengal

On his succession to the Command of the Forces in Bengal, General CARNAC early distinguished himself by the important Victory gained over the Shah Zaddah on the 15th January, 1761, near Benar, which was followed by the surrender of the Prince and the restoration of general tranquillity to the Country; nor were the public advantages obtained on this occasion, the only Laurels which were reaped by the Victor—His honourable and distinguished conduct to his Royal prisoner displayed that rare integrity which formed the leading feature of his character.

GENERAL CARNAC returned to Britain in the year 1767, and was foom after in Parliament as representing the Borough of Leominster;

1.875 THE CALGUTTA MONTHLY JOURNAL,

but his active mind again led him to this Country, where he arrived in the year 1776; with the appointments of Second Member of Council, and Successor to the Chair at Rombay. In discharging the duties of this Station, it may be justly faid that his whole conduct was marked by the most honourable and upright intention

As a Scholar deeply read in the Classicks both ancient and modern, he had few equals:—In the earlier trap of his Life, he distinguished himself amongst the foremost of his F llow Students at the University of Dublin: In his more advanced years, he rendered the knowledge he had acquired, a source of amusement to himself, and instruction to his Friends.

It would be difficult to do justice to his merits as a Gentleman, and a Member of Society: They were felt and acknowledged where-ever he was known, and the Circle of their influence was equally extensive and respectable — Possessed of a disposition benevolent and humane, he was ever ready to assist and relieve the unsortunate, and the delicate made of effecting it, doubled the bounty which he bestowed.

Having been for some months past in a very declining state of Health, he had been induced to try the effects of a short sea voyage to Mahé, on the Coast, where he had resided for some time; and, on his return to Bombay, his indisposition having greatly increased, it was judged prudent to stop at Mangalore for Medical advice, where he received every aid and attention which friendship and professional skill could afford, during the short time he survived his arrival—He was interred at that place with the most distinguished Military Honours, which were directed by the following General Order from Colonel Mignan, who Communicated at the Station.

Gener !! Orders, b. the Commander in Chief, Jun 26, 1801.

The Commander in Crief, remarked with much pleature and fatisfation the uniformity of Diels, iteadiness under Arms, and Soldierlike appearance of his Majesty's 78th Regiment, at the Review this Morning.

Although the correctness with which the several Evolutions were performed, claimed his approbation; his attention was more particularly drawn to the Advance in Line, which was executed with a pre-eision, regularity, and connection, highly creditable to Lieut. Colonel McKenzie, and the other Officers of the Corps, as evincing the great attention they must have paid to this essential object, to bring the Regiment to its present State of discipline.

Extra Batta to be issued to day to the 78th regiment.

G. O. By the Most Noble the Governor General, January 27, 1801.

The Most Noble the Governor General directs, that the following extract of a letter from the Honourable the Court of Directors, received.

extract of a letter from the Honourable the Court of Directors, received by the Lord Wallingham, Indiaman, be published in General Orders.

It being impracticable to accommodate the whole of the Cadeta proceeding to Madras and Bombay, this scason, configured to their Presidencies, several of them will take their passinge on the Bengal ships, whence they are directed to proceed to their duty by the earliest opportunity

As this does not arise from any fault in the Cadets, who take this circuitous passage, but merely from the want of accommodation in the Madras and Bombay ships. We have resolved that the period of their service may be considered as commencing from their arrival in Bengal.

His I ordship in Council also directs that the Cadets of the Pichdencies of Fort St. George and Bombay, alluded to in the foregoing paragraphs, be furnished individually by the Town Major of Fort William, with the certificates of the dates of their respective arrivals at this Pichdency, that a list of the names of the whole of these Cadets, specifying the ships on which they arrived in Bengal, the dates of their arrival and the Presidency to which they are respectively appointed, be transmitted by the Town Major to the Secretary to the Government

FORT WILLIAM, JANUARY 28, 1801.

The Governor General derived great fatisfaction from the review of the Regiment of Artillery, under the command of Colonel Green, at the Camp at Dum Dum, this day.

His Lordship observed with pleasure the activity and precision with which the Guir Exercise was performed, and the particular accuracy and skill displayed in the Curtain, Moving Taiget, and Battery practice, especially in the Mostar Battery.

The Governor General also remarked the considerable degree of perfection which the Golandauze have attained under the immediate direction of Captain Lieutenant Johnston, and of Captain and Adajutant Clements Brown: His Lordship approves the meritorious exertions of the former Officer in the original formation of the Corps, and the attention and care of the latter in its recent discipline and exercise.

The general appearance and performance of the Regiment, reflect great credit on the diligence and ability of Colonel Green, and of the feveral Officers acting under his command, and correspond with the high character long maintained by the Bengal Artillery, and with the eminent fervices rendered by the Detachments of that distinguished Corps, employed during the late War in Mysoor.

The Governor General requests his Excellency the Commander in Chief, to communicate these Orders to Colonel Green, and to signify to that Officer His Lordship's approbation of the appearance of the Regiment of Artillery, on this day.

By His Lordship's Command, M. SHAWE, Multary Secretary.

General Orders, by the Commander in Chief, Jan 28, 1801.

It having been represented to the Commander in Chief, that several certificates granted by officers commanding detachments, to Zemindars and Ghaut Mangies, for expences incurred in crossing troops over the rivers, nullahs, &c. &c. are greatly at variance, with the form ordered to be observed by Government under date 28th April 1794,—Hits Excellency is therefore pleased to direct, that all officers commanding detachments of troops, shall strictly conform to the rules prescribed in the above orders, and when they shall have occasion to give certificates to Zemindars or others for Boats surmished by them for the public service, that they draw out certificates in the manner therein directed.

Prefidency Orders, by the Most Noble the Governor General,
Fort William, January 29, 1801

The Most Noble the Governor General in Council, having observed, that in several recent instances at the new stations and posts which the troops have occupied in the Vizier's Dominions, officers have drawn extra batta for native Troops, under a misconception of the General Orders of the 7th May 1800, and 13th October 1784;—His Lordship in Council judges it proper to remark, that as doubts were entertained by some of the officers, whether the native Troops at these stations were entitled to extra batts, it was the duty of the officers concerned, to have submitted the question, through the proper channel, for the decision of Government.

In consideration of all the circumstances of the case, the Governor General in Council will not order the extra batta, which has always been drawn for the native Troops, at the new stations in the field, to be refunded; but his Lordship directs, that in suture, the regulations respecting extra batta to the native Troops be strictly observed, and that all stations or posts, where public buildings shall be ordered to be erected, and lines constructed at the expence of Government, half batta only be drawn for the native Troops. When native Troops shall be ordered to march to such stations or posts, the extra batta must cease, on their arrival at their respective destinations, according to the existing regulations on that subject.

Whin native Troops shall occupy a station or post, which it is intended shall become to such degree a permanent station, as to require the construction of public Buildings and Lines; the extra Batta of the Troops in such cases shall be discontinued from the date of the Order directing the construction of public Buildings of Lines.

Fort William, 30th Jan. 1801.

We long since communicated the capture of the ship Armenia, of this port, at the same time mentioning, that her commander and crew had been landed in the Island of Sechelles. By a letter received from Capt. Meik, dated Cochin, the 6th of January, it appears that he, and his crew, together with two midshipmen, and sixteen men belonging to his Majesty's ships Adamant and Lancaster, were embarked on the 29th of October, on a small vessel of 35 tons, bound to Columbo. It is with much concern we state, that this vessel was wrecked on the 9th of November, about 12 o'clock at night, upon a reef of rocks amongst the Maldivia Islands, and that five men of his Majesty's ships, three of the Armenia's crew, and sive Frenchmen, unfortunately perished in an attempt to reach the shore by a raft.

The survivors betook themselves to a couple of Maldivia boats, in one of which Capt. Merk reached Cochin on the 4th ult. The other in which were the people belonging to the King's ships, had not arrived.

Mr. Maddox, a midshipman of his Majesty's ship Lancalter, died by sickness on the passage. Captain Mesk expresses himself in the highest terms of the attentions shewn to him, his officers, and crew, by the inhabitants of Sechelles, during their stay at the Island.

Feb. 2d.—On Monday last came on for trial before the Supreme Court, in its Admiralty Jurisdiction, the case of Samuel Stephenson, charged with the murder of Mr. James Heath Mitchell.

It appeared by the evidence, that on the 2d of June last, the deceased was 2d Officer, and the prisoner a seaman on board the ship Bengal, then on her passage to this country. Mr. Mitchell, it seems, in consequence of a complaint made to him, that the prisoner had been insolent to an inferior. Officer, had ordered him to go from below upon deck, but his order not being readily obeyed, he had repeatedly attacked the prisoner with a broom stick, and struck him with considerable violence, which treatment at length induced a scusse between them, and in the course of it, Mr. Mitchell received a mortal wound with a clasp-knife.

The Chief Justice prefaced his charge to the Jury, by ob-Serving on the relative situations of Seamen and Officers on board Merchant ships carrying Letters of Marque.-In ships fo circumstanced, he faid, the discipline of the Navy, as regulated by the Articles of War, was now by positive Statute, in as full force as in a King's ship; but as there was now no defect of authority on the part of the Officers, the law also required that leamen should be protested on their parts, against the exercise of that authority in any irregular manner. His Lordship then adverted to the circumstance of the particular cale; discriminated the characteristics of the four classes of homicide, namely justifiable, excusable, manilaughter, and murder; and concluded by directing the Jury, that the fact in the present instance rested between the two middle descriptions, excusable homicide, and manflaughter. The attack which appeared in proof to have been made upon the prisoner, seemed entirely to exempt him from the imputation of murder, whilst the nature of the case on the other hand was not luch as to amount, in the contemplation of the laws to justifiable homicide, it not having been committed in the prevention of a felony, or in any of those circumstances essential to the justification of him, who kills an assailant. But though there might be now no reasonable ground to suppose that Mr. Mitchell meant the death of the prisoner, in the attack which he had made upon him, yet is 32 as for the Jury to say, upon the evidence given, whether, heated as the prisoner must have been by the stray, and urged as he still continued to be by the deceased, armed with a weapon of no inconsiderable offence, he had not reasonable ground to consider his life in imminent danger, and might not have done the deed charged against him, with the view of extricating himself from such peril. If they believed that to be the fast (and how far it was so, his Lordship repeated, it rested exclusively with them to determine) the case would be excusable homicide, and the prisoner would be entitled to a verdict of acquittal; but if they should be of opinion, that the prisoner acted merely from the heat of passion, and not from a principle of self preservation, it would then amount under the provocation given, to manslaughter, which, his Lordship observed, is by a recent Statute, punishable now when happening at sea, in the same manner as if it had occurred on shore.

The Jury retired for several hours, and after ten o'clock at night, brought in a verdict of—Not guilty.

February 3d.—On Saturday last a Coroner's Inquest sat in the Jaun Bazar, on the body of a native woman, who died the preceding night, with suspicion of poison.—The deceased came on Friday evening to the house of a man, with whom she said she had formerly lived in habits of intimacy, but who had discarded her above two years ago. She laid hold of him faying that she had no other protector, or means of support. On his endeavouring to extricate himself and going away, the deceased was seen to follow him; but she returned alone, and was found in the house of that same man, with violent symptoms, fuch as convultion and vomiting.—In this fituation the accused the man of having given her poison, and about eleven o'clock at night she expired. The man, and another native woman, who at present lives with him, were detained in custody by the T, hanahdar, on suspicion of the murder; but on examination of witnesses nothing having appeared that could implicate them, farther than the aforefaid declaration of the deceased; and the inspection of the body not exhibiting any appearance that could ascertain the existence of poison, the Jury returned a verdict-accidental death by the visitation of God

Yesterday arrived the Arab Snow Humaioon Shah, Naco-dah Ben Hassan, from Pegue, which port she lest on the 6th alt. She brings accounts of the arrival at Pegue, on the 2d ultimo, of the Ship Hougly, of this port, Captain Hodges, from Bencoolen.—She also reports that four French Privateers have been at Mergui refitting.

February 4th.—On Monday last, the Portuguese ships Princess de Portugal and Diligente, arrived in the river from Macao, last from Pinang, whence they sailed on the 6th ultimo.

By the Diligente we learn the melancholy accounts of the massacre of Captain George, and his Officers, on board of his own ship, near the Sand Heads, by sour of his sea-connies,—the particulars are nearly as follows:

The ship Marianne was bound from Prince of Wales's Island to this Port, and had near completed her voyage, when four of the seaconnies rose upon their Officers, murdered the Captain, his first and second Mate and a native Woman -gaining over the Lascars, they proceeded for Chittagong; when getting fight of land, they horsted out the ship's boat, laid a train of Gun-powder between decks and were in the act of pushing off from the ship and to set fire to her, when a Tindal plucking up courage, jumped into the boat alongside, plunged his knife into one of the seaconnies' bodies, and being himself wounded, they both sell into the sea and were drowned,—the Lascars upon this attacked and killed two of the remaining three feaconnies; the furvivor took refuge on the Main Top mast-head, being armed with a brace of pistols and a large knife, where he remained for two days—he was at length persuaded, by fair promises, to come down, and having been plentifully plied with liquor he fell a fleep, when he was fecured in irons by the Lascars, his arms taken from him, and in this state the ship arrived at Prince of Wales's Island, and is now, we believe, hourly expected at. this Port.

Feb. 9th.—The approaching departure for Europe of the Commander in Chief, afforded an opportunity to the Military Servan's at this Prefidency, of manifesting on the part of themselves and of their absent brother Officers, those sentiments of respect and personal attachment, his Excellency's conduct, in his public situation, as well as the urbanity of his manners in private life, could not fail to create in an Army, which from having so long served under his Command, had the best means of becoming acquainted with his valuable qualities.

The accasion was eagerly embraced, and as the most public mode of testifying their esteem, an elegant Ball was given on Wednesday last, at the New Rooms, to His Excellency.—The style in which the Rooms were sitted up, both as to splendour and accommodation, restests great credit on the taste and contrivance of the Committee of Officers appointed to conduct the amusement of the evening.

About Nine o'clock, Sir Alured, accompanied in his carriage by Sir James Craig, and attended by his Staff, arrived at the Rooms. His Excellency was received and conducted into the Ball-room by General Popham and the Staff and other Officers of distinction at the Presidency: the Native Troops forming a street with presented arms, and the Bands of H. M. 10th and 78th Regiments playing the "Duke of York's march."

Marquis Wellesley attended by his Staff and escorted by a detachment of the Body Guard, arrived shortly after, and was ushered into the Ball room, the Bands playing—" God save the King." The dances then began, and were continued with great spirit and animation until half past twelve, when the doors of the Supper-room were thrown open, and the company, consisting of nearly 500 persons, sat down to a most elegant and sumptuous repast.

The Tables were so judiciously arranged, that the company tho' very numerous, was completely accommodated. But what most particularly attracted our notice, was the mode in which the entrance from above into the suppergroom, was managed.

The flight of stairs was so contrived as to afford a complete vista of the Supper Tables, and when the company was seated, produced, from its novelty, a most pleasing effect. After supper, the dance was resumed, and continued with great hilarity till four o'clock in the morning.

The Ball which followed on the next Friday evening, from the Senior Civil Servants, and principal Inhabitants of Calcutta, was conducted in a similar manner.—We had, however, the pleasure to remark upon one improvement, in the accommodation afforded to the Dancers, by the exclu-fion of Spectators from the space between them and the benches, the want of which arrangement on the previous occasion, had been attended with some inconvenience. Perhaps too, the Bands being placed on the stairs of the Supper Room, instead of the situation before allotted to them, was of advantage to the general effect of the spectacle.

In pursuance of the Resolution of the Most Noble the Governor General in Council of the 15th January, (notified in the Gazette of the 29th of the same month) to present Captain Mossat, Commander of the Hon. Company's ship Phoenix, with a Sword, that Gentleman had the satisfaction of receiving the same the 7th instant, from the hands of Major General Baird, on the Quarter-deck of the Phænix. The General in presenting Captain Mossat with the Sword, ad. dressed him in the following words:

"The MARQUIS WELLESLEY has requested of me, to present you with this Sword from him, as a mark of His Lordship's high approbation of your gallant and Seaman-like Conduct, and that of your Officers and the Ship's Company in preparing for and during the Action on which you engaged and Captured the Malartic French Privateer.

I congratulate you on this occasion, and feel much pleasure in complying with his Lordship's request."

His Excellency Sir Alured Clarke, K. B. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's and the Honourable Company's Forces in the East Indies, a Member of the Supreme Council of Fort William in Bengal, and Provisional Successor to the Marquis Wellesley in the Government General, having appointed Monday the 16th instant, for his embarkation for England, His Excellency proceeded about fix o'Clock in the morning to the Government House, in the carriage of the Most Noble the Governor General, escorted by a detachment of the Body Guard, and attended by several of the Officers of His Lord. ship's Staff, and accompanied by many of the principal Officers and Gentlemen of the Settlement. The Most Noble the Governor General, His Excellency Sir Alured Clarke, Mr. Speke, and Mr. Cowper, proceeded from the Government House in his Lordship's carriage, escorted by the Body Guard. to Fort William, at the Gates of which, they alighted, and were met by the Commanding Officer of the Garrison. The Governor General, His Excellency Sir Alured Clarke, Mr. Speke, and Mr. Cowper, walked through the street which was formed by the troops in Garrison, from the Calcutta Gate to the Water Gate; the bands of His Majesty's 10th and 78th Regiments playing a March, and the Officers faluting His Excellency Sir Alured Clarke as he passed. His Excellency embarked at the Water Gate under a Salute of seventeen guns from the Ramparts of Fort William, on board of the Charlotte Yacht, and proceeded down the river, for the purpose of embarking for England on the Honourable Company's ship Bengal.

On Tuesday the 17th instant, William Cowper, Esquire, Third Member of the Supreme Council of Fort William in Bangal, embarked from Calcutta under a Salute of thirteen guns, and proceeded down the river, for the purpose of embirking for England, on the Honourable Company's ship Lady Burges.

February 18th.— On Saturday arrived the ship Autora, Captain Aiken, from Lappanoole, whence she sailed on the 17th January. Captains Read and Douglas, of the Honourable Company's Military Service, are pattengers by this conveyance.

We are forry to learn that Ciptain F. H. Pearson, of the Engineer Corps, died at Bencoolen in December last.

We have the satisfaction to announce the arrival of the Georgiana Packet, Captain Leigh, from England, whence she sailed on the 15th of September; and the Cape, which she lest on the 21st of December.—The Honourable Henry Wellesley has arrived a passenger from England by this conveyance.

The Georgian i brings intelligence that many prizes had been carried into the Cape, by his objectives Squadron:—Of the particulars we have not been informed; but in the number were feveral Vessels under Prussian Colours.

Last week arrived the Honourable Company's frigate Nonfuch, Captain John Canning, from a cruize, in which she retook a finall snow named the Dragon, from Mergui, bound to the Mauritius.

The Transfer, of this port, after her capture by the Diana, in November last, had proceeded for Mergui, and on her passage had taken this snow, carried her back to that port, and having laden her with the greatest part of her own cargo, had dispatched her for the French Islands, when she was fortunately re-captured by the Nonsuch; we are however naturally anxious respecting the prize, as we have heard she parted with the Nonsuch on the 25th December last, and has not, we believe, since been heard of.

The Transfer has been fitted out at Mergui, we hear, as a privateer, her poop removed, and every other repair given to her that the port would allow.

Accounts from the Coast mention the appearance of the Diana, French privateer, at Ganjam, on the 6th instant, fortunately there were no ships then at that anchorage; the crew had however made free with whatever suited their wants or inclination from two or three Donies then laying there.

It is with great concern we state the Capture of the ship Peggy, Captain Robertson, off Rangoon Bar, on the 30th ultimo; and that of the Duke of Clarence from this port to Rangoon, by the French privateer La Gloire. The intelligence is brought by Captain Kemp, who arrived here on Sunday, the 22d instant, in a boat from Rangoon.

The Peggy tell in with La Gloire, at day-break in the morning, and was chased until two o'clock P. M. when the wind dying away, the privateer came up with her. In the hope of wounding the masts, the Peggy fired a few shot at the Frenchman, but the attempt was unsuccessful, and she was compelled to surrender.

Previous to the capture of the Peggy and Duke of Clarence, Capt. Burgoin had taken, on the 27th ult. the ship Diana, Capt. Macarthy, from Pinang bound to Rangoon, and on the 30th the Sloop Endeavour, Captain White, bound to this Port with a cargo of Timber, the greater part of which he threw overboard, in order to make room for his prisoners, with whom he sent her into Rangoon.

We are forry to add that the Snow Dragon, prize to the Nonsuch, was re taken by La Gloire, and after taking her cargo out, was burnt; the Prize Master and crew were sent to Rangoon in the Sloop Endeavour, mentioned above.

General Orders, by the Most Noble the Governor General in Council. Fort William, February 16, 1801.

In definishing the Infantry of the Cocon a European Militia for the approaching Seaton, the Governor Gountal figures his entire approbation of the appearance of the Cotps on the 14th Infant.

His Lordship remarked with particular litislattion the general appearance of the Corps in Line, and when plang in Review, the march in open column was exact, and the distances between the leveral Divisions were well preserved.

The manœuvres were executed with a degree of accuracy, which could not have been expected from a Corps, whose opportunities of practice have necessarily been so much limited, the sire was, in general, close, and precise.

The Officers and Non-commissioned Officers manifested the most commendable attention and intelligence; on the whole this Review has tatisfied the Governor General, that the practice of another Season will improve the discipline of the Calcutta European Militia, to the full extent of the important objects which His Lordship proposed to attain by is revival; and the Governor General entertains the firmest confidence, that in its present state, this respectable Corps would prove a most useful addition to the desences of the Seat of the Supreme Government, under any extraordinary exigency of the Public Service.

FUBLIC DEPARTMENT, FEBRUARY 12, 1801.

THE Secret Committee of the Honourable Court of Directors, in a letter dated the 30th of Sept. 1800, having been pleafed to direct, that every encouragement be given to the exportation of Rice from India, to England, so as to throw in as large a supply as possible into England, previous to the ensuing harvest in that Country, the Most Noble the Governor General in Council has been pleased to direct, that the softwarm extracts from the letter from the Honourable Committee be published

" that every find which takes on board three quarters of her registered tonnage in Rice, shall have liberty to fill up with such goods for this port as has been usual of late years to be imported by country ships."

" I hat the flups which embark in this adventure, shall be allowed to carry out exports from this Kingdom as of late allowed to country flups."

"That the faid ships shall be excused from paving on the Rice which they import the three per Cent which otherwise would be-connodue to the Company for landing, Wharfage, &c. &c "

"That when the ships are approved by our surveyors, as usual in India, the risk of the Rice which they bring shall be on account of Government, which will of course save the owners of it the expense of Indianaec on that a cole?"

- "That in cale of the price of Rice, being on the ships arrival here, under from thirty-two to twe ty-nine shilling a per 100 weight, the difference between the price it sells soi, and the above rates, shall be made good to the owners on the following conditions, that the ship which sails from her port of landing, within one month after the contents of this here; promulgated, shall be guaranteed—thirty-two shillings per hundred weight for the Rice which she birg—if in two months, thirty-one shillings—if in three months, thirty shillings—and it in four months, twenty-nine shillings."
- The above encouragement we have to observe is only to be given on condition that the Rice so laden he purchifed by a person under your appointment. We conceive this latter proviso absolutely necessary, because unless the Rice is of real good quality, and the newest to be had, it cannot be expected to answer the purpose so which it is meant. It ought to be of what is generally styled the best cargo Rice?
- "Although our Government will endeavour to fecure to these ships convoy, whenever they can get it, they still should on no account be detained for convoy. We need not point out, that coppered ships should be perferred on this business, as so much depends on expedition."

Military Jutelligence.

General Orders, by the Commander in Chief, February 3, 1801.

THE Commander in Chief having taken into confideration the temporaty inconvenience which the Company's officers might experience, in confequence of not having been furnished with commissions from His Majesty, corresponding with choice they may have by regular promotion, in the Honourable Company's army, since the period of the General arrangement that took place, conformable to the regulations estiblished by the Court of Directors, on the 8th of January 1796, when the late Commander in Chief ceased to issue them, — His Excellency, in order to prevent it, and at the same time to obviate any misconception, and remove any doubts, that may have been entertained of the Governor General in Council, is pleased to order and direct, that all officers in the Company's army be considered as entitled to and possessing all the rights they would have enjoyed under commissions granting local rank in the King's army in India, corresponding with the usual commissions they have obtained in their own, the same as if such had been issued, until His Maj-fty's pleasure shall be known.

And to prevent any mistake or d lay, which a want of issormation of the dates of the several promotions that have taken place amongst the officers of the Company's army, a the dissornt Presidencies, might occasion in the producing corresponding King's commissions, as well as to secure to those officers the benefit of a y general Brevet promotion that His Majesty may have made, or that he gracefully disposed to make, the Commander in Chief is further pleased to diect, that correct alphabetical lists, agreeable to the accompanying form, of all officers who have been promoted, at the several Presidencies, for whom corresponding King's commissions have not yet been granted by any Commander in Chief, he made out immediately, up to the rist of January, 1801, and transmitted to head quarters, for the purpose of hours sent to Europe; similar lists to be sent whenever promotions shall have taken place to render it necessary in future.

G O By t'e Connectes in Chief, Feb 6, 1801.

Lieut Col Woodburne is ordered to join and do duty with the Artillery at the Prefig ac ;

The Communication in this frequently had occasion to express his approbation if the unificantly such a sures of accontrement, and general good appears to indicate the Artislery men, in the various duties, on their projection, and he feels much pleasure in remarking, that the facourable opinion he entertained of this corps, has been encreased and confirmed by its behaviour at the Review this morning.

The battery practice was performed with a correctness, which could not be furpassed, and hile the Commander in Chief regrets, that the weather precluded the cuitain practice bring attempted, he is perfuaded, that had it not been prevented by this circumstance, it would have been equally entitled to his commendation.

The Commander in Chief has much fatisfaction in again repeating the high fense he entertains of the incrits of Colonel Green, and the other Officers, under whose instructions, and by whose exertions, the regiment of Artifiery has been brought to its present state of discipline.

General Orders, by the Commander in Chief, Feb. 16, 1801.

The Commander in Chief, before his final deputure from India, effectis it not more an act of justice to the Air ; that has ferved under his immediate orders, near four years, than a tribute due to his own feelings, to publish his sentiments of its ments and delaits.

He restrects with heartselt satisfaction, that throughout the whole per od of his command, the zeal and attention which have been invariably manifested by the Oshicers of all ranks, to the duties of their profession, have not had stronger claims on his public approbation, thin the cordial support and personal attention he has uniformly experienced, entitle them to his warmest thanks. The Commander in Chief must ever cherish the sentiments of gratitude with which his mind is impressed, for men endeared to him by the spirit of Honour, Propriety, and Distinctestedness, that have distinguished their public and private conduct, and he shall be happy on all occasions to bear ample testimony to the collective and individual ments of this Army, and with real approbation embrace every opportunity to promote its interest

Where the Commander in Chief has had for much reason to express his approbation generally, it might feem difficult to discover cause for particular praise, but the peculiar situation in which Major General Sir James Craig has been placed in the Field, having occasioned the greatest part of the Aimy to be at different times under his immediate command, and the discipline of the whole having received essential benefit from his uniemitted exertions, knowledge, and care; the Commander in Chief cannot resist the impulse he feels, in this public manner to offer his hearty thanks to the Major General, for those, and his other important services, during the period of his command in the Field, which he hopes he will be pleased to accept

The Most Noble the Governor Control, his been pleased to any me Major W. Grishths, to be one of His Lordship's Aids-da Camp, in the room of Lieut B. Sydenham, gone to Europe

His Lordship in Council, affects that the following Peragriph, of a general let er from the Honomabic the Court of Directors, dited 2.th August last, be published in General Orders

PAR 5—Several years ago (viz in 17/8) we resolved that such Gentlemen proceeding to the several Prelimeness that decton as Cadets, who had held Commissions in His Majetty's Service, should be promoted in preference to all other Cadets of that scalon, and according to the dates of their respective Commissions.

PAR 6th.—I his resolution was observed by us in ranking the Cadets for two seasons only, but we understand that the rule has since been generally observed at Bengal, and that such Cadets who have held Commissions in His Majesty's service, have accordingly had superior rank assigned them. As it, however, appears in the instance of Mr. Thomas Russell White, that Gentleman may have held a Commission in His Majesty's service for a short period, for the sole purpose of being placed at the head of the list of rank in India, we have resolved, that no Cadets shall be allowed a higher rank than that assigned him by the list transmitted by us in each season. It is our intention, in forming these lists, to rank at the head of the same, such Gentlemen who shall actually have been so the space of one year at least, a Commissioned Officer in His Majesty's service, or in the Militia, or Fencible men, when embodied and called into actual fervice, or have been in the Company of Caders in the Royal Regiment of Artillery.

PAR. 7th.—The above resolution we mean to enforce in future, but by no means to make any alteration in the rank which has hitherto been affigued by you to every Gentleman now in India.

PAR. 8th—The rank of Cadets on the lifts of 1798 and 1799, which was forwarded by the Walfingham and Earl Spencer, having been fettled before we had come to this determination, it is very probable that some of the Gentlemen may have borne Commissions in His Majesty's service, and may expect superior rank on their arrival in India, agreeably to the cuttom at Bengal. We therefore in these lists only admit or your affiguing a higher rank to such Gentlemen as shall apprais clearly to your sensition, to have served actually one whole year in His Majest, 's service as abovementioned.

Par 9th—Upon comparing the periods of Mr. White's holding a Commission in the 2d Regiment of Tower Hamlets Militia, with the dates of his being approved by us, and of his proceeding on his passage to India, we were led into a long invest gacton of the circumstances of his obtaining superior Rank in the Comp is a service; and it appearing, that although Mr. White did not a ply for our Secretary's Certificate of his appointment until the 2 still June 1797, he had been actually approved by us as a Cadet on the 20th January pieceding, and that he did not obtain a Commission in the 2d Regiment of Tower Hamlets Militia, to come month afterwards, we have resolved, that as his Commission in the Regiment is of a date subsequent to that of his and being appointed as a Cadet, he shall not bove the Cadets of the fame featon, who have a Committion, and that he shall therefore rank to the order in which his name stands on the lift of the rink tradimitted by no in the leafon in which he was appointed.

Pra 22d - We have appointed Mr M'Moody, an Afhillant Surgeor, for your Prendency, on the lifts of the prefent feafon (1799), and have tasked him text below Mr. It. Gibton

Processed—II ving outeved in some inflances, Officers who had received one bracht of the congellations respecting turbough, had soon and their return to their duty in India, applied to and obtained take their failough, we do not distant the pay of such Officers should be withold after three were receipt of such Pay, unless in case of certiand all health

Pie 24th —As the regulations do not appear to have been underfloud by the Covern cents in India, in the manner above stated, it may seem a hardship, in some instances, to officers who have been permitted to come home on second surlough, under an implied fanction for drawing their pay, it they are not allowed such pay during their second surlough, although the pay altogether drawn may not exceed three years; but in order to prevent the regulations from being inclunder-shood in suture, we have resolved, that no officer who has drawn three years pay on surlough, shall be allowed any faither, on being permitted to come home again on surlough hereaster, unless in case of lickanels under the present certific tes.

PAR. 25th —The following Military officers and furgeons have been permitted to retire from our fervice.

A neat imposition to a considerable amount was a few days ago practiced upon a dealer in Pearls, by an artful fwindler, calling himself the Kidmutgar of an officer in Fort William. His master, he told the merchant, had fent him in quest of fome line Pearls, and if he possessed any of that description and would attend him with them into the Fort, he might probably find a purchaser. The merchant consenting, put up some of his finest Pearls, and followed the pretended servant to the South Barracks; where having arrived, his companion left him at the bottom of the stairs, faying he would give notice of his arrival and introduce him immediately. In a few moments he returned, with information that his mafter had gone out, leaving instructions with his mistress, for whom the Pearls were intended, to select and purchase such as she might approve. Here, however, a difficulty occurred: the Lady's rank was too high to allow of a stranger's admission into her presence. The rogue offered to obviate it by himself carrying the Pearls for his mistress's examination; but to a proposition of this kind from an entire stranger, the merchant very naturally objected. During the colloquy, another man came up, as if casually, and entering into conversation begged to accommodate matters by remaining as security for the return of the messenger, whom he stated to be an old fellow servant, and to his knowledge, a perfectly honest man. Unsuspicious of any collusion, and no other mode appearing of disposing of his commodity, the merch int unwarily agreed, and put Pearls to the amount of seventeen hundred Rupees into the swindler's hands. He ascended the stair-case, and as might have been foreseen, has never since made his appearance.

After waiting a confiderable time and finding there was no hope of the man's return, the unfortunate dupe adopted the only remedy in his power by ferzing the Security, and carrying him to the Police Office.—Upon interrogation before the Magistrate, he denied any concern in the theft, at which he expressed the deepest regret; acknowledged that he had made himfelf responsible for the value of the Pearls, but stated his utter inability to restore so large a property, and trusted that he should not be punished merely for having placed an ill judged considence. No doubt can of course be entertained of his being an accomplice in the fraud, and he is detained in custody until the matter can be further investigated.

March 10th.—Yesterday arrived the ship Charlotte, Capt. Moreira Dias, from Madras, whence she sailed on the 14th of last month.

Messers. Fielding, Wyatt, and Richards, Cadets on the Bengal Establishment; Lieutenant Frissell, Bombay Establishment, and Mr. Gardiner, have arrived passengers from Madras by this conveyance.

A horrid circumstance occurred a few days since at Chandernagore. Information was lodged with the Officers of Police, that in the house of one Radah Caite, a corpse, supposed to be his Mother's, who a few months before had suddenly and unaccountably disappeared, had been discovered thro' an aperture in the wall. The Magistrate accordingly repaired to the spot, where was found, as had been represented, a semale corpse, consumed to a skeleton, and forcibly crammed into a basket. Upon his examination Radah Caite confessed, that about four months ago, a quarrel had arisen between him and his mother, in which, she having given him great provocation, he had struck her a blow on the face. That her abusive language still continuing, he then left the house, and returning home a few hours afterwards, found his Mother a lifeless corpse.

Alarmed he said, lest suspicion should rest upon him from it's being known that he and his mother lived not upon very good terms, he immediately buried the body in his own house; and to the various inquiries regarding her which had been since made by his brothers and the neighbours, had uniformly replied, that she was gone to Paunrah upon a visit to his uncle. That some days since, however, understanding in conversation, that this account was doubted by many of the neighbours, who had determined to give information of their doubts, and cause his house to be searched, he had dug up the body in the design of throwing it at night into the River, but was prevented from putting this intention into execution, by an unexpected visit from one of his brothers. The corpse had in consequence continued from that time in a basket deposited in a small hut communicating with his dwelling house.

Against him there is at present no other evidence than this conscision, and the circumstance of the body being found in his house, combined with his affection that his mother had gone to Paunran:—Strong presumption, it must be confessed of his guilt. He has therefore been fully committed to take his trial before the Judge of Circuit, and of a crime, at the bear mention of which human nature shudders, we sincerely hope he may be able in the end to establish his innocence.

The Ganges put in there in a very leaky and distressed fituation-fixty men being constantly at the Pumps.

Much of the captured property from Batavia had lately been disposed of at Prince of Wales's Island, and to good account, a small French prize Brig, burthen about 200 tons, subsequently named the Rainier, is spoken of in high terms, as a most complete vessel, she was sold at Public Auction, and purchased for 10,000 Dollars, the command given to Capt. Court.

EXTRACTS.

Extract of a letter from Pondicherry, dated 25th of Februarye 1801.

"We had an alarm at this place just after day light yesterday morning,—that a privateer's boat had during the night cut out three Rice vessels that were at anchor in the roads;—the three vessels were seen under fail, the nearest about a league from shore :—there appeared to be no doubt of the truth of this report, as the owner of the nearest vessel with another of his man had made their escape and swam on shore; -one of them had received a wound in his head. - Captain Godfrey, who commanded the place at the time, with Mr Courson, the Master Attendant, interrogated these people, and they both declared that towards morning, a priva cer's boat had boarded their veffel, and that they had done the same with the two others; -that the enemy had placed ten armed men in each vessel, and were then taking them off: the crew of a finall floop come also on shore and told the same story, to that there feemed not to be the smallest doubt of the truth of it, and what corroborated it in Mr Courfon's opinion, was that he had feen a fulpicious looking vessel off the place at the close of the evening before.

" It was Mr Courfon's opinion he could come up with the nearest of these vellels, and in a very spirited manner offered to do so; -lor this purpole Captain Godfrey furnished him with a Subadai's party of 30 men, which were equally divided in four boats, on Mr Courfon's approach towards the vellel, a boat was diffeovered with people in it making their cleape -M'r Courson after placing a guard of sepoys in the vessel, pursued, and took the boat, in which was six Frenchmen, who it feems hed escaped about ten days before from Poondamalie, - from them he leaint that the two other vessels had failed of their own accord; -that they alone had been the cause of the alarm, that about four in the morning at a filling village a little north of the Town of Pondicherry, they had seized a Cattamaian, piddled to the vessel, and had made themselves master of her just before day, -that some of the crew jumped over board and the others they confined below - The prisoners were brought on shore, and in the evening s-in off by Captain Godfrey to a detachment of his Majesty's 74th regt. under Captain Dyce, that had marched from Pondicherry that morning for the Pielidency, - here ended the alarm; - but it was most fortunate indeed that an attempt was made to fave the vellel, for the preforers would absolutely have carried her off, - she is a fine snow, laden with 40 garce of Rice, belonging to a Moorman

When Captain Godfrey from the shore perceived Mr. Courson had recovered one vessel, and was then pursuing the people endeavouring to escape, and believing the two others to be in the same predicament, he determined to attempt the recovery of them also, which would have been practicable as a dead calm had taken place, he accordingly manned another boat, and with another party of Sepoys went off to join Mr. Courson for this purpose, but on coming up with him, learned the sacts here related,"

Extract of a letter, dated Fort Marlbrough, the 1st of January.

The West Coast has had a dreadful visitation of sickness these last two months.

"A Fever similar to the yellow Fever of the West Indies, has raged here with unconting violence. The great satality has fallen upon the Chinese Colony Oui sew remaining troops have only sustained a loss of three Europeans.

"It has most unluckely happened that all the Medical faculty are laid up in illusts - D. Gor Campbell, from the severe cold, rains, and damps, he suffained in an expedition into the Country and to the Hills, has been confined these two months. Mr. Lumsdaine has also been laid up with a periodical Bilious Fever, which he is frequently subject to, and Doctor Harrley, (the Head Surgeon,) with difficulty (from a severe fever of which he is scarcely recovered) able to do duty.

"Within these last fifteen days a Catarrhal Fever, his spread almost universally over the Coast, and the other Fevers of the Bilious Type are diminishing—The writer of this has a melancholy remark to make, that in the course of eight years, cleven Medical Genilemen have died from climate, and the severity of the duties of this Coast, and sixty-one Gentlemen including Oshceis, with the Gentlemen of the Civil establishmert, besides itenerant Captains and Oiliceis of sh.ps.

"The fatality has spread a sumbre gloom of melancholy every where around. The Bell has been ordered (through the humane attention of the Commissioner) to ceale from tolling for the dead, it had such a melancholy effect on the living

" Captain Pearson, was napidly carried off, by the fatal Fever of the feafon, the 6th day from its attack.

God grant it may cease with him, as there is no other Officer could be spared from duty here."

Extract of a Letter dated Camp, near Hydrabad, 31st Jan. 1801. "Yesterday evening, Lieut. Colonel Bowser, took his final departure from the command of the Subsidiary Force at this station, on his projected return to Europe, to enjoy the fruits of a well earned repose, after a long period of active military services, accompanied with the esteem and regret of every member of the detachment. An appropriate address, expressive thereof, and highly spoken of in point of style and composition, is intended to be forwarded to the different papers, for publication, in the course of a few days.

"At a conference highly honourable to all concerned, as held with the Colonel prior to his departure, it was generously proposed, and universally assented to, that the whole of the prize sunds arising from the sale of an Elephant, forty six borses, and nearly ten thousand bullock leads, of Brinjary grain, captured by the detachment, which served under the Colonel in co-operation with the Hon'ble Colonel Wellesley's army.

against the late Doondeah Whang, should be presented in the name of the Subsidiary Force, a moiety to the Madras Male Asylum, and the remainder to be divided and given for the naval pillar and literary fund. The Colonel's 'departure too was graced with an act of the highest philanthropy, the gentlemen of the detachment having got up a play, for the benefit of a distressed family, lest by a Native of Germany, of a respectable samily, who died lately a private Artillery man in Capt. Burk's Company. The play was translated by the unfortunate Man himself, and not without some merit, from the German of Von Kotzebue, being which notwithstanding the desiciency in dresses, scenery, and decorations, went off with peculiar eclat; it might be termed a triumph of the seelings over the judgement, emanating from the finest emotions of the heart; tho' Lieutenant Falkner, who so ably sustained the prominent character in the piece, would have excited an applauding interest on any stage."

MILITIA ORDPRS.

Major Talwell, feels the most sensible gratification in having it in his power to communicate to the corps the favourable notice of Lieutenant General Lake, who has been plealed to express his desire, that his full approbation may be explained to them for their foldier-like appearance, and good conduct this morning at the Review, of which, a teffirmony to highly honourable, will no death, be a filmulus to the continuance of their meritorious exertions on all occasions, in the event of their fervices being hereafter required : Major Taswell at the same time, has the pleasure to return them his warmest acknowledgemen's for their having to cheesfully met his wishes, in their perfevering and regular pursuit of those duties, which has produced so respectable an advancement in their Military acquirements, and which has thus established the flattering character, they have so deservedly gained, since the corps lias been first embodied

To the officers in particular, for their examplary attention, he cannot sufficiently express the obligation he is under, more especially to Captain Brown, to whose professional abilities, combined with his unremitting and zealous exertions in their discipline, the corps, at large, he does not entertain a doubt, will join him in the tribute of praise, that mult be unanimously considered as principally his due, for the credit they have acquired.

GARRISON ORDERS.

Lieutenant General Lake, having at the request of the Right Honourable Lord Clive, reviewed the Madras Militia this morning, is happy in the opportunity, which has been afforded him of witnessing the respect. sible progress which has been made by this corps in Military Discipline, during the short period since it has assembled.

The appearance and movements of this corps evince great attention in Major Taswell, their commanding officer, and do honour to the zeal and Loyalty of the other officers and men. And Lieutenant General Lake is satisfied, that if their Services shall be called for, they will not fail to be important to the settlement and their Country.

Lord Clive, is gratified by the account which he has received of the performances of the Madras Militia this morning, and his Lordship in dispensing with their further attendance this season, defines to return them his thanks for their cheerful and diligent attendance on the day appointed for exercise.

We give publicity to the following circumstances in the hope that they may be ferviceably cautionary to Commanders of Ships under finitlar fituations: -His Majesty's ship Suffolk, being lately off Diamond Island, near the Coast of Pegue, Lieutenant Malcolm, of the Suffolk, with twenty-five Seamen, were landed for the purpose of obtaining a supply of Furtle for the crew :—the party in a few hours turned forty fine Turtle, and with which they immediately returned on board the It dies not appear that Lieut. Malcolin or the Seamen eat of any production of the Island, which is nearly barren, or even drank of the water, to which not any noxious quality had been heretofore afeirbed, be that however as it may, the whole party became ill immediately on their returning on board, and in a few hours, fourteen of the Seamen died: - in fine, at the expiration of a few days, only Lieut. Malcolin. and one Seaman remained alive out of twenty-fix persons, most of them young and healthy men, and the most correct and orderly of the Suffolk's crew.

Extract of a Letter from Vizagapatam, dated 17th Feb. 1801.

The Diana Privateer has been in the Roads here for some days, she came in with two Prizes. The Chance, Capt. Woodcock; and May-flower, Capt. Morris. Soon afterwards a large ship was seen standing to the Northward, which she gave chace to, and engaged her for tourteen hours, but was best off after losing the 2d Captain; the ship is supposed to be the Madras."

Fort St. George, 23d February, 1801. ORDERS.

BY THE RIGHT HONOURABLE LORD CLIVE.

The Right Honourable the Governor having this morning reviewed his Body Guard previous to the march of a Detachment of it for Actual Service, is happy to have found this Valuable Corps in that State of complete efficiency for which it has long been distinguished.

The correctness of the wheelings, and the rapidity of the charge, are entitled to particular applause; and in the precision and velocity of all the evolutions; the high perfection of the attached flying artillery was eminently confpicuous.

The Zeal of a Corps not less than its discipline unquestionably derives its tone from the character of its Officers; the alacrity of this spirited Corps, on frequent and unexpected calls for sudden service, has merited and received the most distinguished approbation: and the anxiety expressed by every individual to be selected for the present detachment, is equally honourable to the Officers and Men, and worthy of the established reputation of the Body Guard.

By His Lordship's Command,

M. WILKS, Mil. Sec.

The Caledonia, Captain George Thomas, for this Port; Cornavallis, Captain Tennant, for Botany Bay, with feveral Whalers; failed at the fame time from Portsmouth, with the Indian Chief, under convoy of His Majesty's ship the Jason, Captain Yorke.

The Caledonia did not put into Madeira; having fallen to leeward of the Island, was permitted by the Commodore, it is faid, to make the best of her way to India.

The Jason and convoy, left Madeira two days previous to the Indian Chief. Capt. Service, after having left the Island, about fixteen hours, was brought too by a most beautiful and fast sailing French Corvette, his papers examined, treated politely, and fuffered to proceed on his voyage.

The Frenchman reported hunself as from the Coast of Guinea, but from the quantity of live Stock, &c. on board, it is conjectured he had lately failed from Tenerisse.

On the same day arrived the Danish Ship Tranquebar To-'paul, Capt. Francis Letaul, from Rangoon, whence she sailed on the 3d March, several Armenians were passengers by this conveyance.

Captain Letaul brings no material intelligence from Rangoon, the Coast, however, appears clear of Privateers; neither the Mary, Captain Sparrow, or Thomas, Captain Young, had failed-the Nancy, Captain Dugan, had arrived at Pegue from Madras, when the Tranquebar left it.

Private Letters from Madras state, that the Honourable -Company's thips Sir Edward Hughes, Castle Eden, and Prince

William Henry, sailed for Vizagapatam and Europe on the 21st ult. H. M. ship Centurion chased the French Privateer Diana for 48 hours near Madras Roads, whence she had been hovering for two or three days: the Privateer facoured by the night, had the good fortune to escape.

On Saturday last, a fire broke out in the neighbourhood of the Burying Ground Road; which threatened much destruction from its first appearance:—however, fortunately, after consuming several huts, it ceased. We are happy to find that no material damage was done by this constagration, or any lives lost.

The thip Tiger, built for the fervice of the late Tippoo, was fold for five thousand Dollars: the Helen, a new thin from was fold for five thousand Dollars; the Helen, a new ship from Pegue, for nine thousand, and the Cronberg, for thirteen thousand Dollars.

Bengal Goods of every description were selling, from thirty to forty per cent. discount.

The Danish Ship the Commerce, is arrived at Madras from Tranquebar, it is said she was chasted by a Privateer, and would most probably have been overhaused, had not the Sir Edward Hughes have in sight from the Northward.

Lieutenant Colonel Kirkpatrick had arrived in safety at Madras, in His Majesty's ship Intrepid, and immediately proceeded on his journey to Poonah.

April 14th.—On Saturday arrived the ship Thomas, Captain Young, from Rangoon, which she lest on the 19th ultimo. In the latitude of Madras, she fell in with the Extra ships Lucy Maria, Mary Anne, and Bellona, all well, dispatched from this port on the 21st ultimo. Certain suspicions entertained respecting Captain Young's papers, which an Officer from the Bellona was sent to examine, occasioned the Thomas to be fired at by that ship and the Mary Anne. Fortunately no lives were lost, but several shot struck the hull of the Thomas.

On Wednesday last at noon, a fire broke out in a thatched house, belonging to a native, in Geesack lane. The accident was owing to the carelessness of a woman, who was cooking, by fuffering fome oil to boil over. The flames communicated with astonishing rapidity to the surrounding buildings, and in a short time about one hundred of them were reduced to ashes, and all, but the walls of an upperroomed house was destroyed; —A few animals were buint, and a confiderable quantity of spirits and bazar articles, confumed in the conflagration. By a providential change of the wind, the progress of the flames was bounded within narrower limits, than could have been expected at its commencement; and but for this timely interference of an opposing element, the fire must have reached across the Bow Bazar, and been terminated only, by the want of materials to iced its rage.

April 15th.—On Saturday, arrived the ship Prince, Capt. Patrick Scott, last from Madras, whence she took her departure on the 3d instant.

The following passengers arrived by that conveyance:— Mrs. Raush; Miss Raush; Miss Charlotte Raush; J. Rattray, Esq. of the Bengal Civil Establishment; Doctor Cheese; Mr. Rolland, Cadet; Captain Townsend, of the Country service; Messrs. Richard Daws, and William Gibbs; with Mary, Thomas, and her Children.

The Chance, (the ship we before noticed as having arrived under American Colours, from the Mauritius,) has we learn been detained by Captain Hargood, of His Majesty's ship the Intrepid, the papers produced, not having been deemed satisfactory.

The Portuguese ship Viajante, Capt. Joaquim Da Silva, arrived in the river on Saturday, from Lisbon, the Cape of Good Hope, and Madras, having sailed from the last port, in company with the Prince; the only passenger by this ship, was Captain J. Collie.

The ship Fort St. George, Capt. Grant, riding at the Honourable Company's Chain Moorings at Diamond Harbour, parted from them, in a very severe squall from the N. N. E. on the afternoon of the 7th instant, she was brought up with her own anchors, and fortunately sustained no injury or damage whatever.

The Honourable Company's Pilot schooner the Houghley, attending the ships late under dispatch, was struck with Lightning, at Saugur, on the 8th instant, her fore-mast shivered and two of the Lascars knocked down—they recovered however in two or three days afterwards.

Lieutenant Batt, who for fome time commanded His Majesty's frigate the Sybille, off the Sand Heads last year, availed himself of a favourable opportunity to proceed to his new station, and to take charge of His Majesty's ship St. Thome, to which he his lately been appointed, with the rank of Master and Commander, in the British Navy.

The Mud Bank at Prince of Wales's Island, well known to our nautical friends and correspondents, had been set up to public sale, and sold to individuals at 17 ½ Spanish Dollars per soot, the proceeds of which, were to be appropriated to the forming of new and convenient roads, in every direction throughout the Island; it is expected that in a very short period, that settlement will be made one of the most delightful possessions of the Honourable Company, in the East Indees.

April 20th.—The Eliza Schooner is arrived from Madras, after a passage of thirry days.

A letter from Ganjam, received in the course of last week, by a gentleman of respectability in town, states, that advice had been received there of forty dead bodies of Europeans, having floated ashore at, or near Masulipatam. No further particulars of this circumstance have transpired; and we are altogether at a loss to conjecture (if it be true as stated) of what nation they were:— no fragments of wreck, or any thing else having been mentioned tending to a discovery of that point.

April 21st.—On the 17th instant, arrived at Kedgeree, the. Brig Juliana Louisa, Captain Garret, from Prince of Wales's Island, whence she failed on the 9th of March.

Captain Ficeinan, formerly commanded the Perseverance snow, and was captured on the 19th November, by the Diana, in Achien Roads, dispatched for the Munitius, a prisoner in his own vessel, where he arrived early in the month of January,—he ook his passage on the 15th February for India, on the Danish ship Maria, (tormerly the Helen, of Bombay,) with all the other British Pussoners of War then at the French 1st., excepting Messrs. Hall and Starey, late 1st Officer and Surgeon's Mute, of the Honourable Company's Ship Year, who were to proceed for Europe by the first favouable opportunity.

The Transfer, Givernor North (late Fletcher) and the new ship Helen, had all arrived in sufety at the Mauritius, a few days previous to Captain Freemin's departure from thence.

No regular troops were upon the Island, the duty of the Garrison was performed by the Militia, the Negroes, in a state of revolt, particularly at the Island of Bourbon.

Surcouff in the Confiance, accompanied by a frigate built ship, had failed for Bourdeaux, early in February; the Kent now under Danish colours, was nearly ready for sea, her destination old France.

A fm. I brig, had arrived from Batavia, foliciting assistance, in men and stores of every description.—The mission, however of this vessel, proved perfectly useless, as the allies of the Dutch Republic, were not in a situation to assord them the smallest relief.

The spirit of Privateering was very much relaxed in confequence of our several captures, and the disinclination of the Government at that Island, to grant passes, at the present conjuncture. The ship that had been built at Black River, on the model of the Constance, and brought round to Port Nord West, for the purpose of being coppered and sitted out, had in consequence been laid up.

The only privateers then out, were La Nymph and Diana—the La Gloire, we know has lately changed Masters.

On Tuesday forenoon, arrived at Kedgeree, the Samdanee, Nacoda, from Madras,—the time of her departure thence we have not heard.

Several Prisoners are stated to have arrived at Madras on the 4th April, that had been on board the Diana, on the 2d of the same month, in Sadrass roads, and who reported, that when they left the Privateer, she had only twenty Europeans on board.

On Tuesday the 14th instant, was launched from the yard of Messrs. John Gilmore and Co. a beautiful little ship, named the Margaret, of about one hundred and eighty Tons measurement, she is constructed for the Eastern Trade, and is to be commanded by Captain Hunter.

The Pearls stolen from the Merchant in Fort William, as communicated in our last, have been recovered, and the swindler named Buxoo, apprehended. He had disposed off the Pearls to two respectable Merchants at Chinsurah, and was himself taken at Sulkya. The Migistrates have committed him to take his trial at the ensuing Sessions.

HYDROPHOBIA.

Three Natives, were lately bitten in the vicinity of the Esplanade, by a partal Dog, an animal which is not unfrequently seen, in and about the town, at this season of the year, and not with landing the application of every remedy, the natives conceive to be efficacious in those cases, these unfortunate beings died within a few hours of each other, on Sunday the 29th ultimater all the agonies, of that most dieadful madness.

ISLE OF FRANCE.

[EXTRACT OF A LETTER]

The Chance left the Isle of France, the 31st January —On the preteeding day e Consiance, Capt Surcoust, and the Egittenne han old Frigate) Capt Brugman, had failed for Bourdeaux, for which place they had taken in cargoes. They had been considerably delayed by the difficulty of getting men, and for several days before failing, were under the necessity of having guards on board to prevent desertion, their unwillingness to go to Europe is laid to have arrien from their apprehensions of being impressed on board the National Ships.

" From the 15th November to the 31st of January, the following Prizes wire brought into Port, Nord Oueft, -the Kent, Company's ship, Pigot, Governor North, Rebecca, Harriet, Mincrya, Tiger, Amboyna, Perseverance and another ship, name unknown, laden with Salt, and the Traveller, an American brig. The Traveller was faid to have been condemned, on account of her having papers from the Port of Lisbon. This Plea was had recourse to, on account of the absurdity of the one first advanced, that of her having a Letter of Marque, which the Privatees's people, who took her, affirmed had been thrown overboard, as they were not able to find it. However, as she had only two guns, and fixteen men on board, it appeared too barefaced, even for an Isle of France Court, notwithstanding one of her own sailors would willingly have perjured himself and sworn she had a letter of Marque. She had an hundred and four thousand reasons, in the form of Dollars, on. beard of her, and was regularly condemned in one Court, and the rainfication of this by another (a matter of course) was all that was waited.

for —To make fure however of having something for his trouble, Monsieur Surcouff had taken Six Thousand Dollars out of her, on board the Adelle, previous to dispatching her for the Island.

"An Arab Grab was some months since carried in, but, after an enquiry, was cleared, during this time the owner of her had bought the Armenia, a Prize Ship. The expences of clearing his own Ship amounted to so much, that he was under the necessity of selling her again, to defiav the amount.

"The Hup Union, taken off the Sand Heads, by the Confiance, about the end of September 1ast, had not arrived at the Isle of France on the 31st of January, at which time the five following Privateers were in the Indian Seas,—the Gloire, Malartic, Adelle, Nymphand Diana

" January 30 h, a new Privateer B is came found from Black-river, where the had been built, to Port N Ou ft, for the purpose of fitting out—snother one was building at the Po.t, and, so far advanced, as to

- "A Civil Commissary, sent out by the French Government at home, arrived at the Island, a few Months since, in a National Corvette: he was not for many days allowed to land, but at last obtained permission to do it, to transact some private business, on condition of his not opening his mouth or public affairs. Any deviation from the filles prescribed him, would, he was given to understand, be productive of dangerous confequences. As loon as his business was finished, he was fent on board again, and ordered to return to France. No other person had been perinited to land, and the Corvette was not even allowed to But provisions and water were fent to her come in close board to return to France, the Captain complained that his Vess-1 was leaky, and wanted Caulking, immediately all the Caulkers in the port were fent off, and the was Caulked in one day. He then complained that he could not go Sea, on account of his main-mast, which was defective, and wanted fishing; people were fent on board the next morning, the mast was got out, sent ashore, fished, sent on board again, and got in the fame night; after this, feeing that all attempts at landing, would be fruitless, they very prudently returned to Europe
- "Two line of battle ships and some frigates, with sixteen hundred troops, and a new Governor, were expected at the Island from Europe; of whom they were determined to permit none to land, unless they could effect it by force. As these people acknowledge no Government nor superior, they can only be considered as a nest of Pirates and Robbers.
- "Tis highly ridiculous to see the high sounding words—Liberte and Egalité, presace all their public papers and Proclamations, when every day and night, in every part of the town, may be seen Negroes, poor, miserable wretches, stretched out upon a Cart, tied down with Cords and whipped almost to death, at the arbitrary order of a bruts in an human form, a stranger to every sensation of pity or compassion, and perhaps, in many instances, as ignorant as the poor wretch he treats so creekly.

44 A dreadful business happened on board the Tiger, country ship, after being taken by the Confiance. On the passage the Lascars rose apponthe French, headed by an Italian, who had been put on board with the rest of the Privateer's people. A dreadful earnage took place, all the French were killed but two, both of whom were wounded. Of the Lascars all were killed, but eight or nine, some of whom were wounded, as was also the Italian, who headed them He was immediately put in irons, and the Lascars then submitted to the two remaining French

The Amboyna was captured by the Gloire, who had a few days before been chased by an English Frigate, and with great difficulty escaped, after throwing all her Guis except two, overboard — Had the British Squadron, fortunately been off the Isle of France, they might have retaken every Prize which has been fent in, and very probably the Confiance also, who, on her passage, to the Island, certainly d d not fail so well but she might have been caught by many of our Men of War; Surcoust himself remarked how much worse than usual the sailed, and said he was sure the Kent had broken some of her legs.

"Captain Surcouff is expected from Europe again in a few months, in a new Privateer, which is to carry thirty-fix or thirty-eight guis, and now building at Bourdeaux, by the fame Owners to whom the Confiance belongs.

"A Hamburgh ship sailed from the Island for Europe, early in January —Three other ships and a Brig, under Hamburgh Colours, have arrived from Europe, and also one Danish Ship — the Kent was bought by the Danes, and is expected to fail for Copenhagen, in March — Whether she may touch at some English port on her way, remains to be seen, as she takes in a full cargo. Some English Man of War may perhaps take her under protection.

"The Officers of the English prizes taken in to the Isle of France, are in general very well treated. A most inveterate hatred subsists between the owners of the Privateers and Planters, the latter of whom almost unanimously wish the Privateers funk, burnt, or destroyed."

The Right Honourable the Governor in Council Orders and Directs all persons of the Civil or Military Establishment at the Presidency, to be present, at sun-set this Evening, on the Parade of Fort St. George, in order to hear a Proclamation of His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General in Council, announcing the Appointment of the Most Noble Richard Marquis Wellesley, by His Majesty's Letters Patent, to be His Majesty's Captain General and Commander in Chief of all His Majesty's Land Forces, serving in the East Indies.

By Command of the Governor in Council.

]. WEBBE, CHIEF SEC. 10 GOVT.

Fort St. George, 11th March, 1801.

G. M. O.

His Majesty's Scotch Brigade, His Majesty's Regiment De Meuron, and the 1st Madras Battalion, to be under Arms and form a square on the General Parade under Command of the Senior Officer, at sun-set this Evening, for the purpose of hearing a Proclamation of His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General in Council, announcing the appointment of the Most Noble Richard Marquis Writesley, by His Majesty's Letters Patent to be His Macsty's Captain General and Commander in (hief of all His Majesty's land toices serving in the East Indies.—A Royal Salute to be filed after the Commission is read, and to be followed by three Vollies from the Troops.—The European Troops to be Victualled to-morrow, and the Native Troops to receive dry Batta.

A. GRANΓ, I'. Major.

Fort St. George, 11th March, 1801.

In pursuance of the above Proclamation, the Civil and Military Servants of his Majesty and the Honourable Company, at the Presidency, assembled on Wednesday Evening at sun-set on the Parade, the troops in Garrison having been previously formed into a square, where they were met by the Right Honourable the Governor and Council, the Commander in Chief, and their respective Suites; when the Letters Patent of His Majesty constituting and appointing his Excellency the Most Noble Marquis Wellesley, to be his Majesty's Captain General, and Commander in Chief of all his Land Forces serving in the East Indies, were publickly lead by Mr. Webbe, the Chief Secretary to Government.

As foon as his Excellency's Proclaimtion had been read—a Royal Salute was fired from the Battery, and three volues of musketry from the Troops under arms—the Bands of the Scotch Brigade and the Meuron Regiment playing God Jave the King—General Meuron gave the word of command to the Troops

March 21.—On Monday last the 1st Madras battalion, commanded by Major Hill, had a grand field day, on their parade, which was attended by the Right Honorable Lady Clive, Miss Clives, and several Ladies and Gentlemen of the settlement. The corps went through their different evolutions and firing, in a manner highly creditable to themselves, and their commanding officer.

The company after the review retired to a breakfast which had been prepared by Major Hill, in tents pitched for the occasion, and which was served in a peculiar stile of elegance and variety.

The following pallengers have arrived at this prefidency from Bengal.

G. G. Keble, and Charles Woodcock, Esqrs. A Binny, Esq. and Lady, Mrs White, and Messis. White and McCabe, Allistant Surgeons, on the Madias Establishment.

March 25—On Wednesday morning, a French Privateer made her appearance in the offing, when orders were immediately dispatched for the Honorable Company's ship Sir Edward Hughes, to put to Sen—as soon as she had received the Flank Companies of His Majesty's Scotch Brigade, she immediately weighed and stood out in pursuit of the Enemy.

Captain Urmston manæuvred his ship in a most masterly manner, and for a long time great hopes were entertained that he would have come up with the chase, but about nine o'clock in the evening, the Privateer made her escape.

Although unfuccessful in his main attempt, Captain Urmston happily succeeded in saving several valuable bales, the property of the Honorable Company, which had been captured in the morning by the Privateer, on board a Doney and a Pariah vessel.—It was the intention of the Captain of the Privateer to have placed the whole of his booty on board the Pariah—but before he could effect it, he was obliged to quit his prey by the pursuit of the Sir Edward Hughes

To the Cruste of the Sir Edward Hughes, the Owners of the Commerce, are probably indebted for the fafety of that vessel—as she made the Port precisely in the track, where the Privateer was crusting, on Wed-nelday Evening.

Too much commendation cannot be bestowed on the Officers of the Sir Edward Hughes, and of his Majesty's Scotch Brigade, for the zeal and alacrity shewn by them, for the public service

CAPTURE OF LA GLOIRE.

It is with the highest satisfaction that we announce the capture of the French Privatees La Gloire, by Captain Waller, of His Majesty's Brig Albatrofs.

Captain Waller fell in with La Gloire, in the Latitude of 15° N. and 87! E. Long tude, and after a long chase, cam up with her about noon, on the 23d ultimo, when a close and severe Action ensued, and which continued for twenty minute, when Captain Burgoine struck the Republican Flag, to the superior prowess and gallantity of his British opponent.

La Glare had five killed, and twelve wounded—among the latter were Captain Burgoine, and several of his Officers.

The Albatross had not lost a single man of her gallant crew,—either killed or woun led.

The active zeal, the familied exertion, and the gallantry manifested by Captain Waller, in the capture of two of the Enemy's Crusters, within the short period of a few weeks, is too conforulus to need the feeble and trinsfrory blazon in our power to beslow:—the merit of this valuable officer will, doubtless, be justly appreciated by those whose peculiar province it is to reward it, as it deserves:—we have therefore only to congratulate the commercial part of society on the capture of an enterprising enemy, whose successful inroads on their property they have so long and repeatedly experienced.

La Gloire is, perhaps, one of the fastest sailing Vessels now existing;—Capt. Burgoine states, that he could with ease have escaped from the Albatross, but that his crew would not permit him;—he also speaks in high terms of the exertions of Lieut. Frost, the Commander of the Mornington, who had recently chased him for three days, during which he manifested great skill and ability in his endeavours to come up with La Gloire.

The Albatrofs, with her Prize, anchored in the roads, on Monday, at o A. M.

On Monday also arrived an Arab ship lately captured by the Diana Privateer, and re-taken by His Majesty's ship Intrepid.

The New Madras Insurance Company have requested of Captain Waller to accept a sword of the value of £. 200, as a mark of the high sense they entertain of his manly conduct and activity, of which he has signified his acceptance in the following terms:—

GENTLEMEN,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday, and am happy to think that in the performance of my duty, you consider I have been serviceable to the Underwriters and Mercantile part of India; the Sword you are so polite as to request me to accept. I receive with pleasure as a mark of your esteem.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your mpst obedient humble servant,
WILLIAM WALLER.

Madras, April 8, 1801.

To the New Madras Insurance Company.

Lieut. General James Stuart was, when the last overland Dispatches lest England, preparing to return to this Country, where, it was said, he would hold an important command.

Extract of a Letter from a Passenger on the Ship Maria, formerly the Helen, from Mauritius, arrived at Tranquebar.

1 left the Mauritius on the 18th of February; on the a2d of March, we spoke the armed Ship Clariffe, (ci-de-vant French Privateer,) with a large Ship in tow, which proved to be the Athens, of Bombay: She had been abandoned by the Frenchmen, 21 in number, after having been in their possession six weeks:—they less ther in great distress, in the Long-boat, and she was picked up by the Clarisse in 0°—58! N. and in 94 30 E. Longitude, who was proceeding with her to Point de Galle. The Frenchmen previous to their quitting the Athens, had sawed down her Gunwales, and less ther in charge of a few starving Lascars."

BOMBAY.

JANUARY 31, 1801.

Yesterday sailed the Honourable Company's Cruiser the Oreen, Lieutenant Budden, Commander, for Surat; by which opportunity Nathan Crowe, Esq. Judge and Magistrate of that City, proceeded to enter on the duties of his office.

On Wednesday, William Soper, Esq. and his Lady, embarked for Surat, on the Hon. Company's armed boat the Penelope.

LOSS OF THE SHIP ZOROASTER.

Captain Baker, of the ship Zoroaster, having received information of the I rench privateer La Nymphe, Captain Coutence, being on the coall, and of his having made feveral captures, deemed it prudent to run close into Cannanore, to be under the protection of the guns of the garrison. The ship Susannah, Capt. Dividale, had adopted the same prudent measure, and had anchored there the day previous to the arrival of the Zoroaller, with the intention of continuing there until some intelligence should be obtained respecting the operations and situation of the privateer. Captains Baker and Dryfdale, conceiving themselves a match for the Frenchman, agreed to keep company together to Bombay. the Sufannah having icceived on board a detachment of his Majesty's 84th reg ment, which were to be landed at Goa, the two commanders embarked on the oth, when the Zoroaster immediately got under weigh, with a fiesh breeze from the land and run from three and a half fathoms water, into four and a half fathoms, when he have too with his main and mizen top-fails to the malt, the wind right off shore, to wait the Sufannah's coining up.

There was a Seacumny in the chains keeping the lead going, but unfortunately he never noticed the change of foundings, from mud to rocks, the depth of water continuing the fame, until the ship unluckily stack on a steep reef of rocks under water. The Zoroaster, from the exertions of her own people, and the assistance of the crew of the Susannah, was again got off into a muddy bottom,—but unfortunately the hawser-which was fastened to the end of a cable and anchor that was dropped from the Susannah parted, and the ship again drove on the rocks.—The Gunner and Seacunnies, deserting their duty, sell to plundering the vessel, and some of the crew having got to the Captain's liquois, sollowed their example. The Susannah continued by the Zoroaster whilst she could render her any assistance, and six or seven Patasars that were in the roads, were laden from her cargo—The ship asterwards bildged, and on the 1sth the water had reached up to her orlop deck, and she became a total wreck.

February 25th.—On Friday last anchored in the harbour the ship Devaynes, Laptain Denniston, from Bengal, last from the Malabar coast. By the Devaynes came passengers from Cochin, Mr. M'Carthy, late of His Majesty's Ship Adamant, and Mr. Smith, formerly an officer of a

afterwards captured by the French.

Mr M'Carthy belonged to the Adamant when cruifing off the Isle of France, they had captured a small vessel from the Island of Bourbon bound to the Mauritius, which they called the Fly, and on hoard of which vessel Mr. M'Carthy, with a midshipman, Mr Maddox, from the Lancaster, and seventeen men, were sent to Cruise, this vessel was afterwards on the 10th September captured by the La Glotre privater, Captin Burgoine, of twenty guns and about two hundred and ninety men, and were carried to the Shychelles, were they found Captain Meik, formerly of the Armenia, one of his Officer's and part of his crew.

On the 20th of October, they, together with Mr. Smith, embarked on board a small Cartel of about fity tons, bound for Columbo -On the 10th of November, this vell-I was unfortunately wiecked about one o'clock in the morning, in Lat 5° N. near the center of the Mal. diva island; the French Captain, his officer, and four of his people, five of Mr. M'Carthy's peop'e, and three belonging to the Armenia, unfortunately perithed, the remainder effected their fafety by betaking themselves to rate —Although several Majdica vessels hove in sight in the morning, vet none of them would approach or give the smallest affistance, but when they found the veil-I deferted, they immediately boarded and plundered her of every thing they could carry away.-The raft to which Captain Meik, Mi M'Caithy and two feamen entruited themselves, being exceedingly porous, it imbibed such a quantity ef water that they were nearly fank to the neck, and in that dreadful and perilous fituation they remained for near ten hours, when fortunately the tide drove them on a rect of rocks, on which however there was so heawy a fwell that they had nearly perished and were considerably bruised: in this diffressed and exhausted situation they found themselves on a barren island, and for three days remained without any thing to eat, and not even a drop of water to ailwage their thirst .- Death thus staring them in the face, they allow constructed their raft, resolving once more to trust to being driven on some inhabited shore, but unfortunately on launching it, it immediately lunk, and they must inevitably have perished for want, had not a boat hove in light to whom they made lignals of diffress, and who took them up and after proceeding from island to island they at last reached King's island, from whence the Rajah furnished them with two boats to carry them to the Malabar Coast. On their passage to the coast, Mr. Maddox, the midshipman, and two English seamen, died from the fatigue they had endured, and the whole of the people were fick previous to their airival at Cochin, which place they reached on the 8th of January, where they received every attention and affistance from the benevolence of Mr. Oliphant, who liberally entertained the Gentlemen. and fent the fick feamen to the hospital.

March 11th.—On Wednesday last the Honourable Company's Cruiser Queen, Lieutenant Keys, sailed from the harbour for Surat. By the Queen went passengers Captain: Robert William Mills, of his Majesty's 36th Regiment, and Captain George Harrower, of the country service.

On Monday evening anchored in the harbour, the long expected ship Asia, Captain George M'Innis, from England.

This ship sailed from England on the 1st of September 1800, and on her passage touched at the Cape of Good Hope and Columbo; she arrived at the former place on the 2d of December, and sailed again on the 20th of the same month, and on the 12th of last month, she touched at the latter place.

The following is a list of the passengers that have arrived by this opportunity.

Mrs. M'Innis-Miss M'Innis-Miss Burn-Gilbert Hall, Esq.-Captain Lindsay-Messis. Robertson and Donald, Affistant Surgeons—and Mr. Madgon.

Confidering the casualties that have occurred on many of the country ships from this port, we have to notice it as a very singular circumstance that the Asia has returned to Bombay with the same crew which she took from hence, and has not during the voyage lost a single man by sickness.

Letters have been received in town, stating that Scindea, the Marattah Chief, had returned to Poona.

Letters have been received from Amboyna, dated the 9th of December last, mentioning the arrival of the transports from Madras at that place, with the relief of troops, after a passage of three months and nine days, notwithstanding the length of the passage, we have much satisfaction in stating that the whole of the troops and followers had been exceedingly healthy, and that they were landed without a single casualty in any one of the transports.

So well fatisfied are the troops at those Islands, that a number of the coast sepoys have volunteered continuing another year.

The following statement will serve to shew the very extravagant price of provisions at Amboyna. A buffalo, 40 dollars; a goose, 10 dollars; a duck, 1 dollar; a fowl, half a dollar; and other necessaries of life in proportion, excepting fruit, which is reasonable, excellent in quality, and in great abundance.

March 25th.—In pursuance of previous orders issued for the purpose, the whole of the troops in garrison assembled on the Green at five o'clock on Friday evening last, about half an hour after which, the Honourable the Governor, with the Members of Council, accompanied by the Secretary on horse-back, appeared on the ground, when the Proclamation appointing the Most Noble RICHARD MARQUIS WELLESLEY, K. P. Captain General and Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces in the East Indies, was read and followed by three vollies of musquetry and a royal salute from the saluting battery. The parade on this occasion was commanded by Major General Robert Nicholson, commandant of the Garrison, and the word given by Colonel John Bellasis, commandant of Artillery. The whole of the Staff attending.

On Saturday last anchored in the harbour his Majesty's ship Suffolk, Captain Pulteney Malcolm, having on board the Hon'ble Arthur Wellesley and his Staff, who was received under the customary compliment from the faluting battery.

We understand the Honourable Colonel Wellesley is to be received by all guards with the compliment due to a Brigadier General, during his stay at the presidency—viz. presented arms and one russe.

By a late departure, Major General Bowles, Joshua Uhthoss, Esq. Thomas Cruso, Esq. and Lieut. R. B. Crozier, of the Engineers, proceeded passengers for Europe,

On Tuesday the 21st ultimo, His Majesty's sloop of War, Albatross, arrived off the Sand Heads: she left Madras on the 16th, and brought John Webbe, Esq. and another gentleman, whose name we have not learnt, as passengers from thence. After having put them on board a pilot schooner, in which they reached Colcutta on Thursday, the 23d, the Albatross immediately sa led on a cruise.

The Harrier, Captain Sinclair, was lately struck with lightraing, at Culpre, by which accident, we understand, she lost her fore-top mast, and had a man killed.

May 1st.—On Wednesday the ship Duke of Clarence, Capt. W. B. Risden, arrived from the Moluccas, last from Pernang, whence she sailed the 30th March.

Captain Risden lest the Dart, Capt. Rowe, at Borneo,—all well.

The Venus, Captain R. Lander, from this port, had arrived at Penang on the 23d March.

The Honourable Company's cruizer Viper, Lieutenant Jackes, from Bombay, had arrived at Penang on the 28th March, with a packet for China. She left Bombay on the 21st February; faw several vessels on her passage, but did not speak any,—she also saw sive large ships standing for the Straits of Sunda.

Several prows had arrived at Penang from Soofoo and Acheen, who reported every thing quiet in that quarter, the French not having paid them a visit this season.

Two Portuguese ships, we understand, had lost their pasfage to Macao.

On Tuesday arrived the Mary, Captain Brownlie, and Burnaby, Captain Aiken, from Rangson, whence they sailed on the 14th instant; by the former Mr. Robert Dyer, and Mr. Sparrow, are passengers; by the latter Capt. W. Garden.

We are happy to learn, that previously to the departure of the Burnaby, Captain Alms, late of the Amboyna, with his officers and ship's company, having been released by the Rajah, or Governor of Cheduba, had arrived in safety at Rangoon. He had freighted a small vessel, the Ceres, to convey himself and his people from that port to Prince of Wales's Island.

The detention of Captain Alms, by the Rajah of Cheduba, appears most extraordinary; for soon after the departure of the Lalla, Captain Young, an order arrived from Ava, for Captain Alms, his officers and crew, to be immediately sent up there.—All remonstrances on their part were fruitless and unavailing, no alternative presented itself but compliance, or a resolute attempt to endeavour to cut off the boats on which they were to proceed on their journey: the many difficulties and dangers attendant on the latter expedient were canvassed over, and it was determined to submit peaceably, and after a tedious, disagreeable, and dangerous journey of near 500 miles, they arrived at the capital of the Burmah dominions.

It was now first discovered why the English prisoners had been thus forced to undertake so unpleasant a journey; the infamous Rajah of Chedubah had circulated a report, that the French had given Captain Alms and his crew, as slaves to His Majesty of Ava.

After a great deal of trouble and a few prefents to the King, Captain Alms and his crew obtained permission to proceed from Ava to Rangoon, after a detention of 20 days; fortunately for these sufferers, the Shabunder of Rangoon was at Ava at the time of their arrival there, and it was thro' his intercellion alone that they were enabled to depart; they were 15 days on their passage to Rangoon, where they arrived in a most deplorable state, thro' uneasiness of mind and the bad quality of their provisions, being allowed only one quarter of a seer, of rice per day, and that of the very worst quality.

The Amboyna appears to have fired at La Gloire for one hour and thirty minutes, none of the shot, however, reached her; the privateer came close under the Amboyna's stern, with her sweeps, and was on the point of boarding with 150 picked men, when she struck: the first gun the privateer ever fired, the Syrang immediately disappeared and 12 of his gang lay slat down upon the deck, all the endeavours to raise them from their prostrate position were in vain; 3 of the Seaconnies on the Amboyna were discovered to be Frenchmen, and who it is reported had wilfully put the shot into the guns before the cartridges, and it was also afterwards known, that it was their intention to have joined the privateer's men, and to have massacred Captain Alms, with his officers;—two of these wretches, on the Amboyna's striking, immediately entered on board the enemy's ship, the third died at Ava.

Thus situated, without wind and contequently no command of the vessel, further resistance was ineffectual, particularly when Capt. Alms, three officers, four seaconnies, and six seapoys alone remained on deck to repel 150 desperadoes armed at all points for boarding.

Letters of a late date have been received from Bencoolen, brought from thence by the ship Clarisse, arrived at Point de Galle, these state, that the Union, Captain V. Burgh, had been freighted for Europe.

A Danish ship had arrived on the West Coast, and brought a large supply of Europe articles.

On Tuesday also arrived off town the American brig William and Henry, Capt. Beckford, from the Cape of Good Hope, which she left on the 26th January.

On the 13th of last month, Captain Beckford spoke the H. C. ships Melville Castle, Captain Lamb, Skelton Castle, Captain Island, and Travers, Captain Franklin, in lat. 4° 50° and long. 84° E. all well, bound to Bombay, having left their pilots on the 20th of March.

May 5th,—Yesterday morning accounts were received in Town, of the arrival at Diamond Harbour, of the Ship Mornington, Captain Kelso. She sailed from Portsmouth on the 15th of Dec. in company with the Eliza Anne, for Hombay, and the Exeter, for this port, under convoy of His Majesty's Ship Argo.—The convoy left them off the Western Islands, and at the same place they parted with the Exeter and Eliza Anne. The Exeter was afterwards seen off Trinidad.

The following passengers have arrived by this conveyance;
—Mr. and Mrs. Young, and Family,—Messrs. Ferguson and Hare.

We are concerned to hear that the crew of the Mornington, confishing chiefly of lascare, have suffered severely from the Scurvy; upwards of thirty having fallen facrifices to the ravages of that disease. Experience evinces that this description of people, who are in the habit of using a great proportion of vegetable aliment, and whose temperament is less capable of resisting the influence of cold, are sooner than Europeans affected with this cruel distemper, from exposure to its causes in an equal degree. It should therefore be the endeavour of those who lay in provisions for those people, to furnish as nearly as possible the articles, which form their customary aliment. Among these we may reckon garlie, onions and capsicum. That a sufficient allowance of Rice, without these seasonings, is unable to secure against the disorder, even on shore, is proved by a fact known to those officers who served in the Carnatic during the years 1783 and 1784. The Bengal sepoys, who had a full allowance of rice from Government, but were unable to procure those kinds of condiment to which they had been accustomed, had many of their number affected with the genuine fea-scurvy in a high degree.

In the mean time, it may not be unimportant to our commercial and nautical readers to be informed that a remedy which may be procured at small expence, is of little bulk and not liable to spoil by keeping, viz. the NITRIC ACID, has in some late trials been found very effectual, both in preventing or checking the progress of the malady on its first approach; and in alleviating its symptoms in a more advanced stage. It was given internally, and also applied by sponges to the surface of the body.—We understand some of the Surgeons of his Majesty's Squadron, now in India, have borne a very savourable testimeny to its utility.

On Sunday advice was received, of the arrival in the river, of a Brig from Madras, called the Tamer, whence the failed the 26th ultimo. By her came Passengers, the late Surgeon of the Kent, and George Parry, Esq. of the Madras Civil Esta-

By late accounts from Prince of Wales's Island, we are given to understand, among other improvements there, that, of Ship-building has arrived to great perfection:—A large Ship, burthen about 18,000 bags of rice, was expected to be launched shortly after the departure of Captain Risden.—She is reckoned by competent judges, to be a very strong and well sinished vesses; built under the immediate inspection of Captain John Elliott, late of the Fairlie.

Accounts are received in town of the arrival of the Henrietta, Captain Sommervile, at Amboyna, from this port.

On Saturday at 4 P. M. was launched from the Yard of Messey, Hudson, Bacon and Co. a beautiful new Ship, of about 650 tons burthen.—She was named the HOPE, and is to be commanded by Captain Dunbar, destined for the Europe Trade.

May 8th.—Our last accounts from Rangoon, state that a complete change had been ordered by the King of Ava, in the government of Rangoon, every man late in office, but the Minister and Shabunder, had been dismissed from their stations, owing it is added to the number and grievous impositions practised by these men upon strangers, for their own private emolument.

May 19th.—The storm on Thursday evening last, was attended with some fatal accidents from Lightning. A Bricklayer was struck on the road which leads into Fort William by the Calcutta gate, and killed on the spot. Two Sepoys at a little distance were stunned and fell down, but did not suffer material injury. The ground where the explosion took place is indented to the depth of some inches in three places. Another slash struck a small house at Chowringhee, and one or more of the inhabitants are said to have suffered.

Barly on the morning of the 8th instant, Colonel Dickson, with a detachment of the troops from Barrackpore, crossed the river, and took possession of the Danish settlement of Serampore, without, opposition:—immediately after which the Colonel detached a party of sepoys to Isherali, under the command of Captain Morris, accompanied by the Captain of the Danish Company's ship Norge, or Norway, and who delivered up the ship to Captain Morris, in conformity to his word of honour given to the Colonel when taken prisoner.

A small brig named the Mythen, under Danish colours, arrived on Friday forenoon, from Chittagong. The case of this brig is particularly unfortunate, having been detained at that port by the chief, from the 10th Dec. 1800, to the 13th March 1888, doubts having at first been entertained of her being neutral property.

On account of the above detention, however, the received 2500 Rupees from Government;—but her intended voyage being frustrated, and the commander being under the necessity of selling the brig to pay the arrears due to her officers and crew, he was obliged to bring the vessel round to Calcutta, not being able to effect her sale at Chittagong; for which purpose she sailed from the above port on the 21st March, in ballast; but meeting with very bad weather, on account of the change of the monstoon, she struck on a sand bank off one of the mouths of the Sunderbunds, on the 10st her sudder, an anchor and cable.

The Commander was therefore obliged to run the vessel into one of the creeks of the Sunderbunds;—(where he observed three vessels that were lost; two appeared to be old, and the third a large new ship);—and after much anxiety, labour and distress, during twenty-eight days, the brig arrived here on the 8th instant; on which day orders had been issued to lay an embargo on all Danish vissels; in consequence of which a military guard was immediately lent on board to take possession of the Myrhen.

Letters from the Coast mention the detention and capture of twenty-five sail of different Ships, under Danish colours, by some of our Men of War, and it is said that Colonel Cullen, of His Majesty Scotch Brigade, was master of the town and fortifications of Tranquebar.

Accounts were stated to have been received from Madras, on Tuesday, mentioning the capture of the Diana privateer, by the boats of His Majelty's thip the Intrepid, off Sadras.

The Nancy Grab, Capiain J. Duggan, is arrived from Rangoon, whence the failed on the 20th April. Captain Duggan faw no veffel on his passage to this port, and merely brings an account of the Burmah Government having resolved to equip a formidable army to act against the Siamese.

May 27th.—Accounts yesterday received from Kedjeree, mention the arrival of the Sir Edward Hamilton, Captain A. Robertson, from Portsmonth, which she less on the 8th January, and of the Rese, Captain Kymer.

Passenger per Sir Edward Hamilton, S. L. De Monte, Esq. .—Per Rose, Major Robert Steere Allen, of this Establishment, and Mr. J. Champion, Free Mariner.

On Sunday forenoon, the ships Perseverance, Captain Derwick, and Earl St. Vincent, Capt. Richard Williams, anchored off the town, having lest Portsmouth on the 9th January, with twelve other Rice ships for this place, under convoy of the Hussar frights, of 38 guns, Captain Lord Garlies.

The Ganges, Captain Brown, and Suffolk, (1st) Captain Luke, likewise arrived on Monday morning, from Portsmouth, which they left on the 12th Jan. with many other ships for Bengal, they fortunately joined the Hussar's convoy at Sea; but did not leng we apprehend remain with them.

On Thursday evening the Caledonia, Capt. George Thomas, anchored off Calcutta, last from Madras, whence she sailed on the morning of the 13th curt.

PASSENGERS: - Mrs. Richardson, Miss Euphemia Thorne, Capt. D. Richardson, Mr. John Raban, Mr. James Beaumont, Dr. Burgh, Master J. Burgh, Mr. T. Calder.

His Majesty's brig the Albatross, Captain Waller, anchored in Madras Roads on the 2d May, having completed a passage from Madras to the Sand Heads and back again in the short space of twelve days.—This Brig, with His Majesty's ship the Braave, sailed on the 4th May, with a detachment of European troops on board, their destination Tranquebar, which we learn surrendered on the 13th May to the British forces, together with a number of ships then at anchor before that place.

The above intelligence has been communicated by the arrival of the Ajax, Captain Moffat, from Madras, whence the failed on the 18th instant.

The Ajax has till lately been employed as a transport, and on the 30th ultimo, left riding in Anjengo Roads, the Hon. Company's ships Melville Castle, Skelton Castle, and Travers, bound to Bombay.

On the 16th May, his Majesty's brig the Albatross, returned to Madras Roads from Tranquebar, having in charge the Palneels Royal and two other vessels, under Danish colosies.

The Exeter, arrived at Madras from Europe on the 16th May,—touched at no Port.

An embargo had been laid on all Danish ships in Madras Roads on the 1st of May, and His Majesty's ship the Brazue, had in consequence taken charge of the following vessels, viz.

Ship Juliana Duenecca, — Tranquebar, Snow Catharina, and
Brig Veninden.

Messes. Chase, Chinnery and M'Douall, as prize agents, had requested by public advertisement that the Danish Owners of the above vessels or their Agents, would direct some person to take an account of their cargoes, in conjunction with them, in order to obviate disputes in the event of their being restored; and that any person having claims thereon, would make the same known without delay.

A few days ago a Child about 3 years old, belonging to an Artillery Serjeant, on duty at the Magazine at Duckenfore, fell into a Tank, and notwithstanding it was only about two minutes under water, was drowned.

On the 14th instant, the Hon. Company's Ship Ganges, Captain Gray, anchored in Bombay barbour, having sailed from Macoa on the 10th of January.—She had sustained from the gales which she encountered in the China Seas, so much damage, as to to be judged, by a committee appointed to survey her, unsit to proceed to England. Her cargo was transferred to the Carron, and the Ganges returned to Bombay, to receive the necessary repairs in Dock. On her passage she touched at Penang, Columbo, Calicut and Cananore.

Letters from Kistnagerry mention, the destruction of the Magazine at that Fort, on the 25th ultimo, by lightning, and we are concerned to add, that Capt. Henry Smith, Mr. Willoughby, Conductor of Ordnance, some Sepoys and Lascars, were buried in the ruins.

On the 7th instant, the Anniversary of the capture of Seringapatam, was observed with every demonstration of joy at Madras.—A Royal salute was fired at one o'clock, and in the evening the Ladies and Gentlemen of the settlement partook of an elegant and splendid Ball and Supper, given by the Right Honourable the Governor, in commemoration of this great and glorious conquest.

Captain Malcolm and Suite arrived at Bagdad, on the ### SITUATION OF A SHOAL,

Called the Scarborough, surveyed the end of the month of April, 1800, by the Commander of the Frigare St. Leresa, Don Francisco Reginelmo; appointed to that service from Manilla, by the Commander in Chief of the Spanish Squadron in Asia.

LATITUDE.

North end of the Shoal, - - - 15 12 40 N. South end, - - 15 4

LONGITUDE.

East side from the Meridian of Manilla, - 3 6 4 W. West side duto, - - 3 16 15

The smallest distance from the nearest Land of the Island of Luconia, which is Point Caponia, being 43 Leagues and 2 Miles.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SHOAL.

South, and of 9½ from East to West, from the Northern extreme, to about the center of it; but from that part of the South end it gradually decreases in breadth, and runs to a point. The whole of the Shoal is surrounded by horrid dangers. (Breakers) without any warning from Soundings, or other mark by which its proximity may be known: -a few Rocks at extremes are above water, and discernable, but so little above the level of the water, that even in clear weather the Shoal can only be seen at the distance of seven Miles keeping a clear look out.

46 As the survey was made by intelligent Officers, who were in posfession of good instruments, and who also had a watch in which great faith was placed, it is reasonable to conclude that the extremes of the Shoals are determined within one Minute of the Latitude, and two of the Longitude."

I have no time to give the particulars, as the veffel that I fend this by, is passing down the River."

The above account is corroborated by the Captain of the Mayflower, and others who were prisoners on board the Diana Privateer at the time the above action took place. They add that the Diana, during the thace, fired fixteen broadfides, besides small arms. They had forested the party for boarding, when a double headed shot came or board the Privateer and killed the second Captain. After which they gave over their intention, supposing that she had Troops on board, and they had expended all their ammunition for small arms.

Extract of a Letter, dated Saldanha Bay, 11th January, 1801.

"Having left Cape road on the 5th instant, in Captain Melville's vessel, where I and the son of the above mentioned were passengers, I observed near Dassen Island colours slying, which by the assistance of a spying glass I distinguished to be a signal of distress, whereupon the Captain resolved toalter his course, and to make the Island, in order to give assistance to the shipwrecked. On coming close in to it we heard the cries for assistance; and on landing, we found six of the criw belonging to the vessel of Messes. Tieleman and Roos, who, on their passage to Melkbosch, had been dashed to pieces on the said Island.

"These unfortunate men had supported themselves, during 26 days, by rabbits and penguin eggs, and were in a most dustressed situation, as well for the want of provision, as for sear of losing their lives."

Entraid of a letter dated Hamadan, and Petruary, 1801.

I had the pleasure of addressing you soon after our arrival at Teheran, giving you rather an imperfect description of our gracious reception by his Persian Majerty, which was certainly equal to our most stanguine expectation.

of January accordingly we left the Capital, and began our march for Bagdad, although in the middle of winter, notwithstanding the various reports we had heard of the difficulty of travelling at that featon, the badness of the roads and various other obstacles; to obviate this as much as possible we were pretty well prepared in expectation of meeting with some difficulties on our march, but we certainly had formed no adequate idea of what they really would be, or what we experienced them. We found the roads as bad For rather woise than described, the snow every where near three feet deep, and whilst our horses were labouring thro' this, we had a buining fun over our heads almost as hot as we ever experienced in India; in confequence of which, the reflection was to violent as to cause extreme pain to the eyes, and Captain Malcolm with most of the other Gentlemen of the party were perfectly blind for three a days, during which they suffered the most excludiating pain. This complaint was however, not confined to our party alone, the Persians being affected in the same manner, but not in so violent a degree, being in a great measure protected from the violent effects of the iun by a kind of hood they wear, and which they call a Balchloak.

"As it was impossible to pinch tents during this unpleasant journey, houses were always prepared for us at the different villages through which we pissed, and we had always the pleasing satisfaction after our long and fatiguing rides, of coming in, to a fine bleezing ingle and a clean hearth stane, and an excellent breakfast in the true Persian style.

"" We arrived at this place on the 11th inflant, and as it is a large and populous town where we are provided with excellent accommodations, Capt Malcolin determined to halt here until the weather began to open a little, and I am very happy to fay that the flow is now a good deal thawed, and we have now before us the prospect of a pleasanter march than init which we have already accomplished. — Our baggage is already set off, and we shall tollow I believe to-morrow, and hope soon after you receive this, that we shall again have the pleasure of meeting our friends at Bombay."

Extrast of a letter dated Judda, 28th of February.

44 I have particular fatisfaction in informing you, that the division under Admiral Blanket, are all arrived here in safety, the people are healthy and in high fpinits.

In working into Judda, the weather proving rather hazy, his Majeffy's first La Forte, Cap ain Lucius Hardyman, unfortunately struck on a funken rock about twelve or fourteen feet under water, going at that time between five and fix knots through the water. The was food got off, but had received so much da age from the shock, and made so much gwater that they found it expedient to run her on shore on the nearest shoal, to prevent her foundering. I have, however the pleasure to inform you, that the commander, Officers and crew, have all been saved; as the communication with Bow bay will now be frequent, you shall regularly hear of our future operations."

CALCUTTA, JUNE, 1801.

June 2d.—On Wednesday accounts reached town of the safe arrival in the river, of the Arian, Captain Barker, from England, 5th December, and the Cape, on the 19th March; also of the ship Thames, Captain Ellbeck, from Falmouth, on the 10th February, and the ship Sir John Borlace Warren, Captain W. J. Davis, from Falmouth, on the 21st January.

This last ship sailed under convoy of the Fly sloop of war, with twenty other sail of ships for this country, and parted from them on the 1st February, off Cape Finisterre.

On the 10th March, the Warren spoke the Betsey, Captain Hooper, bound to Bengal, and on the 2d April she fell in with the Hind, Captain Catline, also bound here;—on the 24th April, spoke the Bridgewater, Captain Lukin, bound to Madras, and kept company with her till the 19th May, when she parted off Ceylon.

The Arran arrived at the Cape, 2d March; and on the 4th of the same month, a ship under Hambro' colours was sent in, by La Fortune privateer, commanded by Captain Hallecrow.

A Danish ship, named the Bellona, from Copenhagen, arrived at the Cape, on the 26th February.

The Eliza, Captain Ingledew, is arrived from Prince of Wales's Island, whence she sailed on the 21st April; left riding at that Port, the Mornington, Captain Frost, and Dart, Captain Rowe.—The Carmo, Portuguese ship, from hence for Macoa, had arrived, and sailed on the 6th April; the other Portuguese ships were going in as the Eliza left it.

On Saturday last, was launched from the yard of Messes. Hudson, Bacon, and Co. at Howrah, a very handsome vessel, of about 750 tons burthen, for the Europe trade; and was named— "The Union."

June 3d.—Yesterday, arrived off Calcutta, the Triumph, Captain James Lennon, from Madras, whence the sailed on the 26th ultimo. Mrs. Ross,—Mrs. Lennon,—and Mr. Liston, were passengers by this conveyance.

June 9th.—On Saturday, arrived off Calcutta, the Louisa, Captain Weatherall, from the West Coast, having lest Bencoolen on the 2d April, Natal on the 29th, and Tappanooly, the 4th May; but we do not learn that she has brought any news from either of those places.

The Union, Captain Burgh, had sailed from the West Coast, with a cargo of Pepper, &c. for England; the first instance, of a private vessel, having been permitted to proceed there, from Bencoolen.

By this conveyance, we understand that Mr. Griffiths and his Lady, took their passage to Europe.

The Louisa experienced very disagreeable weather in the Roads, by which she lost some Anchors and Cables; and the Diana, Portuguese ship, bound to Manilla, has been forced back, but without damage.

The Forth, Captain James Taylor, who left Prince of Wales's Is arrived, we are happy to learn, at Nagore.

June 10th.—Captain M. Sparrom, of the Industry grab, arrived in town on Monday forenoon, having left Madras on the 22d May, and experienced in Balafore roads for several days, very severe gales of wind. The following gentlemen have come passengers by this conveyance, Lieutenant Rogers, Mr. Donald Fraser, and Padre Savoire.

The Experiment, a rice-ship, Captain John Nelson Whyte, arrived also on Monday, from England on the 9th January, and Madras on the 27th May; Mr. W. Nixson, a Cadet for this establishment, was a passenger on this ship.

The Experiment was for several days in Balasore roads, exposed to the same gales as the Industry, but no Pilot being in fight, Captain Whyte dispatched a boat with an Officer and his Purser to Kedgerce, with the letters and packets of his ship,—the boat by some accident was upset, between Ingelee and Kedgeree, and we are concerned to add that the Purser has not fince been heard of, tho' the remainder of the boat's crew have arrived in fafety at Kedgerce.

By letters from Amboyna, of date the 6th April, and recrived by His Majesty's brig Mongoose, lately arrived at Madras, we learn that the following vessels were then at the port, viz:

The Farquhar, Captain Meldrum, Bangalore, Captain Lynch, Star, Ci-devant Polly, Chaptain Otto, Henrietta, Captain Somerville, Albion, and Phœnix.

The letters further state, that there was a greater quantity of Spices collected this feafon at the Moluccas, than had been known for many years paft.

SESSIONS.

June 15th.—On Wednesday last, the Supreme Court commenced their sirst term of Oyer and Terminer for the year. The Honorable Mr. Justice Royds addressed the Grand Jury, impannelled on this occasion, in a pertinent and impressive manner. His charge was a lucid detail of the criminal code, containing every requisite information on the cases to be brought before the Grand Jury, which was composed of the following gentlemen:

John Mackenzie, Foreman.
John Additon,
Robert Downie,
J M'Taggart,
Alex Patrick Johnston,
John Corfar,
Colin Robertson,
The Hon Fred Fitzroy, Henry Trail,
John Battye,
Andrew Kelso,
Mumtord Campbell,

Henry Abbott,
John Caulfield,
Francis Mure,
John Thornhill,
Simon Ewart,
John Walter Sherar,
William Egerton, Charles Law,
Robert Home,
Robert Campbell, AND Jonathan Court, Elgrs.

On Friday the Grand Jury were discharged, and the sollowing sentences have been passed on the culprits:—

Frederick Stephen Rollason, for the murder of Shaik Ruffick. a Bhisty. This trial took place on Thursday.—The indictment stated, that he killed a bhisty, in the Gaol of Calcutta, on the 2d day of December last, by striking the unfortunate man with a part of one of his fetters, which he had in the course of the day contrived to wrench from his leg. After the witnesses on the part of Government were examined, Rollason proceeded to make his defence, which he had committed to writing, and was five hours and an half in going through. The unhappy prisoner, amid an incongruous mass of irrelevant matter, was unable to produce a fingle fact or circumstance in justification or extenuation of his crime.—Indeed, his only object, in making even a nominal defence, appeared to avail himself of an opportunity of disgorging an ungrounded refentment which has long been rankling in his bosom, against every law character in the country and every other person. however remotely connected with the administration of Justice. The Jury, after receiving a charge from His Lordship the Chief Justice, retired, and about half past ten, returned into. Court and delivered their verdict, — Guilty, — Death.

William Johnstone, for the murder of Benjamin Way,—
Death.

Roganaut Day, for Burglary. - Death.

Beebun, for Burglary, transported for life.

Shaik Buxo, for a misdemeanor, to be implisoned two years in the House of Correction.

John Thompson, for an assault, sine one rupec and discharged.
Roll-son and Johnstone are to be executed this afternoon; and Roganaut Day, on Friday, the 26th instant.

June 16th.—Accounts are received of the arrival in the river of the Ceres and Scarborough, Rice ships, from England.

We are concerned to hear that the Lydia Elizabeth, Captain Butler, (formerly the Malartic) bound to the Eastward, went aground on a fand bank off Kedgeree, and had not got off when the last accounts came away.

On Friday last arrived in the river the ship Exeter, Captain J. Macintosh, from England, but last from Madras, which

The American ship Good Hope, Captain John Collins, came to her moorings off town on Monday se'nnight, from Salem, whence she sailed about five months since.

The ship William Pitt, Captain Richard Owen, arrived at Diamond Harbour, on Sunday se'nnight, sailed from London 11th January, and from Madras the end of May, spoke the China sleet, of which the Walthamstow, Captain Money, was one, homeward bound, all well, off the Cape of Good Hope.

The ship Fanny, Captain Thomson, and the other Whaler, lately arrived at Madras from the Cape for grain, we understand are to proceed to Karical to take in their cargoes.

The ship Peggy, Captain Robertson, taken some time since by the La Gloire French privateer in the Bay, is arrived at Mauritius, as also the Duke of Clarence.

June 19th. — Accounts were received on Sunday from Kedgeree, of the fafe arrival in the river of the American ship the Marion, Captain W. D. Seton, from New York, in January last, and the Cape of Good Hope on the 17th April.

An embargo had been laid on all Danish ships; in consequence fixteen sail of ships navigating under those colours had been detained; their cargoes landed at Cape. Town, and the ships ordered round to False Bay.

One of H. M. ships stationed off the Mauritius, had sent into the Cape a ship under French colours, and two Danes; and a whaler well manned and armed, had fortunately picked up three Spanish ships, with valuable cargoes on board; one of these had been disposed off at the Cape, the other two were to proceed for Europe, there to be condemned and sold.

The American ship the Hazard, Captain Gardiner, that sailed hence on the 29th January, arrived at the Cape in the month of March.

The ship Sir Edward Hamilton, Captain Robertson, in latitude 46°, 44' South, and 40° East longitude, was struck by lightning, which carried away the fore-top-gallant mast, shivered the fore-top mast and fore-cap, and went through the deck abreast of the fore-mast. It then spread below, setting fire to the sailor's hammocks, wrenching all the iron from their chests, and taking a direction ast, into the cabin, went off among the arms which were in that part of the ship, with a dreadful explosion. Captain R. and the crew, who fortunately were on deck surling every sail, (it blowing a hurricane at the moment) thought the ship blown up. But the smoke and sulphurous smell having subsided, they sound she was still above the waves, and by timely and spirited exertions they were successful in extinguishing the sire.

The lightning burnt all the fails in the fore-top, killed the hogs, melted the cooking utenfils in the galley, and knocked; down all the men who were in the fore part of the ship, but none were killed, though a number of them were blind for some days, and have not yet perfectly recovered the use of their sight. The gale, during which this alarming accident happened, lasted for some days, and was uncommonly severe.

June 20th.—Rollason and Johnstone were executed pursuant to their sentence on Monday last. The unfortunate men behaved with decency and sirmness.— Rollason addressed the spectators, and sung the Indian Death Song, applying it to the beircumstances of his own case.

June 23d.—On Saturday morning, the Minerva, Captain. Richardson, received the Pilot on board, and the same evening anchored at Diamond Harbour. She sailed from Ports, mouth on the 12th February, in company with the William.

Dent; for this port, and the Bellona, for Madras. She parted company with the William Dent, on Friday, off False Point, in a gale of wind. Off the Cape they fell in with an American, last from Tenerisse, laden with wine. While she was at Tenerisse, a West Indiaman which had sailed from Liverpool, on the 27th of February, and was captured by a French Privateer, was brought into that port.

During the florm on Saturday evening last, the house oppofite the Chaundny Choke, inhabited by Mr. Brietzcke, was fruck by lightning on the east end. After entering by the roof, and totally destroying the glass frames and venetians of the room, it damaged several parts of the walls in endeavouring to make its escape, which at last, it effected through a part of the broken window, and destroyed the roof of a tiled house adjoining. Four small children, with their attendants, and fome fervants, were within a few feet of the explosion, but luckily not hurt. Mr. B. who was twelve or fourteen paces from where the lightning entered, was thrown a distance of 10 or 12 feet, and was a short time insensible, and somewhat bruised. From the appearance of the outside of the house, the lightning must have first struck an earthen urn which stood on the angle of the roof, and forced its way through the wall in several places.

On the same day arrived the ship Dart, Capt. G. Rowe, from Acheen, which place she left on the 15th instant. She brought in with her a Danish ship, called the Catherine, from Batavia.—Since her arrival in the river the Mornington has taken charge of the prize.

The American ship Elizabeth, Capt. J. Brown, is also arrived.—
She sailed from Salem on the 22d December, and touched on her passage out at the Cape, which she left on the 28th April.—By this conveyance came Captain Durand, bringing, we understand, Government dispatches from Admiral Sir R. Curtis. At the time of her sailing from the Cape, shour and wheat continued to be very scarce; though, considering this circumstance, the price was moderate. However, that which cost from 10 to 14 dollars in America, was sailing at 15 dollars per barrel. The Elizabeth experienced very rough weather in the Bay and off the Sand. Heads, where she was beating about a number of days, in quest of a Pilot. The Elizabeth is chiefly laden with spars and various fruits from the Cape.

On Wednesday last, accounts were received of the arrival of the Hind, Capt. W. Catline, and Suffolk, Capt. John Robinson, two rice ships;—the former left Falmouth the 24th January, the latter) England the 29th ditto.

Passengers per Suffolk: -Miss J. Stewart, Mr. W. Stewart, and Mr. C. Palmer.

On the same day advices were received in town of the arrival of the ship Neptune, Capt. E. W. Stevenson, from Madras, whence she sailed the 12th instant. She was dismasted in a gale of wind, and in a very leaky condition was towed into Balasore roads by the ship Hind.

Passengers by the Neptune: - Major Malcolm, Hon. Mr. Bruce, and Messrs. R. Stracey, Rowles, W. Hollingbery, I.

Inglis, and R. Jenkins.

On l'hursday last, a chokey boat brought up accounts of the arrival of the ship Bellona, Capt. Edward Lambe; she left Portsmouth the 13th February, touched at Madras, and left it the 19th instant.

Accounts were also received of the arrival of the H. C. snow Harriet, Capt. W. Collins, from Chittagong, whence she departed the 17th ult.—Mr. W. Roxburgh, came passenger by this opportunity.

Letters from Penang dated the 28th ultimo, and received by the Mornington, mention that a boat belonging to the ship Madras came into that port with information, that the ship had upset in a squall, and that the greatest part of the crew were supposed to be lost—In consequence of this information, a vessel was immediately sent in quest of her, to endeavour, if possible, to pick up some of the unfortunate people.

The Dart on her passage from Penang to the Coast of Pedier, fell in with the wreck of the Madras, and picked up one of the crew.

The ship Berrington has, we understand, been sold at Madras, for 10,000 Star Pagodas; it is said that Capt. Binny was the purchaser.

On Sunday se'nnight, arrived the William Dent, Captain G. Musson, from Portsmouth, whence she sailed on the 13th January.

The following is a list of passengers arrived at Madras, from Europe, on the Active, Capt. Smith.

Mrs. and Miss Polhill, Miss Stewart, Miss Jolliss, Lieutenant Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Hurst, and Messrs. C. Palmer and Stewart, Cadets for Bengal.

On Thursday a horse ran furiously with a Buggy down by the natives. An unfortunate man had his leg broke by one of the wheels passing over it, and several people were injured by the animal before his career was stopped by his plunging with the Carriage into a deep ditch.

Extrast of a Letter from the Commander of the Matilda, dated Cochin, 31st May, 1801.

good fortune of having re-captured from the French my old Ship the Rebecca, under the name of the Deux Arius, on the 30th April, in the Mosambique Channel, laden with Slaves, (which at the Cape will yield us a Lac of Dollars) commanded and manned by Frenchmen, 29 Europeans and 12 Blacks, made a desperate resistance and desence, and did not surrender in till all were killed or wounded, save five. Our Lascars behaved remarkably well, and the Sepoys equal to Europeans. We had several killed and a number wounded, amongst whom is Captain Sheen."

We have to announce the arrival in India of the Ship, Exeter, Captain Mackintosh, from England:—the Exeter, lest Portsmonth on the 15th of December.—Passengers, Captain Gourley, of the Artilery, and Mr. Masphett.

garrison of Fort St. George.

At Tranquebar, on the 4th instant, Lieut. Col. Cullen, commanding at that station, gave a splendid entertainment to His Excellency Major General Anker, and the principal officers, Civil and Military, of the late Danish Government; when the King's health was given, a royal salute was fired from the Citadel, and another when His Danish Majesty's was drank.

The evening concluded with a Ball and Supper to the Ladies, who, with great glee, and harmony, kept up the sprightly dance till the morning gun fired.

APPOINTMENT.

Captain Wedgeborough, of the Hon. Company's Marine, Master Attendant at Tranquebar.

MILITARY.

Fort St George, 5th May, 1801.

G O. By GOVERNMENT.

The Right Honourable the Governor in Council, having been pleafed to refolve that Kistnagherry and Datampoory, shall no longer be considered Military Posts, directs that the Stores now remaining at those Stations, and the Troops composing the Garrisons, shall be removed agreeably to the Instructions which have been transmitted to the Military Board and to the Officer Commanding the Army in Chief.

Fort St George, 16th May, 1801.

G. O. By Government.

The approach of the Monfoon in Malabar, having rendered it necessary to order the distribution into quarters, of the Troops who have been employed on field pervice in that province under the Command of Colonel Stevenson, the Right Honourable the Governor in Council takes this opportunity of repeating the expression of His Lordship's warmest approbation of the conduct of the Detachment, under the Orders of that able and distinguished Officer.

The Detachment was equipped for the purpose of subduing the Rebellious Rajah of Pychy, who had long opposed formidable and destructive resistance against the Arms of the Company, and for the Assertion of the British power throughout the Province of Malabar; and the success of this Service which has been pursued with unremitting ardor and exection, has answered His Lordship's most Sanguine expectations; by the judicious and spirited airangements of Colonel Stevenson, and by the zeal, perseverance, and galla try of the Officers and Men composing the Detachment, the force of the Rebels has been broken and dispersed, the influence of the Rajah annihilated, and the authority of the Company effectually established in that part of its dominions.

The Governor in Council, has derived great Satisfaction from the honourable testimony communicated by Colonel Stevenson of the individual exertions of the Officeis of his Detachment, in the course of this la morious Service, and the conduct of Colonel Sartorious, as second in command, entitles that Officer to his Lordship's particular thanks.—The Officer Commanding the Army in Chief, will accordangly express to Col. Stevenson, and to the Officers and Men of the Detachment, the high sense which the Governor in Council entertains of their diftinguished and meritorious services.

It is with particular satisfaction that Major General Brathwaite performs the pleasing duty assigned to him in the foregoing Government General Order, of communicating to Colonela Stevenson, and Sartorious, and to the meritorious troops who have lately served under the command of those excellent Officers, the Sentiments of high approbation which the Right Honourable the President in Council has been pleased to express of their Services; and to which, the General has much pleasure in adding his most cordial, and perfect concurrence.

G. O By Government, Fort St. George, May 21, 1801.

The Right Honourable the Governor in Council is pleased to appoint Lieut. Col. Cullen, of His Majesty's Scotch Brigade, to command in the Fort of Tranquebar.

Lieut. Buchan, of His Majesty's Scotch Brigade, to be Fort Adjutant

G. O. By Government, Fort St. George, 22d May, 1801.

PAR. 1 - The Right Honourable the Governor in Council, having received the report of Lieutenant Colonel Innes, stating the apprehenfion of the tebellious Polygar of Veerapatchy, and the suppression of the troubles in the Province of Dindigul, His Lordship takes the earliest opportunity of expressing his public thanks to Licutenant Colonel Innes, and to the Officers, and Men, who have been employed on Field Service under his command in that province.

2. The operations of Lieutenant Colonel Innes's Detachment have been equally distinguished by the judicious arrangements with which they were planned, and by the great energy and ability which figualized their execution; and the Governor in Council has viewed with the highestsatisfaction the undaunted and persevering ardour, with which the difficulties opposed by the united force of the Rebels, the severity of a fatiguing fervice, and of an unfavourable climate, have been furmounted. -The force of the Rebels has been fubdued, their strong holds attacked and taken, and the Civil Government restored in the rebellious pollams. with a degree of rapidity, judgement and fuccels, which megits His Lordhip's warmest applause.

3—The Governor in Council has derived great satisfaction in the execution of this Service, from the zeal and union of public spirit which has animated the Civil and Military authorities in their mutual exertion for the public good. And the mentiorious exertions of the Officers of the detachment which His Lordship has had repeated occasion to commend, deserve the particular acknowledgements of the Governor in Council.

B O M B A Y.

Strachy and Hollingbery The rest of Captain Malcolm's suite were lest we understand at Bagdad, but were to sollow soon afterwards, and whose arrival here may therefore be hourly expected.

At noon, Captain Malcolm landed from the Governor Duncan, at the dock head; and was received with the appropriate falute from the faluting battery.

May 20th.—On Sunday Iast, Captain John Malcolm, and suite, embarked on board His Majesty's Ship Victorious, Captain William Clarke, on leaving the shore he was complimented with the customary number of guns from the saluting battery; in the asternoon Admiral Rainier made the signal for failing, when the Arrogant weighed, and in company with the Trident and Victorious, sailed from the harbour.

FORT WILLIAM, - JULY 11, 1801.

Dispatches have been received by His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General from the British Army ferving on the shores of the Red Sea, dated from Judda on the 23d May, and from Mocha on the 2d June, by which it appears that the greater part of the divisions of the Army which proceeded from the Island of Ceylon and Bombay. under the command of Major General Baud, had arrived at the Ports of their respective destination in the Red Sea; that a division of the Army under Colonels Beresford and Murray proceeded from Judda to the northward of the Gulph on the 6 h of May, and that Major General Baird with another division of the Army, accompanied by Sir Home Popham with the Naval Force and part of the Troops from the Cape sof Good Hope, had proceeded from Judda in the same dis rection on the acth of May. The Troops were in good health, and sup lies of water and provisions had been furnished to the utmost extent of the resources of the Country by the feveral Arab Chiefs, with great readiness and cordiality; letters and presents from His Excellency the Governor General to the feveral Chiefs having been previously received by them with every demonstration of the most favourable disjosition to assist the British Army. The remainder of the force, destined to accompany Sir Home Popham from the Cape of Good Hope, had arrived at Mocha, and had proceeded up the Gulph to join General Baird.

Rear Admiral Blankett with the force under his command, and a proportion of Troops, was at Suez on the 8th of May.

By this opportunity was received the following official Bulletin respecting the state of affairs in Egypt. This paper had been transmitted from Rear Admiral Blankett to Major General Baird.

BULLETIN.

The British Army effected their landing at Aboukir on the 8th March, after some opposition, in which the enemy lost between three and four hundred men, and eight pieces of cannon.

The Castle of Aboukir surrendered on the 10th, with one hundred and seventy-five men.

On the 12th, General Abercromby attacked the Enemy's lines, and forced them to retire to the forested polts at Alexandria; the English Army taking possession of the strong ground from whence they had driven the Enemy, and were preparing a second attack; when on the 21st, General Menou, with almost the whole of the French Army in Egyp, attacked our Troops, and was most completely repulled with the loss of upwards of three thousand men, and four pieces of cannon. General Menou had with him twelve thousand men, having concentrated all his force to that p int, and had left at Cairo only fix hundred Infantry, and two hundred Cavalry of the worst description, and not more in the whole of Upper Egypt. In this action, General Abercromby was wounded in the thigh, and unfortunately died on the 28th; the command of the Army devolving to Major General Hutchinson.

Part of the Army remain at the blockade of Alexandria, part have attacked and taken Rosetta, and have advanced as far as Rahmanic on that Branch of the Nile.

It is faid that in the three actions the French have lost between four and five thousand men, which has so crippled their Army as to oblige them to call in all their out-posts.

The Turkish Army is partly with the Grand Vizier at Salheya, and part have advanced to Balbeys, on their way to Cairo.

Morad Bey died of the Plague in Upper Egypt, and it is faid that Otmyn Bey and Mahomet Elfe By, who succeeded him, are going to make their Peace with the Grand Vizier.

The French Generals killed on the 21st are Rampon, Marrinet, and La Tour Mauberg, with a number of Colonels, and Officers of rank.

(Signed)

The Arab Chiefs have been written to by the Admiral, and some have been on board the Lenpard, who have promised supplies of Camels and Dromedaries for the use of the Troops when demanded; they appear friendly and well inclined to the cause.

Perach, on the 16th May. C. pr. Harper, with the officers, and about thirty of the ciew, arrived here in the long boat, in a dif-treffed fits tion, having been four days at fea.

The Rea run to high, that the other boat was swamped along fide the ship, and was under the disagreeable necessity of leaving about thirty of the ciew on board. Captain Ha per, immediately on his arrival here, went out with the Venus, Captain Lancer, in season of the wreck, in expectation of siving the blears less on board; out after comzing about for several days, returned here without sceing any time of them; it is hoped that some Malay provide or other veiled, has picked them up; they had provision on board succent to last them a considerable time.

Pritte Dolphin brig, Captain Dallas, arrived from China, we learn that a Portugueze vessel had arrived at Maco, from Ministe, who law the Talbot, dismasted, will in three miles of the Prejos, but congress the no assistance, as the with dissective weathered them herior, having I wish lost her masts: the Captain of the Periodays, there can be no hopes of her safety, as she must hat doubt have gone to preces inflantly."

July 21/1.—Yesterday arrived the Shiewsbury, Capt. Campbell, from Masselipatam, which she lett on the 15th instant. We have not learned that any news have been received by this conveyance.

On Wednesday noon, the Nutwell, Rice ship, Captain Christall, from London, which she left on the 9th February, came to her moorings in the river. She touched at the Cape of Good Hope, from whence she sailed on the 18th May, arrived at Madras on the 4th, and departed from themee on the 7th July. This ship brought official dispatches from the Cape for the government of Fort St. George and for this Presidency. Captain Carle, late commander of the Befrington, came passenger on the Nutwell, from Madras.

On Thursday morning, the American ship Harmony, Captain James Wicksam, anchored off the town. She has on board a valuable cargo of wine. The Chokee boat, returning from this, ship off Kedgeree, filled, and though it was not recovered until the next day, the books and letters were all found safe, and we are still farther happy to add, that no lives were lost by this accident. The Harmony lest Madras on the 9th instant, and by this conveyance came passengers from that place, Captain Airth, of the country service; Mr. Hamilton, Cadet, and Mr. James Butler.

On Tuesday last, a little before four o'clock, was launched from the yard of Mr. Teague, a very handsome and well constructed vessel, of about 400 tons burthen:—she was named the Queen Charlotte, and is to be commanded by Captain Alexander.

The launch was pretty numerously attended, considering the weather;—and the ship was universally allowed, by conposissors, to be one of the best modelled vessels ever built in Calcutta.

This artist has now convinced the nautical gentlemen and the public, that the method of launching a vessel head foremost, is certainly sounded on good principles, and is the safest, as the ship did not appear to immorge hersels very little more than the draught of water she drew;—nor did sae appear to drop, on quitting her slide.

On Friday last, an Admiralty Session was held by the Supreme Court, when Jozo Elarió, a native of Manilla, was tried, as a principal in the second degree, for aiding and assisting in the murder of Captain Joseph George, on board the shap Marianne, in January last.

Elurió is the only survivor of the sour Seaconnies who perpetrated the dreadful deed.—The Jury, after having heard the witnesses and receiving a charge from his Lordship the Chief Justice, retired, and in a sew minutes returned their Verdict, Guilty.

Mr. Lewin, as Counsel for the prisoner, made a motion in arrest of Judgment, grounded on a supposed inaccuracy in the indistment. He was answered by Mr. Burroughs and Mr. Strettel. The Court, however, over-ruled the motion, and His Lordship the Chief Justice proceeded in a most solemn and impressive manner to pronounce sentence of death on the criminal.

The prisoner was executed yesterday at the Old Fort glaut, agreeably to his sentence; and the body afterwards conveyed down the river, to be hung in chains at a place called Buddetullah, on the banks of the Hoogly.

July 28th—On Saturday arrived off Calcutta, the American thip Voltaire, Captain Bowen. She failed from Hamburgh on the 16th of March, and from Cuxhaven on the 25th, but during that interval, the badness of the weather prevented any communication with Hamburgh.

On the 22d instant, arrived the Ship Admiral Rainier, Robert Elliot, Commander, from Bombay. She touched at Madras, and lest that port on the 19th. The following passengers are arrived by this conveyance:—

J. H. Lovett, and John Romer, Esqre. of the Bombay

Mr. Marmaduke Stalkart,—Mrs. Stalkart,—Miss Stalkart, —Masters Marmaduke, William, Thomas, John, and George Stalkart,—Francisco de Souza,—A Soldier of the 78th Regt. and one of the Bengal Artillery, and two Turks.

On Tuesday, morning advices reached town of the arrival of the ship Sylph, Captain R. H. Lytton, from Amboyna, last from Penang, whence she sailed the 2d cur-fent. This ship came into the roads in great distress, having feven feet water in her hold, with the loss of one of her top-masts:—she was with great difficulty got to Kedgenee, and there run on shore, as the only probable means of sawing her.—Mr. Thomas Brownings came passenger by the Sylph.

By letters from Penang, we understand that the Danish thip Fredensburg, Captain Herbst, for Manilla, was detained at Malacca: her cargo is reported to be worth about four lacks of Rupees.

By this conveyance we have been favoured with the following list of arrivals at that place:

June 16, Nancy, Captain Macarthy, from Bengal-20, Active, W. Hodges, from Madras; passenger, Captain Court.-26, Sylph, Lytton, from Amboyna, passenger, Lieutenant Skelton, of the navy.-28, Diana; Faustina, from Calcuita; - Tweed, Fenwick, from Achieen.

We are forry to find that the Dutch Snow, captured by the Ship Dart, Captain Rowe, was unfortunately lost on the Island of Billiton. Mr. Creighton, the prize-master, and 11 of the people, had arrived in a prow at Malacca, the rest were daily expected.

The following is a list of the Passengers who have lately proceeded to Europe, from Madras.

Mrs. Williams and family, Mils Emma Harris, Alexander Macleod, Efq. Lieut. Mathews, of his Majesty's 33d Regiment, and Mr. Reynolds.

Yesterday were launched about a o'Clock one vessel from the Marine Yard of Messrs. Hudson, Bacon, and Co. named the Lord Tiegnmouth; and one from that of Messrs. Gilmore and Wilson, called the Shah Aalum;—and about 3 o'Clock one from the Yard of Messrs. Gillet and Blackmore, on the other side of the River, named the Medway.

July 29th.—On the 25th instant, accounts were received in town, of the arrival in the river of the ship Lalla, Captain Young, from Bombay and Madras.

We are concerned to fixte that proceeding up the river on Monday morning, she had anchored a little below Budge a Budge, and about 6 sclock, was observed to be on fire; smoke proceeding from the fere hatchway; on opening it, the slames immediately bush forth, as they did also, from the after-hatchway; the Pilot on this immediately ordered the Cable to be cut, and ran the ship on shore. Shortly after an explosion took place, and she went to pieces.

We are happy to flate that no lives were loft, on this melancholy occasion, thro the activity and presence of mind of the Pilot in charge, in having so quickly ordered the ship to be ran on shore, by which means the whole of the crew had an opportunity of quitting her.

Twelve remarkable fine Arab Horses on board, were burnt with her.

It is with great pleasure that we can announce by accounts said to be received from the Cape of Good Hope, that the Port of the Isle of France is most completely blocked up, by part of our Squadron under the command of the Hon. Captain Elphinstone, who has got possession of an Island near the entrance of the Haibour, which he has fort field, and by which Vesse's are prevented going in, or out.

This intelligence must be particularly gratifying to the Mercantile part of India; as we now hope those Pests to our Country Trade, the Mauritus Privateers, will be prevented from annoying us during the approaching, or any future Seaf in.

Extract of a Letter, from Captain Reid, of the Ship Friendship.

"On the 6th January, in Lat. 8° 50 Long. South and 90° 30 East, about twelve o'Clock at night being calm, we were suddenly surprised with a horrid rumbling noise which shook the ship all over. We were convinced that it was the shock of an Earthquake, as Captain Farrer of the Varuna, who spoke us sive days after, selt the shock at the same time about 3 miles distance from us."

Trincomallie, 23d June.

"A Danish Ship was brought in here a few days since by His Majesty's Ship Dædalus, Captain Walter:—the is from Europe, has a valuable Cargo on board, and 10,000 Dollars in Specie."

Extract of a letter from Garjam, dated 14th July, 1801.

"Two days ago a very large Ship was feen from hence driving up the Bay, with great violence.—She was totally difmasted, and very tull of hands. Great confusion appeared to prevail on board.

"It blows furiously here just now indeed. The furf is

I think this day higher than I have at any time seen it."

Extract of a letter from Camp, near Ganjam, dated the 17th July, 1801.

We returned to Ganjam on the 14th inft. after a campaign of upwards of two months, during which, we have had three engagements, that is to fay, we have taken and deftroyed three of the enemy's strong holds, and thereby in a great measure subdued the rebels, who are a very dangerous, although cowardly enemy; they have annoyed us much through thickets of jungles, and from behind rocks upon the hills, in this manner they lie prepared for our approach, let fly vollies from jinjall and matchlock-pieces, then slee to secure themselves till they again prepare, and find an advantageous opp stunity to act as before; this is the manner that the Ooriabs adopt to sight us. We have been successful in all our undertakings against them, and have brought the surrounding country, for the most part, under subjection. It is well for the inhabitants of Ganjam that we reached there at the time we did, or they must have inevitably suffered both in their persons and property.

"The Goomsur country is one entire scene of delight from its romantic appearance, as well as from its fertile soil. It is interspersed with hills, which are for the most part barren, but the vallies completely cultivated.

"We have been some hundreds of miles in that country, and have marched all throughout on as level ground as on the plains of Hindoothan. The hamboos in this country grow to an immense size, those in Bengal appear like underwood in comparison to them."

Accounts received at Dehly, by the way of Amrutsir, state, that a general engagement had taken place, between Zemân Shah and the son of his brother Mahmood Shah. The day, or place of this action are not mentioned, but it appears to have been somewhere beyond Cabul. In the heat of the battle, some of Zemân Shah's Generals plundered his. camp, and joined the enemy: a total route was the immediate consequence of this desertion. Zemân Shah sled to Cabul, and being closely pursued by the victor, continued his slight, accompanied only by twenty-sive horsemen, to Jelalabad. The victorious Prince entered Cabul, and was received with the acclamations of the inhabitants, of all ranks; who complained grievously of the oppression they had suffered under the reign of Zemân Shah. Having assured them of redress and protection, and bestowed the Khelat of the Vizarut on the fon of Muhummud Khan; he despatched Khanazad Khan and Jehangeer Shah, with four dustahs of horse, in parsist of the sugitives. They came up with Zeman Shah on the 25th of Mohurum (6th June) and took him presoner, with his Vizeer, Wusadar Khan, their families and baggage. The Victor has placed his own troops in all the garrisons of Cabul and Peshawur, and Vakeels from the chiefs of Cashmeer and Rotalgarh have waited on him with offers of submission.

A foreigner of distinction, well known in India, Mr. Cossioni, has communicated to the Asiatick Society a vermisuge remedy, which he says has been used with the greatest success, for several years in the Islands of France and Bourbon; where worms had formerly destroyed great multitudes of children, both white and black. We take this method of disconinating the information, that medical practitioners may have it in their power to bring its virtues to the test of experience.

This is the milky juice obtained by incision from the unripe fruit of the Papaya (Carica Papaya). By way of tempering the corrosive quality which it is supposed to possess, the juice is diluted with three times its quantity if boiling water, or milk. The dose is one tea-spoonful of the juice, to a child of eight months; to those of tive, six or seven years, one table spoonful; and to those of twelve years, and upwards, two table-spoonfuls. The doses are diluted, as above described, and given in the morning sasting.

Yet others affert, that the remedy may be given unmixed, in all cases and at all ages; without inconveniency. The only evil to be apprehended from an over-dose is a slight in-flammation circa anum, which is dispersed in a day or two by lenient somentations.

Three hours after this remedy, they give a dose of Oleum Ricini, proportioned to the age, the sex, and the strength of the patient; to expel the dead worms. Some delay the purge till next morning; only giving a lavement of water, on the evening of the day on which the specific was administered. One dose of the medicine is stated as sufficient for the expulsion of all the worms, however numerous, and of whatever kind; not excepting the Tania-Cucurbitina.

The worms are discharged in fragments, which has led to an opinion that the medicine acts on them by a corrosive quality: but live worms immersed in this juice, remain entire.

Mr. Cossigni relates a few experiments, which he made, with different solvents, on this juice, when coagulated; but as he considers them yet imperfect, it would be needless, and perhaps improper, to detail them at present.

Thus far Mr. Cossigni: from the account which former writers have delivered of this juice, practitioners will not be inclined to doubt its activity; but will find it necessary to conduct their trials with considerable caution. Miller save, the whole plant abounds with a milky acrid juice, which is esteemed good for the ring-worms;" and Long afferts, that the truit, when eaten raw, contains an acrid juice, very injurious to the intestines.

His Excellency the Mott Nobie the Governor General has appointed Captain M. Shawe, Military Secretary to His Excellency in his Capacity of Captain General of the Forces in India.

The Governor General has appointed Ensign George Bristow, to be one of His Lordship's Aides de Camp, in the room of Captain M. Shawe, resigned.

June 24th.—The French ship Deux Amis, formerly the Rebecca, and Prize to the ship Matilda, Capt. Sheen, arrived yesterday in the Roads.

The Officers and Crew of an American ship, wrecked on the Coast of Africa, near Zangubar, have arrived in India on the Matilda.

July 1st.—In our last we announced the arrival of the ship Matilda, with her prize, the French ship Les Deux Amis.— We have since learned that she was taken at anchor by the boats from the Matilda, after a desperate resistance.—And we are happy to state that Caps. Sheen, who led the boarders, and was severely wounded, is nearly recovered.

This ship was formerly the Rebecca, captured by the Confiance last year, and in consequence became a re-capture restorable to the underwriters upon paying the customary Salvage,—but the New Madras Insurance Company, where she was insured, have abandoned their right to the captors, in a letter to the Commander, of which we have been favoured with a copy.

S:R,

We have the pleasure to inform you that at a General Meeting of the New Andras Insurance Company, held this day, they took into consideration the re-capture of the Rebecca, now Les Deux Amis, by the ship under your command

And notwithstanding the Recaptors in this case would be strictly entitled to the stated Salvage, merely, as regulated by Act of Pauliament, yet we are defined to state to you, that the Company, impressed with a sense of the maily, spirited, and able conduct displayed by You and the Ship's Company, have resolved to abandon the Ship altogether.

We request you will be careful to explain to the Officers and Crew under your Command, the sentiments of this Company, and to affire them of their helici that on all occasions where they maintest such exertion against the Enemy, their conduct will meet with deserved encouragement.

BOMBAY.

June 6th.—Thursday last being the anniversary of His Majesty's birth day, and appointed by the Hou'ble the Governor in Council, to signalize the display of the Imperial Union Flag at the Presidency, the troops were paraded at an early hour pursuant to the Presidency Order by the Honourable the Governor, dated the 28 h ultimo. In addition to His Majesty's 74th Regiment, His Majesty's 88th Regiment, 2d Battalion 7th Native Regiment, and the native Portuguese Militia, which formed in the order previously prescribed, the Bombay Fentible Corps under the command of Colonel Carnac marched into the Garrison and formed between 2d Battalion of the 7th Native Regiment, and the Portuguese Militia.

About fix c'clock the Hon'ble the Governor, accompanie l by Sir William Syer, Major General Nicholfon, the Secretary, the General's Staff, all the Officers off duty, and the Gentlemen in the Civil Service, came on the parade; when · His Majesty's order in Counc I of the 5th November last, fettling the Royal Style and Titles and the Enfigns Armorial, &c. was read by the Secretary on horseback, and uncovered. The former Union Flag, which had been hosfted on the flag-staff in the Castle at Sun-rise, was then hauled down, and the new emblem of the purssance of the British Empire substituted in its place, under a Royal Salue from Hornby's battery, during which the troops remained with presented arms—the drums beating and the music playing God Save the King. The troops shouldered on the salute being finished, and fired three vollies; the drums beating the Grenadier's march in the intervals, and the folemnity thus terminated. The word of command was given on the above occasion by Colonel Bellasis.

The 74th Regiment, in returning to their Barracks, marched past the Governor in close order and slow time. The "war worn" Standards and steady appearance of this corps called up a lively recollection of the distinguished part which they have acted on the theatre of Asia; and the gallantry, and discipline with which they have, during a series of nearly fourteen years, contributed to uphold the honour of the British arms, to extend the instuence of the British name and power, and to secure to the British interests in this country, a stability not to be shaken by the machinations of envy and malignity which rankle in the breasts of our inveterate enemies, nor endangered by the utmost effort of their strength.

After the ceremony, all the Officers, and a large party of Ladies and Gentlemen, breakfasted at the Government House. At noon the Garrison fired the usual Salute, and the Shipping at one o'clock.

In the evening His Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Officers, and the Gentlemen of the Sembement, were entertained with a sumptuous dinner by the Honorable the Governor, and the following Toast's were drank, the band playing the respective tunes assigned to them.

The day closed with a Ball and Supper, where the cares of the Statesman, and the toils of the Soldier, were disregarded and forgotten, in the contemplation of beauty arrayed, by nature and art, in charms which formed a most happy counterpart to the sublime ideas previously excited by the fancy, in musing upon an Æra distinguished equally by its novelty and grandeur.

His Majesty, on Thursday last, entered his 64th year; and no true Briton can suppress his admiration at those princely qualities which more and more endear our Gracious Sovereign to his subjects, the longer his inestimable life is protracted—nor conceal his wish, that George the Therd may long continue to wield the sceptre of the Kingdom so happily united under his auspices, and stem the torrent of that destructive sophistical ratiocination, both in religion and politics, which has lately deluged great part of Europe, and still threatens the faith of which he is the Defender, and the church of which he is, on earth, the supreme Head!

June 27th.—We understand that on Monday last, Mr. James Herary Stevens was admitted to practice provisionally as an Attorney in the Honorable the Court of the Recorder.

Captain George Powel, of the Honourable Company's Artillery on this establishment, has been, we hear, appointed Muster Master to the Bombay Troops ferving in the Red Sea.

BULLETIN

AUGUST 11, 1801.

Cosseir the 2d of July.

Lieutenant Colonel Murray, who had arrived on the 19th of May, with a Detachment of the force on Bombay, was at Ghinré on the Nile, (on ——,) and been well acceived by the inhabitants, from whom he had been successful in procuring a considerable supplies for the Army, of Carriage, Cattle and Provisions.

gi.—The Army under Major General Baird reached Colfeir on the 8th of June. Previous to the departure of the Romney from Cosser, accounts had been received, that he advanced party of Major General Baird's Army, under the command of Colonel Beresford, had reached Legetta, a place within 36 miles of Ghinné.

4.-Mayor General Baird, with the main body of his Army, marched from Cosseir on the 30th of June.

- 5.—The army had furniounted a variety of difficulties, with the utmost degree of perseverance and spirit, and every prospect appeared of Major General Baird being enabled to effect a junction with the British and Turkish forces, under the command of Major General Hutchinson, and of the Grand Vizier.
- 6.—The latest dispatches from Major General Hutchinson, are under date the 3d of June. From those dispatches, it appears, that Major General Hutchinson expected to reach the head of the Delta, on the 7th of the same month, and proposed immediately to commence his operations against Cairo.
- of Major General Hutchinson, in the course of its operations, subsequent to the death of Sir Ralph Abercombie, had taken misoners to the number of 1600 of the choicest troops of the French.
- 8.—Major General Coote was left with 5000 men in an entrenched Camp before Alexandria, which had not fallen when the latest accounts lest that place.

. The British and Turkish forces were in possession of the whole of Egpyt, with the exception of Alexandria and Cairo, which were garr foned by French troops, -- Several of the Beys with their respective forces nad joined the Bri-ish and largue had entirely ceased. from Colleir to Judda.

, appears from the Returns, that no casualty has taken place among the Officers in General Baird's army.

August 11th.—We are much concerned to state that yesterday morning the Duke of Clarence, Capt. Townsend, bound Ceylon, in dropping down with the ebb, shuck on the edge of the Sumatra Sand off the Esplanade. She filled with water To fast that the people had just time to get out, when she went down in deep water, and was totally loft.

From the extreme rapidity of the ebb, the Louisa, Captain Weatherall, parted her cables, and ran with her broad-side against the bow of the Dart, which ship she carried along with The Louisa being deeply laden, we understand has received much injury; making a confiderable quantity of • water, and having her decks raised in some parts.—Had the Dast's cable not parted, it is supposed the Louisa must have gone down along fide, and had the not run foul of the Dart, the must have run upon the sand.—The Dart has received no other damage than the loss of her jib-boom.

She had only a coir cable of fourteen inch on the ground. manufactured at the Rope Walk of Messrs. Clark and Co. at After parting from this cable, the Dart brought Guffereh. up abreast of the sluice of Fort William, in the most rapid part of the times way, and rode two days with a nine-inch Aream cable, made at the same Rope Walk, of Ceylon coir, which had been an Eastern voyage, and had been used, as cables of that kind are generally known to be in that navigation more than those of any other dimension.

The violent storm on Thursday night and Friday, did considerable damage to many country Boats, and some old Houses; but we do not learn that the supping in any part of the river suffered by it;

August 12th.—Yesterday morning accounts reached town of the safe arrival in the river of the Active, Captain W. B. Greenway, from Prince of Wales's Island, whence the latest on the 21st ultimo.

By this conveyance Captain Otto, late Company Polly (fold at Prince of Wales' Island,) and Market Fernand Officer of the Dart, and late in charge of the have arrived passengers. Capt. Otto, left Amboyna of the aoth May, but at that period no accounts had been received of the expedition we some time since noticed, as having failed from that Island under the direction of Capt. Hayes, of the Bombay Marine.

The Success Galley, Capt. Binny, was at Amboyns, when Capt. Otto sailed.

We are concerned to state that the vessel captured by the Dart, was lost on Billiton.

The new ship Mary, Captain Brownlie, from hence, had arrived at Prince of Wales's Island before the sailing of the Active, also the Lydia Elizabeth, Captain Butler, with the loss of her fore-mast, and bowsprit, having experienced a heavy gale of wind off False Point; notwithstanding this disaster, she made Pulo Bouton the ninth day from the Pilot, nothing it is said can equal her sailing. These losses Capt. Butler had quickly replaced at Prince of Wales's Island, and before the sailing of the Active had proceeded for Malacca.

These Straits were infested with a number of piratical prows—they had attacked the brig Sumatra, but were beaten off with considerable loss.

By letters received yesterday per the Active, from Malacca, dated the 6th July, we have a confirmation of the Danish ship Fredensburgh, Capt. Herbst, bound from this Port to Manilla, having been taken possession of and detained there by Capt. Daniel Ross, of the cutter Caroline, in conformity to the instructions of that Government.

The Experiment, Captain John Palmer, one of the ships lately employed on the expedition, arrived off Calcutta on Saturday evening last, having sailed from Bombay on the 13th ultimo, in company with the London, Captain Clark, successful wrecked on the S. W. Prong coming out of Bombay Harbour,) and three other ships the Hercules, Jehangeer, and Bersey snow, whose destination it was rumoured was the Red Sec.

On the Experiment, the following Gentlemen took their passage to this port, Mr. Agar, of the Bombay Civil Service, and the Country Trade.

The Mary, Captain Honeyman, arrived on the same day.

from Rangoon, having left that port on the 10th July.

the Adamant, a fine new ship of near one thousand tons burnhen, was launched at Rangoon on the 28th May.—She was built under the immediate superintendence of Captain E. Kemp, of this port, and is deemed by very competent and able judges to be in every respect a most complete well finished merchantman.

longing to an Arab of the name of Mahomet Abraham; and the Caroline, commanded by Capt. Lambert, on the 14th June,—a small vessel belonging to Mr. White, was nearly stuffled and expected to be launched on the following springs.

A thip, commanded by Captain Shepherdson, in attempting the first time to make good her passage to Prince of Wales's Island, met with exceeding bad weather, and was under the peculity of returning to port,—he however sailed on the 9th July.

The bir George Young, Captain Campbell, was expected to fail shortly for this port.—Timber, of every description, was very scarce at Rangoon, though a large supply was hourly looked for; yet notwithstanding this scarcity, four new keels had been laid down, some of them for ships of large dimenfions.

The Louisa Maria, Captain Roberts, from this port, arrived at Rangoon, early in the month of July.—Captain Roberts experienced extreme bad weather on his passage, and was obliged to cut away his main-mast in a heavy gale of wind,—in tact the weather proved so boisterous even at the commencement of his voyage, that he was unable to put his Pilot out. Mr. Heather, a master in the service, has returned on the Mary, as also Captain Robertson, late Commander of the ship Peggy, and Mr. Storks, of the sirm of Storks and Wiltshire, of this place,

The Union Colours were on Sunday the 5th July, first difplayed in Rangoon river, on board the Adamant and Chroline.

August 14th — On Tuesday the Nancy Grab, with the her Pilot, bound for Rungoon, put back with the burn her masts.—We are forry to learn the death of Capt. Dugger, her late com nander, on the 8th current.

The Burnaby, Capt. Aikin, bound to England with a cargo of grain, having met with extreme bad weather, has also been obliged to return to port.—She parted with the Array; Capt. Lindfay, bound also for England, who had not suffered in the gale.

From every account we have received, the weather apare pears to have been equally boilterous and bad in every quare ter of India.

The Hon. Company's ship the Rockingham, during her trip strick upon a shoal, and was so very leaky, that the Hon. Company's Frigate Bombay lest her at Judda to be hove down.

The Hon. C mpany's transport the Connected, that sailed hence in April last, effected her passage up the Red Sea, and landed her valuable and important cargo in high order and condition.

Extract of a letter from Pulo Penang, dated 21st July, 1801.

brig Sumatra, belonging to the Master Attendant there, on her return from Rhio, fell in with a sleet of prate prows to the number of forty, belonging to Raja Mooda, formerly of Rhio, which engaged him for a day and a night, and was on the point of boarding her, when a breeze sprung up which enabled the Sumatra to get off; she arrived at Malacca very much damaged in sails and rigging, and several shot between wind and water —Colonel Taylor has ordered the Interpid and Comet cruizers to look after them on their way through the Straits.

ing Polly, from Amboyna, that another expedition was going light Ternate, under the command of Col. Burr, confiding of the following vessels, viz.

Captain Hayes,
Captain Scott,
Captain Lynch,
Captain Lawrence,
Resource,
Captain Hagne,
Captain Hagne,
Captain Wallace.

The wreck of the Madras, Capt. Harper, has been found near the Bunting Islands, by Capt. Lander, of the venus;—she will be very valuable, as she has in above eight hundred shinbin, besides a great number of duggica and sheathing boards.

after leaving the pilot as far as the Andamans, having lost his bowsprit and fore-mast, which were replaced here, and will fail this day to the eastward."

Arrivals at Penang.

July 5, 1801, Lydia Elizabeth, Capt. Butler, Calcutta; Passengers Capt. Lorane.—6th, Active, Greenway, Madras; Passengers, Mrs. and Miss Polhill, and Miss Jollis.—6th, Hairiet, Stewart, Pedier.—8th, Venus, Lander, Acheen—12th, Charming Polly, Otto, Amboyna.—15th, Cutter Dragon, Sultis, Malacca—15th, Alexander, Phillips, Rangoon.—7th, Mary, Brownlie, Calcutta; Passengers, Capt. Brown, Mr. Howell, and Mr. Stone.

There is now nearly finished in the yard of Mess. James Scott and Co. Penang, a new vessel, on the plan of the King's cutter brigs in Europe, pierced for 16 guns; she is supposed to be the completest vessel of her kind ever seen in India, and is constructed entirely of wood, the produce of that Island, and does great credit to the builder. We are informed it is his first trial, and have every reason to expect from this specimen, that his abilities in the ship building line will be of the utmost utility to that settlement.

FORT WILLIAM, AUGUST 15, 1801.

His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General having appointed Saturday the 15th instant for his embarkation from Fort William, for the purpose of visiting the Upper Provinces, His Excellency attended by the Officers of his Suite.

and by a Detachment of the Body Guard, proceeded from the Government House to Chandpaul Ghaut, through the troops in garrison, the several corps accessing. His Excellency, with the usual honours.

His Excellency was accompanied to the place of the barkation by the Honorable Sir John Anstructure, the Justice of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William; Mr. G. aham, Member of the Supreme Council; Major General Popham, the Commanding Officer of the Garrison; and by many of the principal Officers and Gentlemen of the Sectlement. His Excellency embarked on the Soonamook Yatch, between five and fix o'Clock in the morning, under a falute of nineteen guns, from the ramparts of Fort William, and proceeded up the river; the Ships in the Port false, ting as he passed.

The Honorable Company's Cruizer Moinington, Captain Fiost, and Swallow Packet, Captain Luard, lying at Sulkea, were manned and dressed, and evinced much taste and judgment on the occasion. They saluted His Excellency with nineteen guns each, and a similar number of guns were fired from the Dock Yard of Messrs. Hudson, Bacon and Co.

The Moinington, independent of the different colours she displayed, from the neatness of her crew, to the number of 1-50 Europeans, being all dressed in white, had a most pleasing effect.

August 18th.—On Tuesday last, the 11th instant, anchored at Diamond Haibour, H. M. ship Romney, of 50 guns, commanded by Sir Home Popham, Knight of Malta, after an extraordiniry quick passage of eighteen days, from the entrance of the Red Sea.

Sir Home, on Thursday evening last, landed at Chandpaul Ghaut, under a salute of thurteen guns, from Fort William.

On the Romney, came passenger, Captain Hardyman, late of H. M. ship La Forte, which was unfoitunately wrecked near Judda,

Our readers need not be reminded that this officer, following the great example of his gallant commander, Cocke in H. M. ship La Sybille, completed the defeat and capture of La Forte, under circumstances highly henotelle, to himself and the gallant officers and crew of La Sybille.

Captain Lee, late of the Louisa Maria, and Mr. Mason, of the Gabriel, are also arrived passengers on the Romney, from the Red Sea.

On Friday last, the American ships Mornington, Captain. White, and Peggy, Captain Philips, arrived in the river from the Mauritius, whence they failed the 12th ult.

* The people at the Islands, we understand, were in perfect tranquillity, at the departure of these two Vessels, having been relieved from a state of the utmost consternation, from a fear that the formidable as mament that sailed for the Red Sea, was destined for that place.

They left four Danish ships bound for Europe, and six belonging to the different Ports in India, at the Mauritius. —Among the vessels for Europe was Captain Keog's, from Bengal.

By the arrival of these vessels, we learn, that trade was extremely dull there; and that the greatest part of the owners of privateers, were ruined by their ill success.—Several Americans had arrived there, and the supply of flour was so abundant, that it was selling at 7 and 8 dollars, per barrel—the prime cost of which, was 14 and 15.

On Saturday, accounts were received in town of the arrival of the Hon. Company's Packet Mornington, Captain Simpson, from the Red Sea, whence she sailed two days previous to the Romney, and consequently can bring no news from that quarter.

On Saturday also arrived in the liver the ship Margaret, Captain Hunter, from the West Coast of Sumatra, —but brings no news.

The Members of the Bengal Phoenix Insurance Society, on the 20th ult. presented an elegant Sword, valued at 1600 Sicca Rupees, to Captain Meik, as a tribute of their applause.

On the hilt of the weapon, which they have so judiciously committed to his charge, they have caused the following infeription to be engraven.

Thomas Meik, as an honorary testimony of his called to duct, in defending (until farther resistance became thip, the Armenia, against a French privateer, the Clariff, of very superior force."

To two of the Lascars, wounded in the engagement with the Clarifie, the Society have given pensions for life. The Sword was made by Mr. A. Rogers, and is finished in a style of workmanship, which does honor to that ingenious artists

August 19th.—On Monday evening, accounts were received from the Honorable Company's ship the Earl Howe, Captain Robert Burrowes, stating her safe arrival at Kedgeree;—she sailed from Portsmouth on the 23d of April. The following is a list of Passengers:

Mrs. Thornhill,—Misses Sands, Paul, Roberts, White, Armstrong, and S. White,—Messes. John Vaughan, and Samuel Salter, Writers,—Messes. Thomas Gough, Edmund Cheese, John Winstone, E. Vevers, E. Dunsterville, B. Burgess, Thomas Taylor, Charles Walker, W. W. Walker, R. H. Sneyd, Wm. Davis, J. B. Ridge, Geo. Woolley, Thomas Paul, John Keyley, John Leys, Geo. Barker, Thomas Alexander, died; Robert Nicholson, John Osborne, W. Reynolds, and S. Boustead, Cadets,—Messes. George Thomas, and John Campbell, Assistant Surgeons,—Lieutenant Young, of the 78th Regiment,—15 Soldiers of the 27th Light Dragoons, and 42 ditto of the 10th Regiment. Three native Women Servants.

Twenty-seven Lascars returned to India. 📍

The Earl Howe, failed in company with the Preston, Captain Murray; Lord Thurlow, Captain Dale; Henry Dundas, Captain Carruthers; and Princess Charlotte, Captain Richardson; under convoy of His Majesty's ship the Arethusa—she parted with the two former ships off the Island of Madeira, and with the two latter at the bottom of the Bay, being bound to Madras.

August 1916.—On Saturday last was launched at Titigur, frong, and well constructed Merchantman, of 700 Tone purther, pamed the Daniel, built by Messes. Hamilton and Abertain, and deemed by very able judges, to be in every despites from the South of Hindustan mention, that a despite engagement had taken place on the banks of the Nerbuda, between the Troops of the Mahratta Chiefs Holkar and Scindeah, in which the latter had been totally destated and had three European Officers killed in the action. Major Gardener, a brave and enterprising man, who commanded the Troops of Holkar, is stated to have distinguished himself very eminently, and to have contributed greatly to the success of the day by his own personal valour.

August 21st.—A royal salute from the ramparts of Fort William, and three vollies of small arms by the troops in garrison, was fired yesterday morning, by order of his Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General, in celebration of the glorious successes obtained by His Majesty's sleet, under the command of Admiral Sir Hyde Parker, and Vice Admiral Lord Nelson, against the Danish Fleet off Copenhagen on the 2d April.

August 21st.—On Wednesday a chokey boat brought up accounts of the arrival of the Eliza, (a rice ship) Captain Francis Holman, last from the Cape of Good Hope, whence she sailed on the 1st July.—Major General Frazer, Major A. Campbell, and Cornet Frazer, came passengers by this opportunity.

. By the Eliza we learn that the Rattle Snake, sloop of war, and the former in company, captured a large Swedish Indiaman, from China, and carried her into the Cape;—her cargo is faid to be estimated at 1,20,000£. sterl.

The Britannia, country ship, from Bombay, had also taken and carried into the Cape a Danish Indiaman, from Bengal, probably the Bekkeskow, Capt. P. Krag, which sailed from hence in the beginning of March last.

While the Eliza was lying at Rio Janeiro, a Spanish brig was brought in, which had been captured by an English privateer, but the Portugueze not permitting either the vessel or the cargo to be fold there, she was taken charge of by the Eliza, the commander of which ship took part of her cargo out of the prize, to lighten her, and put some of his people do board to conduct her to the Cape; but she had not are that that port, when the Eliza took her departure from thence?

LOSS OF THE MALABAR.

August 5th.—On Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock the Ship Malabar, Captain Kent, then at anchor in the Roads, unfortunately took fire abaft, we understand, from a cask of Spirits having flipt out of the flings, and taking fire from the light below:—in a few minutes this all-powerful element had involved the Ship in inevitable destruction; and notwithstanding every affistance afforded by the Beach Department, and from the Shipping in the Roads, at fix o'clock her Powder Magazine forward took fire, and the blew up, but not with fo violent an explosion as might have been expected: —immediately afterwards she went down in about fix fathom water, the head of her mizen-top-mast alone remaining perceptible.

We are happy to add that no lives were lost on this most melancholy occasion, the people who threw themselves overboard, being all picked up by the furrounding boats.

The Malabar had twelve thousand bags of Rice, and many articles of still greater value on board, and was to have proceeded on her return to England in the course of a few days.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE MADRAS GAZETTE.

SIR, A PLANT from Brazil, effected a Counter-poison, having attracted much notice at the Isle of France, the enclosed letter from Mr. Cere, Superintendant of the National Garden, is at your fervice for publication, and as foon as I can get a faithful traissation of the papers that accompanied it made out, you may likewife expect them, although the Plant has perished on the passage, uly 1st, 1801.

TO DOCTOR ANDERSON.

I wrote byou not long ago by Mr. Batton, a young Navigator of our Islands who wished much to have the honour of your acquaintance or to cultivate it with the Avapana. Mr. Fortin, my countryman, with the same view asked me for another: I give it, periuaded of the care he will take of it, that he will be sufficiently happy, provided it comes to you in a good state. I also send with it, the History of the introduction of this valuable plant in our Island. Its surprizing effects do not admit of a doubt, I will add to what is already known and related in history, that they have just discovered that it has also the property of curing the Dropsy, in its first stay in taking about 1 parts a day, of an infusion.

One of our botanists (Mr. Aubert de Petit Thonard,) has made some learned discoveries relative to the Avapana, which has been sent to France. And I doubt not but this taketary Plant will very shortly be generally used.

I shall have much pleasure, in learning on Mr. Fortin's return, that by your care, the Avapana has multiplied in Aha as much as in our Island.

I have the honour to be,

Your very humble and obedient fervant, CE'RE'.

Sir William Syer addressed the Grand July at considerable. length, in a very impressive and appropriate speech, elucidating and explaining the Law on the various bills that were to be brought before them in the course of the present Sessions.

On Monday last, the ship London, Captain Clark, weighed and wrought out of the harbour, and between five and six o'clock in the evening the Pilot lest her, being then clear of the reef, sometime during the night, (by what means we have not been able to learn) she unfortunately got on shore on the S. West Prong, and it apprehended she will be totally lost.

Just previous to the Paper going to Press, we received intelligence from the ship London, stating, that notwith-standing every exertion they had not been able to get the ship off at high water. The Commander and Crew we understand have quitted the ship, the Chief Officer and one or two people only remain on board to take care that she is not plundered.

SHIP LONDON.

July 22d.—On Saturday last, the wreck of the ship London, that was unfortunately lost between the Prongs, was put up to public auction, and sold for seven thousand one hundred rupees.

From the fortunate continuation of moderate weather, most of the stores, &c. from the ship London, on shore on the reef, have been saved, and expectations are entertained that the hull of the ship may yet be got off.

A few days ago as a carpenter's mate belonging to his Majesty's ship Susfolk, was employed on a survey of the masts of the ship Orpheus, he fell down in an apoplectic sit, and instantly expired.

From our correspondents at Poona, Surat, and the Malabar Coast, we are happy to learn that the present monsoon has been unusually mild, and that favourable expectations are entertained of the ensuing crops.

Jely 25th.—On Thursday afternoon anchored in the harbour the Hon'ble Company's ships Fort William, Lord Hawkesbury, Airly Castle, and Worcester. These ships sailed from Portsmouth on the 1st April, in company with the Madras and Bengal Indiamen, with whom they parted on the 31st May. These latter are no doubt safe at their place of destination also. The Superb and another line of Battle Ship, and the Cambrian frigate, sailed in charge of this sleet; the Cambrian we understand proceeded to St. Helena to add to the strength of the homeward bound convoy.

The following are the lifts of passengers by these this Caussand Lecky, and James MacMurde, Cadets.

July 29th.—On Monday last, agreeably to the intimation given in the public Papers, about half past 11 o'clock in the forenoon, the new thip belonging to Alexander Adamson, Esq. was launched from the Marine yard; under the auspicious designation of the David Scott. Though the day proved rather unsavourable on account of the rain, yet the launch was very numerously attended, and the Honorable Company's Ship Ganges being in dock repairing, offered a very convenient and commodicuts point of view for so majestic a spectacle; Captain Gray had provided a very elegant colation on the occasion, for numerous circle of his friends, when mod of the beauty and elegance of the Settlement graced the party, which someluded with a dance.

On the Bowing weather during the springs, and owing to the heavy surffither was rushing, the wreck of the ship London went entirely to pieces: we are happy however to learn that all her mass, rigging, and stores, have been saved.

**You will no doubt be anxious to hear how we fare in this part of the world, I have much pleasure in laying every thing is in tolerable plenty, we have as good, if not better fish than even Bombay affords, pretty good mutton, kid and fowls, and plenty of Pigeon flour is also issued out, and two gallons of water per day for an officer; but we have now wells that has good water for Upper Egypt not more than half a mile from camp."

FORT WILLIAM, August 28, 1801.

The following D spatch received by His recellency The Most Noble The Governor General, by express from Bom-bay, is published by Order of the Honorable the Vice Prefident.

His Majesty's Sbip LEOPARD, Mocha Road, July 21, 18012
MY LORD.

By the death of Rear Admiral Blankett, which happened on the 14th inflant, the command of his squadron devolved upon me, but as Sir Home Pophameliad been tent from Europe with infructions to take the command and cutty on the service in this sea, I have resigned to him.

The Alert (one of the Honorable Company's cruizers left by the late Rear Admiral for the purpose) is this moment arrived with a dispatch from Major Holloway, (a copy of which Lystave the honor to enclose) and as I think this event of such importance to the general interest of the country. I have also tradfmitted similar copies to the governments of Madras and Bombay. I beg leave to offer your Lordship my sincere congratulations upon this important event, and the speedy prospect of the termination of the war in Egypt.

I have the honor to remain, MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient and very humble Servant, THOMAS SURRIDGE. (Signed)

To His Excellency The MARQUIS WELLESLEY, Governor General in Council at Fort William.

SIR,

It is with much fatisfaction I embrace the opportunity of communicating to you the pleasing intelligence, that the garrison of Cairo have subscribed to a Treaty with the combined British and Ottoman Armies, for the furrender of that city and for the evacuation of Egypt. Hostages have been given on both sides. I have it not in my power to acquaint you with the terms of Capitulation, as they have hot yet been made known to me; however, I beg to offer you my congratulations on an event for important to the interest of our country.

The reduction of Alexandria alone now remains to compleat the conquest of Egypt, and I think it highly probable the attainment of this desirable object is not very remote; as the garxison of that place, which cannot exceed four thousand men, will hardly think it prudent to contend with a force to superior as that which will be opposed to it on the return of our army.

Colonel Lloyd and his detachment are mamped with this army.

> I have the honor to be. A Copy, SIR, (Signed) 1'. S. Your most obedient serve.

September 1st.—On Friday, intelligence was received of the fafe arrival in the River, of the H. C. frigate Nonfuch, Captain John Canning, from China, whence he failed on the 18th May last.

Captain Canning arrived at Wampoa on the 18th April, from this port, and found riding there H. M. ship Belliqueux, of 64 guns, Captain Bulteel, having under his charge the H. C. ships Britannia, Captain Barrow; Coutts, Captain Torins; Dorsetshire, Captain Ramsden; Exeter, Captain Merriton; Neptune, Captain Ruddy; Bombay Castle, Captain Hamilton; and Hugh Inglis, Captain Fairfax.

On the 14th of May these ships took their departure for St. Helma direct:—the Nonsuch sell in with them in the ChinaS and in lat. 12'20, and long. 113' 30. E.—the monsuon having set in against them, they all hore up for the straits of Mindow.

On the 5th June, the Nonfuch fe'l is with and captured the Spinish inow Nosla Schhora de Schdade, Julian Evangelista, mister, off the Island of Mindanao, having a Governor, with a quantity of aims, on board, for the Spanish se tlement of Samboangan; but found her on survey to be destructe of every requisite for a voyage to this port, that Captain Canning was induced to permit her to proceed to her destination, taking the parole of the intended Governor of Samboangan and his three sons, not to se we against Great Bostam or her allies, during the present war, or tal regularly exchanged.

A 'toy dollars, with fome arms and a nmunition, were taken out of the Solidade.

On the 27th June, the Nonfuch anchored in Manado road, to wood and water; the Europe coavoy proceeding for the straits of Allas. She lest Manado on the 1st Jury, for Malacca, and on the 14th, in lat. 5' 55. N. and lor 30. F. saw eight satisfanding to the S. The American brig Pac sic, Captain Banory Ends, anchored at Wampou on the 15th May; last from Otaherte, with a cargo of thirty thousand scal skins.—This vessel had been detained by the Spanish government at Lima, for near four months.

The Captain of the Pacific, stated, that the St. Domingo, a Spanish cruzer, of 22 guns, had captured off the Gallipago Islands, the Britannia, and Castor and Pollux, whalers, but did not mention the date.

On the 1st April, the Nonsuch, on her passage to China, sell in with a boat, having 63 Chanese on board, nearly Raived to death;—these unfortunate beings had belonged to a large China junk, that had been wrecked on the 14th of the preceding month, on some rocks, off the Island of Hai-nan.

They were received on board the Nonluch, by Captain Canning, and treated with that humanity and tenderness, Eritons ever shew to fellow creatures in distress, and subsequently landed at a small village on the Coast of Cambodia.

The Lydia, Captain Butler, and Bangalore, Captain Lynch were the only ships at Malacca. The Asia, from Bombay to China, arrived there before the Nonsuch laded.

On the zzd of August, Captain Carning spoke the Gillwell, from hence to Madras; and on the z4th of the same month, fell in with the Kingston, between the Jaggernaut and Black Pagodas.

September 4th.—The H: C. brig Weller, Lieuterant, Davidson, anchored off town yesterday,—in coming up, she saluted the fort, which was returned.

Yesterday the Ganges run on board the Hind, near Garden Reach:—both ships have sustained some damage by this accident.

September 7th.—On Filday a Committee on behalf of four of the Infurance Societies in Calcutta, viz,—the Calcutta Infurance Office, the Calcutta Infurance Company, the Benagal Infurance Company, and the Amicable Infurance Company, waited on Captain Hardyman, and presented him, with an elegant Sword; which had been voted to him in testimony of his distinguished gallantry and good conduct, in the capture of the French National Ship, La Forte, accompanied with the following address:—

CAPTAIN L. F. HARDYMAN,

As a Committee of four of the Insurance Offices of Calcutta, we request your acceptance of the accompanying Sword, as a mark of esteem and approbation, of the gallantity and good conduct displayed by you, in the Action, wherein His Majesty's ship La Sybille, captured the French National Frigate, La Forte,

Your most obedie it humble Servants,
ALEXANDER COLVIN,

JAMES MITAGGARI, JOHN BLYTHE.

Calcutta, 4th September, 1801.

To which, Captain Hardyman acturned the following answer:

GENTLEMEN,

At the same time, that I acknowledge the marked attention of the Infurance Offices in Calcuta, by presenting me with a Sword, in testimony of the advantage resulting to the Commerce of India, by the capture, of the French National Erigate, La Forte, on the night of the 28th February, 1799, I cannot but sincerely lament the inclancholy occasion, which has brought me forward to the notice of such respectable Companies

The fuccels on that unequal conflict, was entirely owing to the judicious arrangements of the late gallant Captain Edward Cooke, which were carried into the promptest execution by a steady, well disciplined ship's Company, and I claim, but that share of ment to which every individ ial Officer is entitled.

I have the honor to be, GENILEMEN,

FORT WILLIAM, SEPTEMBER 9, 1801.

On the 5th instant, Dispatches were received by His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General, from Major General Baild, dated the 16th of July 1801, at Kenne, on the banks of the River Nile.— Major General Baild arrived at Kenne on the 6th July, and had been joined by the greater part of his Army, having lost only three men in crossing the Defert. It was expected that in the course of a sew days, the remainder of the troops would join the Army, and that Major General Baird would be ready to move with his whole force, in such direction as circumstances might require.

Major General Baird had received a letter from Major General Hutchinson, dated the 5th of July 1801, at Gizeli, announcing that the part of the French Army which had retired to Cairo, had furrendered, and were to march out on the 10th of that month, to be conveyed to France.

General Menou was blockaded in Alexandria, the garrifon of which place is stated to be discontented. General Hutchinson expected to move from Gizch with his whole Army on the 12th or 13th of July, for the purpose of commencing the Siege of Alexandria, the only place in Egypt remaining in the possession of the French.

Advices have also been received by the Honorable the Vice President in Council, of the surrender (on the zist of June last) of the Island of Ternate with its dependencies, to the Naval and Military Forces of the Honorable East India Company, under the Command of Colonel Burr, and Captain Hayes, of the Bombay Marine, after a sum and resolute resistance on the part of the Dutch Governor of sisty-two days.

Fort William, the 10th September, 1801.
On Tuelday the 18th of August, His Excellency the Governor General having held a Council at Barrackpore, in which he nominated Peter Speke, Esq. to be Vice President in Council, and Deputy Governor of Fort William, proceeded in the Yacht, attended by his Suite, on his progress to the upper Provinces; and on the same day reached Chinfurah, where His Excellency landed, and was entertained at dinner on that and the succeeding evening by Mr. Birch, the Commissioner at that settlement.

On Wednesday the 20th, His Excellency proceeded on his voyage, accompanied by Sir Home Popham, who had joined him at Barrackpore.

On the 24th, Sir Home Popham returned to Calcutta.

On Wednesday the 26th ultimo, the Covernor General reached Dowdpore, where the Nabob of Bengal, who had come from Moorshedabad to meet His Excellency, had stationed his boats.

The unfavourable state of the weather prevented the Governor General from receiving the visit of the Nabob of Bengal, until the 30th ultimo, after that ceremony had been concluded, the Governor General sailed for Berhampore, which station His Excellency reached on Monday the 31st. The troops of the cantonment were drawn up along the bank of the river, and saluted His Excellency as he sailed past.

On Tuesday the 1st, His Excellency landed at Berhamnore, and was entertained at dinner by Mr. Pattle, Senior Judge of the Court of Circuit and Appeal at Moorshedabad; and on Wednesday the 2d instant, His Excellency, attended by the Officers of his Suite, and by a party of his Body Guard, inspected the troops of the Cantonment under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Wood.

After the inspection, His Excellency breakfasted with Lieutenant Colonel Wood, and at ten o'clock held a Levee and gave Audience until twelve, at which house he held a Durbar for the native inhabitants of the district.

In the evening of the same day, His Excellency dined with Mr. Rocke, second Judge of the Court of Appeal and Circuit, and on the morning of Thursday the 3d instant, the Governor General took his departure from Berhampore; the troops of the cantonment being drawn up on the bank of the river, saluted His Excellency at his departure. On the fame evening the Yacht anchored nearly opposite to the Palace of the Nabob of Bengal, to whom and to the Beguma His Excellency paid a visit of ceremony on the morning of the 4th, being attended by all the Civil and Military Officers of his suite, by a party of the Body Guard, and by a Captain's guard of European Infantry sent from the regiment stationed at Berhampore.

His Excellency is attended by the respective Judges, Magistrates, and Collectors, of the several districts through which he passes, and seceives the visits of all the native inhabitants of distinction during his progress.

September 11th.—A letter received in town from on board the brig Thamur, Captain Stewart, which failed hence on the 22d July, bound for Madras, states, that she has been obliged to put into Chitlagong, with the loss of her mainmast.

On Monday evening accounts were received in town of the ship Bangalore, Captain Lynch, having been driven by stress of weather to the eastward and into the Roymungul River.

This vessel sailed from Prince of Wales's Island, on the 8th ultimo, and encountered a very heavy gale of wind, which continued with unremitting violence from the 26th to the 30th ultimo, in which she lost three anchors and two top-masts.

The ship Eliza, (formerly L'Uni privateer), Captain Williamson, from hence to Madras, was at Acheen on the 8th August: she had made three attempts to prosecute her voyage to her original destination, but was under the necessity: of returning to port.

We seel pleasure, however, in announcing her safety, as she has long been deemed a missing ship, and a number of passengers embarked on board of her.

Two other vessels were lying at Acheen with the Eliza, but whose names we have been unable to ascertain.

The Clyde, Capt. Scott, from hence, was feen standing into Prince of Wales's Harbour, when the Bangalore left it. September 16th.—This morning accounts were received of the arrival of the brig Shannon, Captain R. Babcock, from Bessorah, whence she sailed on the 27th July last, touched at Madras, and lest it on the 7th instant. Major William Campbell, has arrived a passenger on this vessel.

The H. C. cruizer the fly, is likewise arrived at Bombay. The Honourable Company's ship the True Briton and · Rainier, are arrived at Madras from the Cape.

The La Gloire, late privateer, now the Trincomalee, in His Majesty's service, is sitting out with all expedition, to be as med with carronades, of a heavy caliber.

The following passengers have arrived here on the Snow Cowdery, Capt. Henry Becher, from Madras and Ganjam, viz.

A. G. Blake, Esq. Madras Civil Establishment.—Lieut. W. Hunter, Bengal Military ditto, and Mr. John Mathews.

The Royal, Bengal, and Bombay Artillery, with two companies of sepoys, mearched from the camp at Cossier on the abih ult. under command of Captain Fleming, of the Bengal Artillery, with five pieces of cannon, and a lack of ball cartridges; they arrived at Moilan, being a distance of about forty-four miles, in three days march; at this place they balted for three days for a supply of Camels.—On the ad instant. they marched 23 miles, and on the 3d, thirty miles, which brought them to Legettah, though the men were much fatigued, fortunately the whole were brought to the ground all well, confishing of about one thousand men of different descriptions—the General was highly satisfied with the appearance of the men-on the 4th the detachment halted, and . on the 6th they reached Ginna. The country they marched through is uncommonly barren, and the weather, extremely fultry, the thermometer in the tent from 100 to 110; notwithstanding, both the officers and men were very healthy. The country round Ginna is very pleafant, provisions are plentiful and exceedingly reasonable—the Egyptians and Arabs are extremely civil and feem happy that our people are among & them. The corps there are the 10th regument, 88th, all the Artillery, and two companies of sepoys. Intelligence had been received there from Grand Cairo that the French had figned articles of capitulation, and that our troops are in possession of one of the gateways. These dispatches were dated the 9th of July, and the French were to march out next morning. A falute was fired at Ginna on the occasion, and another on houling the green or Imperial flig on the house of the Grand Signior at that place. Ginna is a large town full of inhabitants—the famo is temple of Ilis is in view from the encampment.—General Baird. had fent Captain Budgeon to Cailo by the Nile, and whose leturn was hourly expected. - Alexandria still held out when these dispatches came away, but expected to fall daily."

A cattamaran shad been dispatched from the shore, and detained by the stranger, who had stood to the Eastward, but tacking, it was conjectured she had shoaled her water.

The last accounts mention her, as again standing towards the roads of Vizagapatam, where some small crasss were laying.

The ship is represented as a small vessel, with her fore-top gallant yard, apparently higher than her main que, she hoisted a small slag, which, however, was not distinguishable on shore.

BOMBAY.

July 18th. The Quarterly Sessions commenced here on the 14th Instant before Sir William Syer, Recorder, and his Associate

The Recorder having addressed the Grand Jury in a very eloequent and impressive speech, eluc dating the Law, as applied to the various Bills that were to be brought before them, and partienlarly upon the subject of Duelling, the Grand Jury retired, and the Court adjourned until the following day at ten o'clock, when the Grand Jury returned a True Bill against Lieutenant G. B.
Bellass, and Captain C. W. Byne, for the murder of Mr. A. A.
Forbes Mitchell, and no Bill against Lieut. Michie, whose name stood in the same Indictment.

Mr. Dowdeswell, as Advocate for the Crown, then moved that Mr. Michie might be put to the Bar and tried upon the Inquest of the Coroner, with the view, as he declared, of bringing Mr. Michie forward as an Evidence upon the trial of Lieutenant Bellasis and Captain Byne, which being opposed by Mr. Morley, as Counfel for those Gentlemen, and the Court having heard the arguments adduced for and against the Motion, they were pleated to reject it—upon which Lieutenant Bellasis and Captain Byne were put to the Bar, and after eight peremptory Challenges on the part of the Prisoners, and three on the part of the Crown, the following Gentlemen were sworn in of the Petit Jury, viz.

|   | Captain Andrew Patte   | on, H. C. S. Ocean, Foreman,   |
|---|------------------------|--------------------------------|
|   | Iohn Barfoot,          | Notungham.                     |
|   | Wakcfield,             | . Hen. Addington.              |
|   | J. Rees,               | Hough on.                      |

|   | Saunders,              | Travers.                       |
|   | Mr. W. Rees,           | Chief Officer of the Houghton. |
|   |                        | of the Nottingham.             |
| • | Bowers,                | Second Officer of the Travers. |
|   | Vaughan,               | Third Officer of the Ocean.    |
|   | Leonard Jaques, Inhabi |                                |

Captain Joseph Slater, of the Admiral Nelson.

Mr. Dowdeswell, having addressed the Jury on the part of the Prosecution, Evidence on both sides was heard, and the Prisoners, both of whom addressed the Court, having similared their desence, at 9 o'clock at night the Recorder summed up the whole of the Proceedings with his usual perspicuity and accuracy, and delivered his Charge to the Jury in a manner which reslected the highest credit on his abilities and impartiality. The Jury retired at midnight, and at naif past one o'clock on the morning of the 19th resturated their verdisst GUILTY, but recommended the Prisoners to Mercy. The Prisoners were immediately committed to close confinement, and are to be brought up on the 20th instant, to receive the Judgment of the Court.

July 20th.—The Court having this day met at 11 o'clock, putfuant to adjournment, Lieutenant George Bridges Bellafir and Captain Charles William Byne were put to the Bar, and being asked, in the usual form, what they had to say why sentence of Death should not be passed upon them, they severally addressed the Court in a sew words, throwing themselves upon its Mercy.—The Recorder then addressed the Prisoners in a long and very affecting Speech, wherein he recapitulated the leading circumstances of this melancholy case, and took occasion to admonish the audience, to take warning from the unfortunate example before them of the danger of slying in the face of the Laws, and; actuated by false notions of honor, seeking the Lives of their sellow Creatures or risking their own, by that most barbarous practice Duelling—a practice in direct opposition to the Laws of God and Man, and consequently highly dishonorable.

The Recorder then informed the Prisoners that in consideration of the Jury having recommended them to Mercy, the Court had determined to avail themselves of the late gracious Act of His Majesty, which enables the Courts in India, to award sentence of Transportation instead of Execution against, offenders in certain cases, as they shall fee at; and further, that from fome favorable circumstances which had appeared on the Trial, affecting the case of Captain Byne, as well as a representation which had just been put into his hand from the Officers of the 86th Regiment, stating that upon a former occasion of this nature Captain Byne had interfered and happily prevented a Duel in the Regiment, the Court would be induced to recommend him to bis Majesty for pardon—but that the case of Lieutenant Bellasis appeared in a very different point of view, and he must not expect the smallest remission of his punishment.—The Recorder concluded by faying, " It therefore only remains for me to pronounce the Sentence of the Law as the Court have determined to apply it-which is, that you George Bridges Bellasis shall be transported to the Eastern Coast of New South Wales for the term of Fourteen Years and that you, Charles William Byne, shall be transported to the same place, for the term of Seven Years."

The Court, having sworn in Simon Halliday, George Patterson, James Law, Charles Forbes, and Patrick Hadow, Esqre. as His Majesty's Justices of the Peace, for the Town and Island of Bombay, was then adjourned; the Sessions being closed.

August 15th.—On Friday last, figurals were made for a ship the ship statement, unfortunately a title to leeward of the port, but from the variable winds that then provailed and the winds being off the land on fletabley morning, hopes were entertained that the would have like a payer got sufficiently to the Westward as to allow of her setching into the harbour, but from the heavy swell, and the wind coming round to the westward, we observed her standing in. and in the afternoon the anchored within about a mile of the reef, in five and a half fathoms water; a pilot had been dispatched from Mahim, who fortunately got on board, and · the utmost exertions were used to render her every assistance; a boat well manned from His Majesty's ship Suffolk, Captain P. Malcolm, accompanied by a Bunder-boat, pushed through between the Island of Colabah and Bombay, and by the channel through Back bay, with much difficulty and . hazard reached the ship; they, however, could render her no affiftance, as they had come to the refolution of riding till the morning in expectation of meeting with a land wind to run them off to the Westward.—A little before ten o'clock on Sunday moining the ship was observed losing her head sails, and atten, her main and mizen-mails were feen to go overboard, and foon afterwards a heavy fea broke into her, when it appeared the must have struck; the fore-mast foon after Tollowed the other two, and we are forry to fay the ship is entirely lost,—She proves to be the Isabella, Capt. Brown, belonging to Calcutta, freighted from the West Coast of Sumatra, with a very valuable cargo on board, which we fear will be lott.—After getting on thore, the Suffolk's boat attended to render any affiftance, but the fea was running too high to venture going near her.

Notwithstanding the perilous situation in which the Isabeila lay, and the imminent danger she ran of being instantly dashed to pieces, yet the supercargo, Captain, officers, and part of the crew, continued to stick by the ship, during Sanday night, nor did the whole quit her until Monday afternoon, and we are happy to state that not a single man has perished on this unfortunate occasion.

On Monday last anchored in the harbour the Hon. Company's schooner Alert, Lieutenant Thomas Dade Braty, from Suez.—The Alert lest Suez on the 4th July, touched at Cossier, from whence she sailed on the 6th, and from Mocha on the 23d.—By the Alert came passenger, Captain Joyliste, formerly commander of the Fortune Grab, whose loss in the Red 38t we noticed sometime ago.

September 15th.—On Monday evening, the officers of his Majetty's 74th Highland regiment, gave an elegant Ball and Supper, to the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Settlement; we do not recollect an entertainment of this nature, in Bombay, having been more numerously or brilliantly attended.

By a recent departure our fociety has again experienced a diminution, as the following passengers have lately proceeded to Europe:

We, the Company's fervants, planters, and inhabitants of the Mand office. Helena, deeply impressed with a sense of your unceasing emissions for the prosperity and honour of the island, and the well-well those you have governed for these fourteen years past with ability and humanity, request, that W. W. Boveton, Esq. will present this testimony of our finders regret at the declining state of your health for these two years man, which unfortunately senders a temporary absence necessary. The blessings we have experjenced under your Government have effectually marked you as an object of our esteem and affection. We consider it but a just tribute to your mosts, in acknowledging, this Island has, owing to your wife and active measures, been brought forward to a degree of respectability and notice, unprecedented in the annals of the Settlement; and it is unantmously our most fervent hope and wish, that a speedy recovery of your health will be the joyful means of restoring you ende more to the chief management of affairs in this Island.

To the above Address, 104 signatures were affixed.

His Majesty's sloop Penguin, of 18 guns, which lately are rived in Simon's Bay, with dispatches for Vice Admiral Sir Roger Curtis, has, in pursuance of Orders in Council, for detaining all Russian, Danish, and Swedish vessels, taken possession of two valuable Swedish East-India Company's ships: and engaged between the Madeira and Canary Islands, a large French corvette, and two armed merchant ships; one of which, had struck; and the whole would probably have been captured, (the corvette being almost silenced,) when the fore-top-mast of his Majesty's sloop fell over the side; the inability of pursuit being immediately perceived by the enemy, they hauled off, and made sail, to the mortification of our gallant tars.

Simon's Bay, June 20th.— Last night arrived in this Bay the Danish Ship Prince Augustenberg, from Bengal, after sourceen weeks passage; she was taken possession of by two armed boats of the squadron. The Captain informed the Officers who boarded him, that there are two more Danes off the Cape. The Adamant and Euphrosyne have received orders to slip their cables when there are any signals made, to conduct them to this port if possible.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE,

FOR OCTOBER, 1801.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1801.

He Hon, the Court of Directors having been pleased to appoint G. H. Barlow, Esq. and George Udny, Esq. to be Members of the Supreme Council of Fort William in Bengal, Mr. Barlow and Mr. Udny, accordingly, this day, took their seass as Members of the Supreme Council of Fort William in Bengal, under the usual salutes from the Ramparts of Fort William.

His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General his been pleated to nominate the Honorable George Hilaro Barlow, Esq. to be Vice President and Deputy Governor of Fort William.

By Order of the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

C. R. CROMMELIN,

Asing Chief Steretary to the Games

October 2d.— The American ship the Horace, Capt. John Bickford, is arrived from Salem, with a cargo of spars,-whence she failed on the 1st May,

After the wreck of the Real Fidelissima, the soldiers of H. M. Soth regiment, who were on board of that transport. to a man subscribed a fum as a compensation to the officers and crew of the Perseverance snow, Capt. Mackay, who afforded them, in their critical fituation, every relief and affiftance in his power.

The money, with the best written letter these honest Tellows could produce, was forwarded to Major Ford, their commanding officer, requesting he would present their small tribute, in humble testimony of their gratitude for kind and humane attention in their distress;—they acknowledge themselves incompetent to reward Captain Mackay's conduct, in any manner agreeably to his deferts; they spoke and wrote of him in the highest terms of gratitude.

From every account we have feen, it appears that the people on board the Perseverance conducted themselves in the most commendable manner, and exerted all their abilities in the best of causes, that of humanity,—no praise of ours, is adequate to their merits.

The following ships for England with rice caegoes have Jately taken their départure hence all well, viz. Sir J. B. Warren, Captain Davis, 16th September. William Pitt, — Owen, 18th ditto. Minerva, .... Richardson, Hind, - Gibson, 20th d. William Dent, - Mustin, Rose, - Kymer. - White. Experiment, Mcdway, Brabagon, 25th do. Sir Ed. Hamilton, ---- Robertson, Nutwell, - Carle, The William Dent, we understand, has been obliged to put back, after being eight days at fea.

Castain Thomas, in the Cecilia, from hence to the Red Sia, discovered a spring of fresh water on Burnt Island, situated in the Lat. 11 14 No. and Long. 47 15 East of Greenwich, and about 9 or 10 miles distant from the Abyl-synian shore.

On the fouth fide and nearly about the centre of the Island, the water ouzes out of the crevices of the Rock, and forms a small pool at the foot of the precipice;—with a very little trouble a ship in want of water might easily supply herself, particularly as there is very good anchoring ground (sandy) onposite to the spot, and thence round the east point of the Island, so that a ship may anchor in safety and avoid the strong westerly gales.—On this Island there is a remarkable Cave or rather natural lock, sufficiently large to admit a ship of about 300 Tons, and there moor by clinching the end of a cable through the holes in the rock.

When the boat of the Cecilia was on shore, the people in her discovered the remains of two clinches of cables fastened to the tock.

There appears to be no canger near to the Island, except on the western point; where a reef runs off, about a cable's length, and where there is a sunken took with only 12 fathom. water on it.

The Bellifarius is the vessel that lately made her appearance off Vizagapatam, and of which we gave some account in our last; not being able to setch Madras roads, she put into a portion the coast for water, and by not having communication with the shore, gave rise to a supposition that she might be an enemy's privateer.

Copy of a Speech made by Lieutenant Colorel Murray, to the British-Officers on the 24th August, upon presenting the Union Colours to the ad Battalion 1st Native Regiment, at Dacca.

The Impesial Standard which. I have had the honor to present to this Corps, exhibits the grateful sign of a Union of Interests amongst the best and happiest People of the sirst nation on the theatre of the World. I flatter myself that in the Field of Battle it will ever be displayed in the cause of justice, of honor, and humanity, and I feel fully persuaded, that, in the moment of danger, it will be desended, by every British Officer present,—with setvent zeal, and with cool, and determined courage."

WESTMINSTER MEETING.

The Gentlemen educated at this famous Seminary, having for sometime discontinued their Anniversary Meeting, assembled on the 22d ultimo at Scornec's Tavern, to the number of twenty-one.

Gommodore Sir Home Popham, as a Brother Westminster, was particularly invited on this occasion. General Fraser, Colonel Green, of the Artillery, the Honorable Mr. Bruce, Mr. Thornhill, &c. &c. attendeds At seven P. M. the company sat down to dinner. Mr. Hickey, as the senior Westminster, being in the chair; the Artillery Band playing during the repast.

After dinner, the following toasts were given by the Prefident, and repeated by the Vice President in due order,

TOASTS:

Alma Mater!

Floreas!

To the Memory of Queen Elizabeth.

The Queen and Royal Family.

The Masters and Ushers of Westminster School.

Lord Wellesley, and Prosperity to India.

Our Brother Westminsters in England.

All the Boys!

Several Songs were then lung with obliging kindness by different Gentlemen, and the remainder of the evening was passed in classical conversation, genuine cheerfulness and festive mirth. The mind is surely gratified in the recollection of those generous habits, which formed in early infancy, are matured and perfected by the knowledge and experience of our riper years.

Ducamemor iple mei, dum spirkus hos reget artus!

On the 27th ultimo, as Mr. Gregory Jacklon, Compamy Agent at Redgeree, with his wife and family, and feveral other ladies and gentlemen, in all feventeen persons, were proceeding to town, in his Cutter, it accidently upfet below Culpee, when Mrs. Jackson's mother and sister were unfortunately drowned, and the remaining sisteen, after enduring unparalleled hardships, and just on the eve of perishing, were providentially saved, by the exertions of a poor deserving sisterman and his boat's crew.

October 7th.—On Monday two Arab ships arrived, one from Bombay, which she lest on the 1st August, the other from the Island of Patts, with a cargo of Cowries, from whence she sailed on the 22d July.

In the Bay of Bengal, the American ship the Horace, Captain Bickford, saw a brig, that chased him, whose decks were full of men, and whom he supposes to be a cruizer.

The brig came nearly within hail; then hauled his wind to the Eastward, and was soon out of fight.

When the Philip, under Arab colours, left Muscat, the Honorable Company's late ship the Kent, was at anchor in those Roads. She had been purchased by the Imaum of that place for 50,000 Rs. and was to be sitted for a ship of War.

The ship Clarisse, Captain C. James, and the ship Phoenix, have arrived at Madias from Bombay, as also has the new ship Gilwell, Captain C. H. Sheen, from this port.

We understand that a very considerable Bridge, now building it Burdwan, has lately been opened for the accommodation of foot Passengers. The Bridge consists of five Arches, and is altogether near 400 seet long, it is, we believe, the largest work of the kind within the provinces of Bengal, and promises to be of great utility to the inhabitants of the very populous, and flourishing District in which it is erected.

Off. 14th—On Thursday arrived the brig Trimmer, Capt. Alex. Foggo from Botany Bay, and Amboyna, the last of which places she left on the 4th August.

When Captain Foggo failed from Botany Bay, the settlement was in the most flourishing state—plenty of all kinds of provisions, of the best quality, and cattle of every species numerous.

It is faid to be the Governor's intention to offer a reward for taking or killing the wild ones, (that had very greatly encreased) after the receipt of two hundred Cows, that had been contracted, to be imported from India.

The Royal Admiral, with several Whalers, and an American, with stores, were at that settlement when the Trimmer sailed.

At Amboyna, Captain Foggo left the Cartier, Captain Fulton, from Eugland, with an ample supply of articles for that settlement.

The Albion, Captain Wallace, and Farquhar brig, Captain Meldrum, were at anchor at that port.

On Sunday arrived the Ann, Captain Stewart, likewise from Botany Bay, having sailed thence on the 11th July, she confirms the statement previously received by the Trimmer of the prosperity of Port Jackson, and brings an account of the arrival there in June, of the Cornwallis, Captain Tennent, from England, with convicts.

The Harington, Capt. Campbell, belonging to this place, but last from Madras, had also arrived there before the Ann failed.

Captain Stewart spoke His Majesty's ship Centurion, and learnt from her, that she had been off Manila, and cut out with her boats, two vessels, and destroyed two others, in desiance of two Spanish line of battle ships and one frigate, which were lying there at the time this gallant piece of service was performed by our brave countrymen.

The American ship the William Penn, Captan Volans, arrived on Sunday from Portsmouth, and the Island of Madeira, the latter of which she lest on the 21st June.

Letters have been received in town from on board the Bellona, Captain James Down, captured by the Republican Frigate La Chiffonne, that state she struck without resistance; instact resistance would have been temerity, when the odds were so much in favour of the enemy.

In removing the prisoners, the Chiffonne ran foul of her prize, and carried away her own foremast and awssprit, the Bellona's people thinking this afforded them a fair chance of escaping, immediately made all sail upon the ship, but the attempt to get off proved inessectual, for the frigate even in her disabled state soon overtook her.

The officers and crew were then immediately removed on board the Chiffonne; Captain Down, and the Ladies that were passengers, only remaining on board the Bellona.

During the stay of the Chifforne at St. Ann's Island, accounts were said to have been received of the Bellona's arrival at the Mauritius.

A Man of War brig of 22 guns, sailed from Nantes, with La Chiffonne, having parted company, she sell in with an English Cutter, who engaged her, and damaged her masts and rigging—the Frenchman notwithstanding, had the good fortune to escape into Bilboa.

La Chiffonne was to be surveyed and valued on the 25th September; and would in mediately afterwards, if found worthy, hosse the British Flag, and be Commissioned for His Majesty's Navy.

October 16th.—On Monday evening Mr. I. P. Green, purser of the Honourable Company's extra ship Admiral Rainier, Ceptain William Lay, arrived in town, with accounts of the safe arrival of that vessel at Kedgeice, last from Madras, whence she sailed the 24th ult.

under the Kistnagherry Hill, and pursued its course down the valley between the Hills which run directly south to Daramporam. This is the second shock that has been selt at Kistnagherry within these last two years.

Captain Adam arrived off the Island of Maha (Seychelles) on the morning of the jith August, and observed a Frigate at anchor, with several small vessels in shore, about 10 A. M. after passing a number of dangerous Shoals, the Sybille anchored within a cable's length of the Chiffonne.

The Colours were now hoisted, and a smart action commenced, which lasted 17 minutes, when the enemy strucks cut her cable, and drove on shore, but was afterwards got off without damage.

The Chiffonne was commanded by Captain Guieysse, 250 men, carries twenty-eight 12 pounders on her main deck, four 36 pounders carronades, and ten 8 pounders on her quarter deck and fore-castle.

The enemy had 23 men killed and 30 wounded, the Sybile two killed and one wounded.

.. Captain Guieysse had erected a sour gun battery on shore, which kept up a confant sire, during, and for some short time after, the engagement.

On the Coast of Brazil, in May last, the Chistonne captured a Portuguese Schooner, and a Frigate of 26 guns, after a start action, which they returned to their Commanders, after throwing the guns overboard.

On the 16th of June she captured the Bellonz extra ship from Bengel, and which had arrived at the Isle of France.

Captain Adam took at the Seychelles two Schooners and a Grab, under French Colours; one of the former, an exceeding fine Vessel, was given to Lieutenant Campbell, late of the Spitsire, wrecked on the African Islands on the 21st ultimo, but whose Crew and Stores, we are happy to say, were sayed.

OCTOBER, 1801.

On the 23d ultimo, the snow Nancy commanded by Capt. J. M'Carthy, arrived in Masulipatam Roads from Prince of Wales's Island, which she lest on the 22d August; and by accounts which had reached the shore we learn that on the 20th ultimo, about noon, she experienced a dreadful thusder storm, which shivered her main-top-gallant mast, main top-mast, and main-mast.

Eight of the crew were struck down with the lightning, and two of them very severely wounded, for the seconds vast columns of smoke issued from the main hatch-way, from which it was concluded that the vessel was on sire, but happily on this head their sears were groundless.

Lieutenant Colonel Brunton and Mr. White, Surgeon, being passengers on board, were eye witnesses of the strenge ous, active, and manly exertions used by Captain M'Carthy, for the preservation of his ship, crew and cargo, in this difficult and trying fituation.

We have great pleasure in laying before our Readers the following letter from Admiral Lord Keith, being an answer to a letter addressed to His Lordship by Mr. Roebuck, on the behalf of the Underwriters of Madras.

Audacious, Leghorn Roads, 3d April, 1800.

Sir,

I, yesterday, received your letter of 7th August last, acquainting me that the different Inflance Office of Madras had resolved on presenting, to the representative of the late Captain Cooke, of His Majesty's Ship La Sybolle, a service of Plate, of Fisteen Hundred Pounds value, (which had been originally intended to be offered to himself, had the surfived,), as a tribute to the memory of so gallant and amattle a Man; and that the Committee, appointed to carry the resolution of the different Insurance Offices into effect, had directed you to request that I would, in their name, present the Service of Plate on which Captain Cooke's Crest is to be engraved and such an Inscription as I may think most suitable to the subject.

I request, Sir, that you will ussure the Gentlemen, who have honored me by their selection for the conveyance of this ceptable to me, and highly gratifying to my feelings, as an Officer, who must view with satisfaction the estimation in which Military merit is held: as a Friend, who cannot fail to be pleased with an active Agency on an occasion so honorable to a private Character that I respected and esteemed: and as the humble servant of those whose considence has not been limited to the period of my services upon their Coasts, but which has, in this flattering manner, accompanied me into other seas.

In compliance with your desire I have sent to Mr. Chase the following inscription, to be engraved over the Crest:

Occidit Hobilis Multis.

(Creft)

LA FORTE taken —— EDWARD COOKE, Qb.

Dates to be inferted.

That I have not been able to determine on one which might have been confidered as more appropriate, I trust will not be imputed to any want of consciousness of his merits, (which I have personally witnessed during his service with me) or of my inclination to express, in the best manner that I can, the sense which, I am sure, is entertained of them, by the Gentlemes who have honoured me with this mark of their considence, on the present occasion.

I feel confiderable regret at being unable, in consequence of my absence from Britain, to deliver the Present myself; but, as I am. unwilling to delegate the charge, I shall write to Captain Cooke's representative on the subject, and, on my return, take an early opportunity of expressing, in person, the sentiments of respect and esteem which his friends at Mastas extertain for his memory.—My best acknowledgements are due to you, Sir, for the polite and flattering manner in which you have conveyed their wishes to me.—I beg your acceptance of them, and that you will believe me to be with great slipect,

Your most obedient, much obliged, and very faithful Servant. KEITH.

Benjamin Rochuck, Esq. Madras.

September 18th.—On Saturday last anchored in the harbour the Honorable Company's Cruiser Rodney, Commodore Edward Stephenson, from Surat, whence the failed on the 10th instant.—By this opportunity came passengers, the son of Mendi Ali Khan, and suffe, consisting of twenty three women and twenty-eight men.

The Sherist of Juddah's ship from the Red Sea, arrived in Surat roads on the 6th instant, and on the 9th got sast over the bar into the river.

By a recent departure, Captain and Mrs. Rees have proceeded to Madras, where, we understand, Captain Rees will take upon himself the duties of Master Attendant at that settlement;— Mr. Taswell being absent on account of his health.

General Baird's army by the last accounts was embarking at Ginna for Cairo; a mode of conveyance that must be attended with considerably less inconvenience to die troops than marching in such a country in such season.

We find, however, that the passage of the Desert between Cossier and Ginna, was effected without that extreme inconvenience, that from the general idea of the measure, might naturally have been expected.—The judicious arrangement for marching chiefly in the night must have been found highly advantageous.

It is understood that although want of water was one of the chief inconveniences, it was not felt in any extreme degree, notwithstanding great losses were experienced from the Skina provided on the occasion: the intense heat of the climate and consequent dryness of the atmosphere we should conjecture would render it very difficult to keep Skins in order for holding water, as remaining exposed empty for a few hours only would make them unfit for immediate service. It may also be presumed that the alertness, necessary in military movements, did not afford time for sufficient preparatory seasoning—for it is well known that in this country, a skin, be it ever so good, requires to be filled eight, ten or more days, before it ceases to leak—but it is not so well known that soaking them in water will saturate them equally well in less than half the time, and that it is of little moment whether they be soaked in salt or fresh water, provided they be well washed or rinsed before filling with the stater to be preserved—remarks that we are here induced to offer, in the wish that they may tend to obviate any similar inconvenience on similar suture occasions.

The ample supply of boats provided for our Indian army on the banks of the Nile; from the friendly exertions of the Beys and inhabitants of Upper Egypt, will soon enable our troops with ease to reach Cairo; the current of the Nile being so rapid that it was supposed the voyage, after being fairly embarked, would not take up more than four or five days. All the letters we have had access to from Ginna, speak highly of the fertility of the country, particularly in wheat, great quantities of which are laden annually at Cossier on dingies and dows, for Mocha and Juddah.

Mr. Sr. John Fancourt, formerly a Lieutenant in his Majesty's 77th regiment, stationed at this presidency, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in his Majesty's 69th regiment; and Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Robert Bell, to be Lieutenant Colonel of his Majesty's 86th Regiment.

On his passage to this post, Captain Henderson fell in with and spoke H. M. Ship Leopard, Capt. Surrice, and on the 21st of this month saw the Moraington cruizer, in chace of a ship Privateer.

It was a fortunate circumstance that the Mornington, so opportunely hove in fight, otherwise, it is more than probable that both the Milford and the Georgiana would have been captured.

Another rover is in the Bay, named the Eugenie, well known last year, under the denomination of the Diana, she has commenced her depredations on our trade, by the capture of the new ship Orient, from Chittagong to Madras, on the 2d instant; and of the Friendship, Captain Tapson, on the 11th; from the Coast bound to Fort St. George, with a cargo of Sugar, on account of the Honorable Company.

The crew, passengers, &c. of these two captured ships, .

Letters received in town from the Cape of Good Hope, by the Porcher, mention the actival of the Dart, from St.

Helena, bringing accounts of the safe arrival at that Island of the H. C. ships Bengal, Captain Cuming, Lady Burges, Captain Swinton, and Lady Jane Dundar, The Honorable Captain Lindsay, on the 6th June,—having sailed from hence on the 24th February.

They were to proceed in a few days for England, under convoy of one of His Majesty's ships then laying there.

We have been obligingly favoured with the following Extract for publication:

On the morning of the 21st instant, a sail was seen from the mast head of the Morning on the Southward, coming down with a crowd of canvas, having every thing prepared, sent the people to breakfast—kept our wind to the Westward and W. S. and soon found her to be a Cruizer—as soon as she was hull up, she fired a gun to Leeward, giving a broad shear to the Eastward, but as we kept on, she wore round and stood for us, keeping us a little absti her beam, she then wore to the Eastward, we tacked, she then wore to the Westward and stood for us, but soon hauled her wind again, we then tacked and commenced chasing, being about 12 gun shot on her Lee quarter.

The enemy finding, she could not escape while standing to the Westward, tacked and stood to the Eastward, steering E. S. E. we fired our weather guns at her, some of which went over her, and one fell under her main chains, but did her no damage—we were about, nearly as soon as the preveteer, but whilst failing free, she went at least three feet to our two.

"Finding the outsailed us so much, we bore up for the prorection of the trade in company. The privateer's staysails are all cut with little or no lust, being nearly triangular."

of the loss of the ship Dove, Captain Duffin.

"The Dive left 500000, the 21st of September, and nothing material occurred until her arrival off the Little Andamans, when the experienced continual, hard squalls, attended with rain, that causeda very cross and high Sea, and mide the ship soleaky, is to oblige us to keep one Pump constantly going, by which means we found that the water did not gain on us, the' the bad weather continued, till we made the land in the Bay of Bengal, and not having had an opportunity of taking an observation but twill fince we left the Little Andamins, found on felves driven a great deal to the Eastward, with a strong Easterly current prevailing all across the Bay.—On the 5 h instant, being then in Lat. per account 20, 5) N. and Long. East 90, 30, struck soundings in 32 fathoms, at midnight.—At 1 A. M. hove to under close reefed topfals. in 13 fathoms water, it blowing very had and the fea running high; we however found that the Pumps did not gain up in us, tho the wind and sea were increasing, and at 8 A. M. there was a most tremendous sea running and continually breaking over us, also. found the ship to make considerable water and the pumps gaining upon us, and not being able to work more than one pump, the other being choaked with pepper; - it 9 A. M an immense sea unshipped the companion and poured a great quantity of water down the hatchway-Wind and fea full increasing, and carrying a present fill to the Westward to get into Pilot's water.—At 10 A. M. the wind shifted to me W. S. W. with constan hard cales, and by this sudden shift of wind, such an high Sea was occasioned as I had never before beheld, and put us to the necessity of wearing the This to the Monnwirl, and fill the Sea con mully breaking over us; and from the v olent house of the Sea, the thip fpring a very alarming leak forward. At It A. M. found 2; feet of water in the hold, the leak still guning on us very fast; at 10 minu es before P. M. wore this with Southward and have to with an intention of baling out the larboard Pump well, to clear her if possible, having then 3 feet ter in her, got the Pump up, but the Sea still breaking over her, obliged us to put it down again, as more water want down the Pump hold than we could bale out, notwithstanding a Tarpulin. was laid on to keep out the water, but the Sea was too powerful for it to be of by advantage to us; thus unfortunately fituated, and the leak gaining on us, the thip lowering confiderably forward, and not rifing to the Sea, I had no alternative left but to bear up right before the Sea, and endeavour to lighten the thip by throwing the Cargo overboard, when to our aftonishment in attempting to wear het, the would not unswer the belm; we have the Guns and an Iren Caboos overboard and cut away an heavy Anchor from her Bows, which had the defired effect; the wore round, and we got before the wind, having then 53 feet in the hold and the ship at least 3 tect more by the Head than the Stern; the wind now shifted to the S. S. W .- we ildered N. and N. N. E. right in for the land, as we now found it utterly impossible to save the ship, the leak continuing to gain on us.—At 2 P. M. faw the land from N. W. to N. E. and stood direct for it, to save the Crew; as we must have all perished had she gone down before we made the land, owing to luch an immente high Sea running, to as to prevent any boat from landings. Nearing the land, we shouled our water from 7 fathoms to 1 less 3.—At 3 P. M. the wind and Sea abating very much, we were within two or three miles of the shore, and came to in 4 fathoms, being about low water and the Sea moderate, enabled us to take off the Haiches and lighten the thip by throwing the Cargo overboard, laving 63 feet water in the hold; we took down the Top-gallant Yards and Masts, it fall blowing hard; but the water not gaining on us, by midnight, we had cleared the Pepper from between-decks, which lightened her forward, and the appeared more lively to the Sea, and we began to have hopes of faving her; but alast they were but transitory, for the water that had lodged forward began by the thip being by the Stern to find its way to the Pump well, and at 2.A. M. of the 7th instant, the had . 8 feet water in the hold; -at 4 A. M. the water had gained to much on her, that we could fill the Buckets out of the Pump well, from the lower deck, without the affiftance of a lawyard to them; and not being able to keep her fituation any longer a fectet from the people, they were struck with a general terrogand consternation; and at day light requested to get the long boat out to save " then felves, which was accordingly done, and tho' all possible, caution we sulcil not to hurt the boar, we unfortunately grove a note in her bottom on one of the flumps of the timbers on the thip's gan-wal, however we foon naded a piece of Canvas over it, and towered it cown, when before we could clear her of the tackles, the had stoned her starboard side very much, against the ship—the water tow was up to the lower deck, and I tew it quite impossible to lave her, -a-head of us appeared round a point of and so the N. E. a fine imooth B sy under the ke of the Island, we were at an anchor off, my people being now in design and continually crying to Allah, and feeing no chance of the thip being faved, I can the Cable, made fail, and run in round the punt alluded to, the water being now above the upper deck; but having very funoth water, and the thip fetting down fast, her fore and main chains being under water, at M. M. the went down in 16 feet:we then hattied in the long boat and ten of us went on shore in her, taking a few shifts of cloathes, a bag ofcrice, about 6 lb of biscuit, hulf a dozen of madeira, &c. &c -We lest the whale boat for the rest the crew to come ashore and promifed to send the boat as soon as we found a place to land, but finding some difficulty in obtaining the same, finding the shore a complete jungle; however at last we found a fine sandy beach; here we landed, but being ebb tide and the boat leaky, we were obliged to retain it till the tide made, during this time the people on board had got the whale boat stowed, and those that were lest on board except the 2d mate, gunner, and two lasters, made rasts with the spars and came on shore saie, and as soon as the tide made sufficiently to float the long boat, we went off to the wreck, and fortuitely procured another bag of rice, and some light sails, and at 10 P.

M the long boat arrived safe and not a man missing."

DEATH. I On the 20th Sept. Harry Forrester Constable, Esq. an Attorney in the Recorder's Court, Solicator to the Honorable Company, and Captain in the Fencible Regiment. His remains were interest with Military honours, and were attended by most of the Gentlemen of the Settlement, and by all those belonging to the profession, of which Mr. Constable has been for many years so respectable amember.

The pall was borne by Colonels Kerr and Page, in front; Captain Gorman and Mr. Hurde, in the center; and Colonel Carnac, and Mr. Adamion, in the rear.

of the late Mr. Constable.

"The deceale of that late worthy and respectable character, Mr. Constable, has afforded universal concern to every person acquainted with a life which has been constantly distinguished by an uniform support of the most amiable qualities.

"His practice of sympathy and humanity kept pace with his disposition to benevolence, and to a great and clear understanding, he united a firm and capacious mind.

"But the merits of Mr. Constable as a sound Lawer and an industrious practitioner, were highly emment.

"As Company's Solicitor he was peculiarly qualified for the execution of his duty, having acquired an extensive knowledge of the geography of the Country, and the Laws and Customs of the Natives.

"He was an elegant classical scholar, and remarkable for the mildnational authority of his manners.—His moderation and complacency in his professional avocations, were as conspicuous as his amiable and endearing disposition in private life—He agrived in this country at the age of fixteen, and after upwards of seven and twenty years refidence in Bombay, he departed life, with a character for honor and honesty truly unimpeached, and which even enemies, did he possess any, must consess to be unspotted—He had a fine feeling soul, a quick perception of others woes.—And on that day of final recknoing, when mortal frailties shall meet the all piercing eye of Judicial persection, he will receive the great of his virtue—Eternal Happiness.

"Had Mr. Constable attended as minutely to the care of his pecuniary interest, as he has so indefatigably to public concerns, he might have been happy in a handsome independence, and closed the evening of his days regired from an active life, in a manner worthy of himself."

Extract of a letter from Captain Down, late of the Bellona, dated 1she of France, Sept. 9, 1801.

"It is with the greatest concern I have to inform you of the unfortunate capture of the Bellona, by the French national frigate la Chiffonne, of 38 guns, and 290 men, on the 16th of June last, in the latitude of 33' 50' S. Longitude 34' Bast, in a violent gale of wind; -in the evening it moderated, when he fent the fecond Lieutenant and 18 men on beard, and took possession on the following morning; -- both thips going at the rate of fix knots with a very high lea; the ran on board of the Bellona, and carried away her fore-mail, bowsprit, main and mizen-top-gallant-mast. Judging this a favorable opportunity, I took the ship from the Frenchmen, and made all fail to the fouthward; but from her foon getting clear of the wreck and being an amazing fall failer, after four hours chace he came up with me and took me the fecond time; and God knows how long I may remain at this place,"

We are much concerned to state the capture of the ship Clariss. Captain James, on the 1th ultimo, by a French privateer named L'Hyrondelle, commanded by M. Le Même.

—We have been obligingly favoured with the perusal of a few letters, from which we have made the following Extracts.

Extract of a letter from Captain Charles James, late Commander of the Ship Clariffe, dated from Burwah, (50 miles South of Ganjam,) 8 P. M. 29th October, 1801.

"So long a period being elapsed since I departed from Munsur."
"cottah, and no accounts of me, many people will, no doubt, be induced to conclude that I have been either lost or taken:—The latter, I am sorry to say, has been the case, having been captured by the L'Hyrondelle privateer on the 11th instant, and until this period detained by these marauders a close prisoner with many others.

The fellow who took me is a Captain Le Mème, who was in February last released from Bombay, where he had received every civility and attention, for which treatment it might be expected I should have had some indulgence, but quite the reverse:—after he had come up with me, and expending some of his shot, I was compelled to surrender.—I was sent on board the privateer with Mr. Dunn, (a passenger) and in my absence I was most unmercifully plundered; they took my bed, and resused to give me even a palampore to cover me."

From the same, dated Burwah, 30th October, 1801.

"I wrote you a few lines last night, when I was so wholly ingressed on my own missortunes, that I forgot those of others;—to inform you of your loss is needless, as you will be, of course, acquainted with—it.

1. The privateer is again gone up for the Sand Heads—we were nearly re-taken on the 23d by the frigate, but she gave over the chace and went back."

N. B. [Captain James has not, in any letter, mentioned what frigate chaced him on the 23d, as above alluded to, but we suppose it might have been the Mornington, as she was in pursuit of a vessel about that period.]

Copy of a letter from Mr. Conductor Dunn, on board the Clariffe, Captain James, dated Burwah, 29th October, 1801.

I am forry to inform you that we had the misfortune to be taken on the 11th inftant, by the Hyrondelle privateer, Captain Le Mème:
It was not in my power to fave any of your effects, as we were completely plundered;—I have even lost my cloaths.—I forbear mentioning particulars, as Captain James is writing to you, and will give you every information."

We are concerned to state, in addition to the captures above mentioned, the losses of the Bellisarius from Madras, and of the Ravensworth from Ganjam, both taken by L'Eugenie privateer. The Ravensworth after being plundered, was given up to the Captain, one ndition of his returning immediately to Ganjam, without proceeding to any other port.

The Sophia brig, Captain Haves, was also captured by the above privateer, on the 25th ultimo, and the commander of her sent to the lile of France.

On Thursday the Ann and Elez beth, Captain T. Haigs, arrived in the river from Bombay, whence the falled the 24st of September. The Milsord is the only vessel Captain Haigs saw, during the passage.

By advices from the Southward, it appears, Colonel Agnew, met with a favorable opportunity of attacking the refractory Polygars, and totally defeated them: killing vast numbers, and dispersing the remainder.

Extract of a letter from Goomfur, October 23:

from of His Excellency Maha Raje Dinkyahbunge to the Musuad of this Province, was celebrated with uncommon tomp and grandeur, an elegant entertainment was provided for the British Officers here, consisting of mutton and all kinds of animal sood (except beef, and sish) with that delicious variety of fruit, which this truly delightful province produces. His Excellency in person, prosided at the sestive board, assisted by his maternal uncle Beckabunge, Bhavanie, Bhavertah and other Chiefs; the evening concluded with an elegant display of sireworks, and a nautch in the most superior style of pre-eminence I ever witnessed: at intervals Persian Odes were recited; highly expressive of that happy state of peace, and plenty, which now parvades these lately hostile Fields."

November 11th.—On Friday afternoon, arrived in town, Mr. Forth, owner of a small vessel named the Shree-Angelo, from Rangoon to this port, with a cargo of Timber,—having experienced much bad weather in the early part of last month, she was driven far to the Eastward with the loss of three anchors. The people on board ran her upon a mudhank and made her fast by ropes to the shore. Mr. Forth, sites a passage of near thirty days thro' the Sunderbunds, reached Calcutta, to procure the requisites for homestief.

By a private letter received from a Correspondent, dated Mocha, the 15th September, we are forry to announce the loss of the Fuzzy Allum, Captain Baird, from this port.—The letter mentions that she was wrecked off Cape Orfin on the coast of Africa.

We are happy to learn from our Correspondent at Chittagong, that a considerable part of the Teak cargo of the ship Sir George Younge, lately wrecked off the Island of Mascal, has been fortunately recovered through the vigilance and activity of Mr. Molony, the Judge and Magistrate of the district; whose unremitted exertions on that occasion, deferve the highest applause, and entitle him to the particular thanks of the Insurance Company, at this port.

· Extract of a letter from Ganjam, dated 2d Nov.

Ravensworth, Capt. Holmes. She sailed from hence for Calcutta many days since, and has twice been as far as the latitude of Point Palmiras, and as often lost ground to the southward—On the 30th ult. she was captured by the French privateer Engene nearly in this Latitude—After having been plundered of whatever the enemy thought worth carrying off, she was released and given up to Capt. Holmes. Lieutenants Arbuthnot and Dussin were passengers on board the Ravensworth, proceeding to Bengal for their health: they are this moment landed, and report that, every thing considered, they were treated well, being allowed to keep possession of their clothes, &c. This is the south capture made by the Eugene: she is supposed to be now hovering about the latitude of this place, and not far off shore: this must, however, be conjecture, although not improbable considering the season of the year."

On the 10th instant, the Union Colour was presented to the second European regiment, at Berhampore, by Lieut. Colonel Henry White, who 'addressed the officers and soldiers, on the occasion, in the following neat and appropriate speech.

Soldiers!

"It has fallen to my lot to discharge the pleasing and honorable duty of presenting to the second European regiment this Imperial Standard."

The great and auspicious event which this occasion naturally recalls to your recollection must awaken the most grateful emotions in the besom of every Briton who rejoices in the glory of his King, the prosperity of his Country, or who justly appreciates its Constitution and Government. I cordially paticipate with you in these sentiments, and well know their influence on the minds of British soldiers. And now, while committing these Colours to your care, I fondly and considently anticipate you will defend and maintain them untarnished, not less by your valouragainst their enemies in war, than by your sidelity, honor, justice, and good conduct, to all who claim or taght to possess their protection."

Nov. 17th.—The Ganges, Captain Thomas Scott, proceeding to Columbo, going down the river last week, unfortunately struck on the James and Mary, under full sail, and was totally lost; we are happy, however, to say, that no lives were lost; but not a particle of cargo was saved, nor scarcely a vestige of the ship remained; fortunately for the owner, he was insured.

Several other ships in going down the river lately, have grounded, but without suffering any material injury; the frequent occurrence of which at this season is attributed to the shifting of the sands, occasioned by the unusual strong freshes which prevailed in the River during the last rains.

The Albion and Cartier are arrived at Madras from Amboyns, they bring the melancholy particulars of the wreck of the Success Galley, Captain Binny; it appears that the Success Galley, was proceeding to Amboyna from some of the neighbouring Islands, and was in sight of it, when a heavy gale of wind set in, which tore her sails to pieces; the Success Galley anchored, but parting she drove into the turf and was literally dashed to pieces; Mr. Glass, First Officer, and about thirteen Lascars, alone saved.

The following extract of a letter, dated Mocha, 15th September, is the only account yet received of the loss of the ship Fuzzy Allum. We are anxious to hear further particulars of this unfortunate accident.

P. M. in the latitude of about 10 10 North on the Coast of Africa. Capt. Baird, the 2d and 3d Officers, I am afraid are no more. I travelled over the country and was taken off by a Bombay ship, on the 19th August, and arrived here on the 9th September."

Letters from Port Jackson of the 11th March, received by the Trimmer, Capt. Foggo, mention that the most floursshing settlement on the banks of the Hawkesbury, had suffered much by a flood, the river having risen more than forty seet perpendicular. The rain continued incessant for ten days.

On the 12th of February, about half pall eleven o'clock at night, a very severe shock of an earthquake was felt. It lasted about one minute; but except shaking some plaster of the houses, no accounts of damage occasioned by it had been received at the date of the letter.

A great number of United Irishmen had lately arrived. The Anne transport, from England, had landed one hundred and twenty-seven persons of this description, most of whom. That been found guilty of murder. The great encrease of those desperadoes had caused scrious alarm in the colony. They had been detected in making pikes, and laying plans for overthrowing the established authority. At Norfolk Island they had rearly carried their point; but were timely discovered, and two of the insurgents suffered death.

A vessel called the Lady Nelson, with sliding keels, had been dispatched to the southward, to survey that part of Bass's Streights, which had not, till then, been ascertained.

This colony promifes to yield a fund of entertainment to the lovers of natural history. Many non-descript plants have been discovered, and two new quadrupeds. One called by the natives Whombott, is found to the fouthward, near Base's S'geights, in lat. from 38° to 40°. It also frequents the Islands adjacent to those Streights. It burrows in the ground. In colour, it nearly resembles a Fox, and approaches in form to a Bear. It has the pouch of the Opossum, but difiers in every other respect, from that class of animals. Pelvis, with two bones belonging to the false belly, is the very fame as that described by Mr. Home, in his observations on the Kangaroo, published in the Philosophical Transactions: but it differs from that animal, by having only two nipples in the false belly. The teeth are two incisors in each jaw: no canine teeth: grinders, four double and one fingle in each jaw. Their ein is good to eat. Eight of them had been brought alive to Sidney Cove, weighing from 17 to 20 pounds each. The dimensions of one of them were as follow.

The fecond animal, called by the natives Buaboo, was only discovered in the late overflowing of the Hawkesbury. It is about the fize of an Ichneumon, and is said to live on fish; so that it is seldom seen, except when there are freshes in the river.

this important place was achieved on the 21st ult. The works consided of three forts, and several batteries, mounting 100 cannon of different calibres. We also captured at sea the whole of the enemy's annual supply from Batavia, with 37,500 dollars in specie, and various articles to nearly the same amount. The Honorable Company's ship Swift, commanded by Captain John Hayes, made three very close and spirited attacks on Fort Orange and the Batteries ete they surrendered:—much praise indeed is due to the little squadron in general, and to every officer belonging to it."

Extract of a letter from Mocha, dated the 16th September, 1801.

I avail myself of the departure of the ship Phoenix, Captain Mossit, who sails for Bombay comorrow, to give you all the news in this quarter; Lieutenant Colonel Ford, the officers and detachment of his Majesty's 80th regiment that sailed from Goa in the Portuguete frigate that was lost, sailed from hence yesterday on board the Cecelia for Suez. I supposere this you must have heard of the loss of the ship Fazy Allum, she struck off cape Orsoy on the 7th of June last, and strongly after went to pieces, the chief officer was picked up and brought here after having been two months on shore, and almost started to death.

Baird, and almost all the crew, were either drowned, or put to death by the savages, after getting on shore from the wreck; the only military officer on board the Fazy Allum, was Lieutenant Dundas, of the 80th regiment, he poor fellow was unfortunately drowned in attempting to get on shore."

Now. 16th.—On Tuesday was held at Carlier and Scornec's Rosens, the first Subscription Assembly of the season, which was graced by the attendance of the greatest part of the beauty and fashion of the settlement. The Dance was kept up with great spirit till a late, or rather an early hour, when the Company settred apparently satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

Nov. 21st.—By advices received in town on Thursday morn of we learn, that the snow Fancy, Captain Galbraith, from Bufforth, had arrived at Bombay on the 27th ultimo, bringing efficial accounts of the fall of Alexandria; which was announced by a royal salute on the 28th at surrise.

This event took place on the 1st September; the despatches from that quarter are dated the 5th, and preparations were then making for removing the enemy out of Egypt. Our troops were to take possession on the 12th.

We understand the foregoing is the substance of the public advices. Private letters add that the British army had advanced their approaches to within pistol shot of the outworks of the place before the garrison surrendered.

Sir Sidney Smith had failed for England in a frigate with General Sir J. Hutchinson's despatches on the occasion, and it was expected Lord Keith would proceed to Malta.

All the enemy's ships and stores in the inner harbour of Alexandria had fallen into the hands of the captors.—The French carry nothing away with them but what is strictly private property.

General Menou is faid to be either infane, or affects the demeanor and converfation of a person in that unhappy state.

We have much suissastion in announcing the arrival, at Diamond Harbour, of the French Privateer L'Eugene, aptured by the Hon. Company's cruiter, Morning on, Capt. Henry Frost. Lieutenant Hundton, 1st of the Mornington, came in charge of the prize. The following are the particulars we have been obligingly favored with.

The Mornington Cruifer, on the morning of the 9th inft. latitude 21° 21, about 9 leagues Eastward of Saugor Sand, saw the Eugene in the S. E. Quarter, 9 miles distance. The Mornington disguised herself so much as to induce the Eugene to chase her, and at 7 P. M. to come close under her stern, she then hailed the Mornington, desiring her to back her main-top sail and send 3 boat on board.—The Mornington shortened sail, squared liter, yards, and put her helm a-weather—The Eugene immediately commenced a brisk size from her great guns, and a heavy discharge of musquetry from below and alost, at the same time tracking sail, and received the whole of two broadsides from the Mornington before she shot a head of her. The Mornington chased her, and after about 4 hours, (during which the Eugene threw all her guns, excepting one, over board, cut away her anchors, and fawed her gunwales through, &c.) was again within hall of her:—the Eugene, after a few shot, then surrendred.

She was formerly called the Diana, commanded by Citoyen Cautance;—left the Isle of France on the 12th September, and has captured the ship Orient, brig Friendship, and ship Nancy Grab. Pierced for 18 guns, and sails uncommonly well—mounted 6 carrage guns, with a tier of swivels and blunderbusses round her gunwile. Her ciew 83 Europeans, chosen from the crews of La Consiance and La Nymphe.

The Victor sloop of war, commanded by Capt. Collier, (somerly in the Suffolk's tender in this country), sunk after an obdinate desence, at Mahé, the National corvette La Fleebe, of 22 guns, and 145 men, quite a new vessel—4 months from France, with 37 of the conspirators on board, who attempted the life of the Chief Consul, besides 20 of the ciew of La Chifsone, who escaped on shore when the ship surrendered to La Sybille.

The Victor belongs to Sir Home Popham's squadron, and considerably inserior in sorce to her opponent—her being sent off the Sechelles, and the success of the measure, is another instance of the zeal manifested by Sir Home, for the protection and prosperity of the trade of India.

La Eleche was a remarkably fast sailer, and doubtless, had she escaped the vigilance of Captain Collier, who had chaced her a few days before, would have committed considerable depredation on our trade.

A brig, with stores, a prize to the Victor sloop, is also arrived in the river. We understand the Victor sloop sunk another Corverte at the life of Mahé, named the Arrow.

The following are, we understand, the particulars of the action between H. M. sloop of war the Victor and the National Corvette La Fleche.

The Victor fell in with La Fleche on the 27th of August, when, after a smart action of about an hour, the latter sheered off—The rigging of the former was so cut that it was impossible to give chase; but from the course the enemy was steering, Capt. Collier judged her to be destined for the Mahé Islands, whither he accordingly shaped his course-On the 4th of September, towards dusk, the Victor arrived off the Islands, and seeing a ship at anchor close in shore, Capt. Collier concluded it to be his antagonist; but, to avoid the danger of an intricate channel, abounding with funken coral reefs, he deferred an attack till the morning, when a boat was fent off to found, which having effected, without any loss, under the fire of La Fleche, the Victor was towed in so as to bring her carronades-to bear—A tremendous fire now commenced from both ships, which lasted for about three hours, when La Fleche was observed to be finking and on fire—Captain Collier immediately hoisted out his boats to her affishance, and the fire was soon extinguished; but unfortunately the cable of La Fleche having been burnt, the was driven by the current on a goral rock, and totally loft.

By Order of the Honourable the Vice President in Council, C. R. CROMMELIN, AA. Chief Sec. to Gove.

November 25th.—On Saturday last, was launched at How-rah, from the yard of Messis. Archer and Smith, a new Ship of between 7 and 800 tons burthen, named the Stirling Castle. This Ship is justly admired both for beauty and strength of form, and is certainly equal, perhaps superior, to any merchantman heretofore built in India. The large supplies of Teak Timber, which arrived while she was on the Stocks, presented unusual advantages in the selection of her materials; and these have been employed with such skill and ability, that whether considered with respect to model, with respect to materials, construction, or workmanship, the Stirling Castle will defull credit to the Character of Bengal Naval Architecture.

The following Copy of a Letter from Sir Home Popham, K. M. Captain of His Majesty's Ship Romney, &c. &c. &c. enclosing a Copy of a Letter from Captain G. R. Collier, Commander of His Majesty's Sloop Victor, is published by Order of the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

TO THE HONORABLE G. H. BARLOW,

Vice President, &c. &c.

SIR,

I have much pleasure in transmitting you a copy of Captain, Collier's letter of the 10th September, giving a very detailed account of his finking the French National Ship La Fleche, of 22 guns, and 170 men.

The result of Captain Collier's unremitting perseverance under every trying circumstance, and his determined conduct in warping the Victor into Mahé harbour is likely to be of material service to the commerce of India, as La Fleche was unquestionably intended to cruise in the Bay of Bengal.

I have the honor to be Sir,
Your most obedient humble servant,
(Signed) HOME POPHAM.

Calcutta, Nov. 18, 1801.

His Majesty's Sloop Victor, Mab & Road, September 10, 1801.

Sra,
The extreme fickly flate of the crew of his Majesty's Sloop under my command after leaving the Red Sea, induced me to put into the Island Deigo Garçia: after procuring a large supply of turtle and good water, I left that hardour on the 27th of August, and proceeded on the execution of the particular fervice pointed out in your orders of the 22d July; and, on the 2d instant, in light of these Islands, his Majetty's Sloop fell in with a French National Corvette, and after a few ineffectual manœuvres on her part from the superior failing of the Victor when going large, I had the pleasitre of bringing her to close action at 3 past 5 P. M. The disguised state of the Victor, did not long deceive the enemy, the fecond broadfide proved failscient; the Corvette, hanling her wind and deavouring toelcape, which, in about, 20 minutes, I was forry to observe, by having almost soiel directed her fire at our masts and fails, the had a fair prospect of effecting, for on her tacking under our lee, I endeavoured to wear, with the hope of boarding on her how, when I had the mortification to find, both lower and topfail braces that away on the starboard side, as well as preventure ones and bowline; and before others could be love, the Corvette was half a mile to windward; night fall approaching added to the chagrin I feet on observing the Corvette fail better than the Victor on a wind. The chase continued all night, frequently within gunfhot; and at fan-let the following day, from the wind having favoured the enemy, the was four or hie miles to windward. In the night of the 4th, lott fight of the chase, when probably by tacking the escaped.

In this affair I had one man wounded with two musket balls, and Mr. Middleton, master's mate, slightly. The damage furtained in the hull tristing, the foremast that through, and L have to regret our fails and rigging much cut.

Judging from the course, the Corvette was steering when first Joen, the must be bound to these Islands, I pushed for them; and towards sur-set of the 5th, she was again seen running in for this anchorage; I kept under easy sail till dark, when the Victor was anchored; at day light, I had the satisfaction of seeing the Corvette moored, with springs, in the bason or inner harbor, with a red stag at her fore (which as I since learn was in defiance,) being unacquainted with the Channel, and having no Pilot, Mr. Crawford the Master (though ill of a sever,) and Mr. Middleton being volunteers, were sent to sound, which service they completely performed, nor did the latter gentleman desist till repeatedly fired at by a boat from the Corvette.

The extreme narrowness of the Channel, added to the wind, not being very favourable, compelled me to use warps and the stay sails only, which exposed the ship to a raking fire for some minutes, till shouling our water, I was obliged to bring up, having two springs on the cable, our broadide was soon brought to bear, and at 2 past. II A. Ma a well directed fire.

was opened, which was kept up incessantly from both vessels till twenty minutes past two, when I plainly perceived the enemy was going down, in a few minutes her cable was cut, she can round, and her bow grounded on a Coral Reef.

Mr. McLean, the first Lieut, with a party of officers and men were sent to board, though scance had they put off 'ere we discovered the Enemy to be on fire; Lieut. Smith and other, officers were then sent with proper affishance, but just as they had succeeded in extinguishing the fire, she fell over on her larboard bilge into deeper water, and funk.

She proves to have been the French Mational Corvette La Fleche, mounting twenty long French eight-pounders, anfwering to English nines, with two stern chalers, though it appears all her guns were not mounted in the first action; was larger than the Victor, in dimensions, perfectly new, a remarkably fast failer, and not four months from France, commanded by Captain Bonamy, Lieutenant de Vaissean, with four Lieutenants, and a complement of one hundred and forty sive men, some of whom had been left sick at Bourbon; had thirtyfeven passengers sent into banishment by the first Consul of France, for an attempt on his life. From a number of dead and dying men reported to be found on her forecastle as well as two along side, I am induced to believe the carnage was great, though only four are acknowledged by the French Captain.

She had twenty men to affift at her guns, forming a part of the crew of the French Frigate Chiffone, captured here a few days fince by his Majesty's ship La Sybille, Capt. Adam.

position of the Victor being a privateer.

From the length of time elapsed 'ere this business was brought to a close, I have felt it necessary to be thus particular in my detail, and I trust for your excuse should I dwell langer; as I feel I should do an injustice to every officer and man on board, did I neglect paying a just tribute to the cool and determined bravery they evinced; even men labouring under the severity of a lingering sever (of which unfortunately I had thirty) tell a proportionate zeal.

I beg leave to recommend to your notice, Lieutenant McLean, as well as folicit your interest for the confirmation of my second Mr. Smith, as also Mr. Hyde, Gunner: observing that whenever Mr. Middleton, or Mr. Graves, (both having passed for Lieutenants,) shall obtain the rank, they will do equal credit to your patronage.

In this action I most fortunately had not a man either killed or wounded; our hull, rigging and boats, have suffered much besides having some shot between wind and water.

I am forry to say that in warping out of the channel, from a hawser parting, the Victor drove on a coral reef, from which she was completely extricated the next day. The sish on the foremast is now on, our other damages repaired, and I hope to proceed on the execution of the remaining part of your orders to-morrow.

I have the honor to be, SIR,

Your most obedient and very humble Servant.

To Sir Home Popham, K. M. Captain of his Majesty's ship Romney, and Commanding a Squadron of his Majesty's ships in the Ked Sea.

By Order of the Honorable the Vice President in Council, C. R. CROMMELIN, Allg. Chief Sec. 10 Govs.

The following extract from a letter dated the 16.h instant, from Captain Frost, commander of the Honorable Company's cruizer Mornington, to the Secretary to the Marine Board, is published by order of the Honorable the Vice President in Council.

"I have the pleasure to acquaint you for the information of the Board, that on the morning of the 9th inflant. 1218 A. M. being in the Latitude of 210 2' and about 9 leagues to the Eistward of Saugor Sand, we discovered a Schooner in the S. E. quarter distant 9 miles, I soon perceived she was chaling us; judging it to be the French Privateer, I had been informed of, I kept the Mornington flaking in the wind and disfigured her so much as to induce the Schooner to continue the chale the whole day, and at 7 P. M. the was to close up under the flern as to hale, defiring us to back our main top sail and send a boat on board. We shortened sail, squared the after yards, and at the same time put our helm a weather in order to bring the larboard guns to bear. He perceiving this, instantly commenced a brisk fire from his great guns, also a heavy discharge of musketry both from below and alost, at the same time making all fail. The Enemy received the whole of our broadside twice before he shot a-head of us; I evidently perceived his intention was to get on a wind: this we prevented, and after a chase of about four hours, (during which he threw the whole of his guns excepting one overboard, cut away his anchors and lawed his gunwhales through, &c.) we were zigam within hail of him, when he after a few that called out he had furrendered. The prize proved to be L'Eugene, French privateer, (formerly Diana) commanded by Citizen Coutance. She left the life of France on the 18th of September, and has made three Captures as permargia.

The vessel is pierced for 18 guns, and sails uncommonly sast, she mounted (agreeable to her commission) six carriage guns, with a tier of swivels and blunderbusses round the gunwhale. Her Crew consisted of eighty-three Europeans, chosen from the Consance and La Nymph. For further particulars I refer you to Leutenant Hamilton who comes up in charge of her.

I feel infinite satisfaction in having had an opportunity to hear testimony to the excellent conduct of the Officers and Crew of the Mornington; their prompt obedience to my orders, and the quick execution of the different evolutions we were obliged to go through, to prevent this Privateer getting on a wind (which she frequently attempted, and by which she would most probably have escaped) does them great credit. Their behaviour while at their quarters has also convinced me, that had the Enemy been of that force to have required their exertions in this way, they would have acquired themselves equally well.

The Privateer had one man killed and one wounded. Her fails and nigging very much cut, and two of our 32lb. that through her hull. One of the Mornington's seamen wounded by a grape shot.

By order of the Honorable the Vice President in Council, C. R. CROMMELIN, Adg. Chief to Secretary Gout.

We are concerned to state, that accounts have reached: us from Madras, which mention that the French privateer Hirondelle, has taken a Brig, commanded by a Captain. Brown; she was captured, it is said, sour hours after her departure from Madras Roads. The Hirondelle is described as ship-rigged, mounting 18 guns, and has a crew of one hundred and sixty men, including her Ossicers.

We have much pleasure in communicating to our readers, that accounts have been received in town from Vizagapatam, stating that the Automasia, Captain Curtis, bound from this port to London with rice, had retaken the brig Frendship, lately captured by the Eugene French privateer, and sent her into the above port. The date is not mentioned, but supposed to be about the 26th ultimo, in latitude 7:16. It is hoped Captain Curtis will fall in with the Orient, also taken a few days before by the same privateer.

On the 27th ultimo, Major General George Deare, Commanding Officer of the Troops in the District of Benares, and John Neave, Esq. second Judge of the Provincial Court of Appeal and Circuit, and Agent to the Governor General, at Benares, waited on His Excellency the Most Noble the Governor General, having previously obtained His Excellency's permission for that purpose, and presented to him the following Address on the part of the British inhabitants of Benares:

TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE MOST NOBLE

May it please your Excellency,

We, the European Inhabitants of Benares, impelled no less by the highest respect and admiration of your Excellency's character, than by an ardent love of our native Country, cannot refrain from offering to? your Excellency our fincerest congratulations upon the late glorious successes of the British arms in Egypt. While we exult in the general effect of your Excellency's administration, which has, in the short space of three years, extended and confolidated the British empire in India, in a degree which mult ever be contemplated with althoughment, we cannot reprefs the emotions, which are, on the pielent occasion, excited in our minds by a confideration of the prompt and vigorous manner, in which resources, so recently acquired, were applied by your Excellency to the aid of the general cause of the British empire: and when we rejoice as Britons at the glorious success, which has followed the animated exertions of our brave Countrymen in Egypt, we feel indebted to your Excellency for the proud reflection, that a force from British India has co-operated on this important service; and that a part of that army, which to lately entitled itself to the approbation of its Sovereign, and of its Country, by the reduction of Seringapatam, is at this moment employed on the shores of the Mediterranean.

The casual, but to us fortunite, occurrence of your Excellency's having received the intelligence of the fall of Alexandria, and total expulsion of the French from Egypt, at this place, has suggested the idea of the present address, which we confidently hope, your Excellency.

will graciously accept as the honest and unpremeditated essusion of sentiments, which we are conscious of only entertaining in common with the rest of our Countrymen in India

His Lordship the Chief Justice addressed the Grand Jury in a charge which fully detailed to them the various duties of their aiduous and important office. All the offences that the law has made cognizable by them, were enumerated, and the nature of them ardividually, was amply explained by the learned Judge. Advarting to their separate, and their combined effects on fociety, he impressed on the minds of his auditors in general an abhorrence of vice, and a love for The crime, which, unthe peace and fecurity of virtue. happily most frequently occupies the attention of Julies in this place, in the criminal jurissifien of the Court, is murder: Of this, with the frauds of the natives, from the high and dangerous offence of conspiracy, to the meaniest and most contemptible acts of dishonesty, a composed the catalogue of subjects that are commonly laid before an Inquest for determination. Burglary and high way robbery are attended with too much personal danger to be favorite instruments of procuring wealth by the timed Indigenæ of Be gal, His Lordship remarked particularly on the crime of confpi-This crime confifts in an unlawful combination of two persons at least, for the sake of procuring money from any one, by threats tending to create fears of having his reputation injured or his life and property endangered by false and groundless prosecutions, or by any other illegal means; or in falfely and maliciously procuring an innocent person to be actually indicted for a telony. Our crowded and uncomfortable fituation in Court, precluded the possibility of taking notes in writing, which might have refreshed our memory and enabled us to gratify our readers with his Lordinip's luminous and elaborate explanation of this offence. It is an engine in the hands of the vilett of men, which is most formidable and alarming even to the upright and innocent. The fairest character and the most intrepid spirit behold it with dismay. The breath of the Upas of Java is not more deleterious to the life, than this mortal poison is, to the happiness of human beings. We understand that an indictment has been presented by a gentleman high in the civil service against some opplent natives, for a conspinacy. We hope, in a future number to pesent our patrons with a summary of the trial, which, is postponed to the next Session.

The Grand Jury having gone through all the business before them, were discharged on Saturday.

The offences in the Calendar, were twelve in number, of which, four were for murder.

John Brennan, a soldier, was tried on Friday for the wilful murder of one Bucket; and being found guilty, received fentence of death;—and, on Siturday, Samuel Bone, for the murder of G orge Sleaford; and Simon Bird, for the murder of his wife, received similar sentences.

At the place of execution, Brennan and Bone were attended by the Reverend Mr. Limerick, who administered to them in their last moments, the confolation and hopes which the Christian religion affords to penitent sunners. Brennan was dressed in a suit of sull mourning, and Bone, in the uniform of his regiment. The Reverend Padre Pinheira accompanied Bit. The unhappy culprits behaved with the greatest decorum, and with a degree of sortitude, which seemed occioned by their trust in the assurances of the gospel, rather than the consequence of hardened guilt and the obstinacy of an impenetrable heart.

December 19th.— On Thursday, accounts were received in town of the arrival of His Majesty's ship Leopard.

On Thursday last, arrived the American ship Hazard, Captain Tibbetts. She lest New York 9th July, arrived at the Cape 9th Sept. lest 10th Oct. This vessel sailed from Calcutta about eleven months since, and delivered dispatches at the Cape after a very short passage from hence.—Her Cape, there contracted with Government for a full freight of slour, which she langed at Cape Town on her present voyage out. The number of barrels that she delivered was 2000.

We must presume that plenty has again blessed the Cape of Good Hope with one of the articles, at least, that are necessary to health and life. Another American vessel had touched at the Cape, on her way to Batavia, but was not permitted to land a single barrel of flour.

The Countess of Sutherland was nearly resitted, when the Hazard sailed, and expected to leave the Cape for St. Helena about the 20th October.

Some days prior to the failing of the Hazard from the Cape, the long pending cause of the Danish ship Holger Danishe's cargo was brought to a final hearing in the Vice Admiralty Court; and the whole of that immense property condemned as lawful prize to the private ship of war Harriett, Captain William White, owned by Mr. Michael Hogan. The original cost of this most valuable cargo, according to the invoices produced in Court, amounted to 416,000 Rix Dollars, (four hundred and sixteen thousand) which, on the lowest calculation, after paying all expences, must yield the fortunate captors at least from £.50 to 60,000. sterling.

On Thursday arrived at Kedgeree the English brig Dee, Capt. Stewart, from Jangeylore, whence she sailed the 1st December...

The Charlotte, under Hamburgh colours, is arrived as Kedgeree from Bombay, whence the failed on the 22d October last.

On Sunday forenoon the Active, Captain W. B. Greenway, arrived in the river from Malacca on the 10th, and Prince of Wales's Island on the 24th November.

Captain Rice, of H. M. 51st regiment, was a passinger by this veffel.

December 23d.—The Brig Success, arrived off town yesterday forenoon from Trincomalee, but last from Chitiagong, saw nothing during her passage.

Previous to her leaving Trincomalee, three Danish ships had failed for this port, and several others were to fail shortly after the departure of the Success.

The Maria, Captain Andrew Stone, arrived on Monday from Prince of Wales's Island, on the 28th October.

Lieutenant G. Wilson, of the Madras, and Lieutenant S. Brown, of this Establishment, with Mr. Linart and Son, were passengers by this vessel.

Yesterday between three and four o'clock, P. M. was launched from the Yard of Messes. Gillett, Blackmore, and Co. a beautiful Ship of about 800 tons, named the Althea.

One the same day and same hour, was launched from the Yard of Messrs. Hudson, Bacon, and Co. at Howrah, another fine Ship of 650 tons burthen, named the Betsey.

The Mary, Captain Brownlie, on her way from Padang to Calcutta, spoke H. M. ship the Fox. The American ship the Wanslands, had also fell in with H. M. ships the Victorious and Arrogant.

While Captain Brownlie was at Padang, the ship Fanny, bound from Karikal, to the Cape of Good Hope, with grain, put into that port from stress of weather, having experienced on her passage from Tranquebar, (whence she was charged with dispatches for England) a most tremendous gale, in which her main-mast was shivered to pieces by lightning, basides sustained several other material damages;—it is with sincere regret we learn that Captain George Thomson, her commander, died at Sea some days, before the ship reached Padang.

By the American schooler Mary, which less the Isle of France on the 19th October, we learn that the Bellone, a privateer (frigate built) of 36 guns, and well manned, had atrived at port Nord Ouest, from Europe, last from Rio La Plata, where she had made prizes of three Portuguese ships.

The Bellone, is well known in Europe, as a fast failing, (and unfortunately) too successful a cruizer against our trade in that quarter of the globe, and when the Mary sailed was on the point of quitting the French Isles, to try her solutione in these Seas.

A ketch of 16 guns, was also ready to commence her predatory excursions in the Indian Ocean. We however, now look forward, with a well grounded hope, to hear of both their intended objects, being soon and happily frustrated.

The Pomona, that left Prince of Wales's Island on the 9 h November, brings us accounts of the safe arrival at the Island, of the ships Dart, Capt. Allen, and Prosper, Captain Smith, belonging to this port, also of His Majesty's ship the Lion, of 64 guns, from England, in May, having under her convoy, the following China ships, viz.

Capt. J Martin, . Woodford, - ]. Wordsworth, junr. Abergavenny, - A. Timbrell, Albion, - H Wilson, Warley, - I P Fearon, Belvidere, - T. B. Pierce, Taunton Castle, ___ J Farquharion, Alfred, - T, Wall. · Duke of Buccleugh,

gics The Calcutta Monthly Journal;

By the Pomona we are concerned to hear that the Ajax; Captain Mossat, bound to the Cape of Good Hope, the Thomas, Captain Bannantyne, and the Arran, Capt. Lindsay, bound to Europe from this port, had unfortunately encountered excessive bad weather in the Bay, and had been obliged to put into Prince of Wales's Island to resit; Capt. Lindsay, of the Arran, we are concerned to add, had died on the passage.

The H. C. ship Ganges, Captain Gray, sailed from Malacca for China, on the 3d November, as did likewise the China sleet under convoy of H. M. ship Lion, from Prince of Wales's Island, on the 17th November, to the same destination.

Private letters from China of the latter end of June, received from the Viper cruizer, viz. Anjengo, give the pleafing accounts of the safe arrival at Macao of the following Portuguese ships from this Port, viz. the Carmo, Princessa de Portugal, Diligentia, Roza de Macoa and St. Antonio.

Extract of a Letter from Prince of Wales's Island, dated November 4, 1801.

This day was landed from the Honorable Company's ship the Duke of Buccheng's, Capt. Wall, under a roy il talute from his Majesty's thip the Lion, of ba gains, and all the Indiamen for China, an original Linting in full leng in or his it oyal Highnest, the Prince of Walss, done the late Sir Joshua Reynolds, which the Prince has been graciously raised to fend as a mark of his respect to the merchants here, to be put in the Government House.

This elegant Painting, with the Royal Letter, has been forwarded through Sir John Macpherson, by whom, and under whose auspices when Governor General of Bengal, this valuable settlement was first established.

The Picture was landed in the Lion's Barge, attended by others of the fleet, under a royal falute from the garrison, and was received on the Beach by Captain Mitford, of the Lion, who was accompanied by the Captains and many of the Officers of the Indiamen from the landing place to the Government House, where the troops were drawn up on each side of the road forming a street; the Picture was admirably well carried in an upright position by the crew of Captain Mitford's Barge, who were nearly and uniformly diessed for the occasion,—alto the bands of the different ships, who during the time the Picture was in the Barge, played Rule Britannia, and after it was landed until lodged in the Government House, God save the Ring.

"The Lieutenant Gowernor and The Principal British Inhabitants received the Picture at the Government House, where the Royal Letter, and that from Sir John Macpherson, was read.

"It is likewise understood, that his Royal Highness has been graciously pleased to promise to take the Island and its concerns, under his royal patronage and protection."

Extract of a Letter dated Golconda, Nov. 16, 1801.

The old city of Hydurabad B hagungur is a wonderful ruin, apparently of no ancient date. Yet, though its circumference is about twelve in les, its being built is not mentioned by a fingle historian. It was never finished; one reason the people at present alledge for its being discontinued was that a Tiger killed several workmen, and was invulentable! but the other, which does not appear to me much more rational, is the want of water. In sact, not a soulknows any thing of the matter. The whole country plainly evinces the immanse wealth and magnificence of the ancient.

government; but now the venerable piles of former splendor are wasting away to the state whence they arose."

Extract of a Letter from Lucknow, dated November 21st, 1801. General Martin's superb Mausoleum at Lucknow, tho not yet completed to answer all the various important objects of its institution, has been lately opened by the Administrator with a considerable degree of judgement and eclat.

The Hon. Mr. Wellesley having expressed a wish to have an opportunity of inspecting the plan and progress of the Buildings, &c. at leisure, Mr. Queros provided an elegant Breakfast for him and a large company at Constantia, on the arth instant.

And on the 20th instant, with a view to give the Commander in Chief an opportunity of seeing the place with every conveniency and advantage, Mr. Queros gave. a splendid Dinner in the great Hall to His Excellency, to Mr. Wellesley, Col. Scott, the Resident, and to all their suites, and indeed to the whole European station, the company

The entertainment was in the best stile of hospitality. All the furnished part of the noble edifice was illuminated. There was great abundance of the best dishes and choicest wines, well served and giving general satisfaction. As the company naturally felt themselves in this place, in the character of pilgrims, there was no tendency to excess, not withstanding the abundance of excellent Clarat. No toast was even mentioned excepting one towards the conclusion, which will doubtless be a standing regulation of the House, and the devout repetition of which three times, or three times three imposed as an indispensable duty on all pilgrims, viz.

To the Memory of General Martin; and may the Mausoleum at Constantia issues long as the Pyramids of Egypt!"

The following relation of a most barbarous ceremony that letely took place in Gungar Saugur, and to which Mr. Bartlett, a branch pilot, with some other Europeans, our Correspondent mentions, were eye-witnesses, appears unparallelled the annals of history.

"Being at Gungar Saugur, with some other Pilots, the last full Moon, and hearing that some extraordinary absurdsti s were to be performed among the Fauquiers of that part, among others such as persuading the ignorant natives to go into the water, no doubt from interested motives, to be devoured by Sharks, - Mr. Bartlett with his party went to the place, from curiofity, where these cruelties were to be exercised, and witnessed, these facts—that several men and women at the instigation of the Fauquiers, were made to throw themselves into the river, amidst innumerable Sharks, that were feen floating upon the water, which atmost immediately devoured these unfortunate victims of superstition; and particularly mentions that a men remarkably strong, on being attacked, seemed to set the Thirk at designee, and had a long through with his antagonith, till others came up and dilpatched him.

facrificed in the same manner, was desirous if possible to rescue him, and waited till late in the evening, in hopes of performing this act of humanity, but suspicious ensing among the barbarous Fauquiers that such an attempt might be made, put it out of Mr. B's power to effect it, by secreting him.

"This horrid practice it appears takes place twice a year, in the months of February and November, about the time of the full moon."

December 29th.—On Wednesday accounts were received in town, of the arrival of the Brig Clyde, Captain A. Burnside, from Bencoolen, with she lest the 5th November.

By her we learn, that the ship Thomas, Captain Bannatyne, had put into Bencoolen, in a very leaky and distressed state, and was obliged to dispose of her cargo at that place.

The Louisa, Captain Weatherall, from this Port, and Anne, Captain Crockatt, from Madras, had arrived there during the stay of the Clyde,—The Phænix, Captain Maxwell, was expected to sail soon from thence for this port.

Europe articles, as well as Rice, Opium and Piece Goods, wese in great demand there.

Accounts are received in town of the arrival in the river of the Lydia Elizabeth, Captain John Butler, from Prince of Wales's Island, whence she sailed the 4th instant.—We have not learnt any news by this vessel.

Extract of a private Letter from Rosetta, 12th Sept. 1801.

After a few days of open trenches and a few smart attacks of outposts, in which the British Troops were invariably successful, the French on the 28th ultimo sent out a slag of truce. A cessation of Hostilities accordingly took place from that date, and on the 30th a Capitulation was concluded. They marched out with all the Honors of War, carrying 10 Pieces of Cannon, all their Arms and their private Baggage. They were to be transported at our Expence to some Port in France, and not be considered as Prisoners of War. These are lighter terms than they deserved, and especially as we had the power of campelling a surrender.

"The French were allowed 10 days to fettle their private concerns in Alexandria, without any of our Troops entering the town during that time. But on the 2d inflant our army took possession of all the outworks which completely command the I awn. G. O. BY GOVERNMENT. Fort St. George, 12th November, 1801.

The Right Honorable the Governor in Council has great pleasure in publishing in General Orders the following Extract of a Letter lately 1844.

ceived from the Honorable Court of Directors, referring to the conduct of the Honorable Colonel Wellesley, and the Officers, and Troops. under his command, employed in the operations against the Rebel Dhoondia.

Letter dated 10th June, 1801.

Para. 2d .- In the early part of the operations against the Rebel Dhoondia, We noticed with particular satisfaction the judicious and spirited conduct displayed by Colonel Stevenson, and Licutenant Colonel Dalrymple.— From subsequent advices, particularly a letter from Governor Duncan of the 15th September last, which speaks of the decided and brilliant advantage, gained by the Honorable Colonel Wellesley on the 30th of July over a division of Dhoondia's Army, We enzertained a well founded expectation of a speedy termination to the prefent contest, more especially as it was stated on the 31st August the Colonel was within two days maich of the Enemy -Your dispatches by the Triton have announced the important intelligence of the deleat and destruction of the Rebel, and his Army, on the tenth of September last —strongly impressed with a sense of the Political advantages which must be the confequence of the complete overthrow of Dhoondia, and his Forces, We defire that our thanks may be conveyed to the Honorable Colonel Wellesley for his distinguished Services in the late Campaign, and to the Officers, and Troops, under his Command, for their 204lous, and fuccessful, co-operation.

HEAD-QUARTERS,-Chonltry Plain, 17th Nov. 1801. G. O. BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF

It appearing by the Returns of the army that parties of Troops are . frequently employed in escorting Officers, and Officer's Baggage, which ' is irregular both as it relates to the employment of the Troops, and to the incurring unauthorized expense, the Commander in Chief is pleafed . to order that all detachments to employed shall immediately join their' respective Corps; and further, that escotts shall hencefouth, be granted only to Officers, who from their rank in the simy, or fituation in the Service, are entitled to a Military Guard.

The Commander in Chief at the same time deems it necessary to declare that General Officers when employed as Officers Commanding divisions of the Army, are alone entitled to a Military Guard; and that Officers in command of Garrisons, or Corps, during their presence with either, are only entitled to Sentinels from a public or regimental Guard.

Exitact of a Letter from Nundydroog, dated 22d Nov. 1801.

G. O. By THE HON, COLONEL WELLESLEY.

Park Sta The Rate of discipline and order in which the 2d Battahon 18th Regiment, appeared at the Review this morning, reflicts the greatest Credit apon Lieut, Colonel Cuppage, and the Officers of the Corps.

But little more than a year has elapsed since the orders were given for raising the 18th Regument, and shortly after the necessates of the service in other parts, required that the disciplined troops should be withdrawn from the Nundvdroog district. Since that period this newly raised Battalion has done the duty of the Nundvroog district, and has had large detachments at other places: notwithstanding which it is nearly 12,000 men strong, and appeared at the Review this morning in a state of discipline and order that would have done Credit to the oldest Corps in the service.

Colonel Wellesley proposes not only to report this state in the most favourable terms to the Commander in Chief; but he takes this opportunity of drawing to it the attention of Commanding Officers of Corps under his Command as to an example, which it followed cannot fail to calure to them the approbation of their ful eriors.

It gives Colonel Wellelley the greatest satisfaction to see so numerous and so fine a body of men raised in the territories of the Rajah of Mysore, and he has no doubt but that in their fidelity and attachment to the Government which they are serving they will equal the other Native troops, as they do in their discipline.

Colonel Wellesley cannot conclude without taking this opportunity of returning his thanks to Lieutena & Colonel Cuppage for the assistance which he has received from him in establishing and preserving tranquility in this heretofore disturbed district.

BOMBAY.

November 4th.—On Sunday night, the Honourable Company's Cruifer Panther, Lieutenant Lowis, anchored in the harbour, from Goa, which place she left the 26th ultimo.

A very singular but unfortunate accident happened on Sunday last, a young Gentoo of the name of Nagon, was amusing himself with loading an old rusty musquer, with a broken lock, and without any flint, he used every means he could devise, but inessectually, to fire it off, as the touck hole was too rusty to admit of any communication with the barrel—he at last hit on a very curious expedient, which was putting a piece of firey wood in at the muzzle, and as it did not immediately take fire, he put his mouth to the muzzle to blow it, when unfortunately the fire communicating with the powder, it went off and killed him dead on the spot—a Coroner's inquest was held on the body, who brought in a verdict—accidental death.

the nature of my late employment; immediately after the receipt of that dated 1st Apul, I weighed with the fleet and proceeded to the island of Terna'e. ROBERT RICKARDS, Sec. to Government.

We mentioned in our last that an action had taken place between Scindia's army and Jesswant Row Holkar, and have since been favoured with the following particulars in a letter dated Camp at Indore, 8th October 1801.

When Scindia's ermy croffed the Nerbuddah at Hundea on the aith September, as formerly mentioned, Scindia himself remained at that place with a corps of between three and four thouland cavalry and two battalions of the first brigade for the protection of the baggage. Colored Sutherland having marched from the banks of the Regret 12 o'clock? on the night of the 26th, joined Captain Brownings's determent on the 30th, which was then encamped on the Cottah Scind' River above the Chaut. Here the army assembled and consists of 7000 good cavalry, about as many of inferior quality, and the following troops of the 1st brigade under Colonel Sutherland, viz. nine battalions of Infantry, 400 Rohilles, of whom 200 were mounted, and a respectable train of weishery; of Colonel Filose's brigade there were four battalions. The second Brigade which had been auxiously expected from Hindoostan, was then known to be 50 cols distant from Cots, so that no assistance usuals be detired from them.

On the 3d infant the army commenced its march towards Indoraand were harraffed night and day by large bodies of Jeffwant Row's ca-, which made two ferious astempts to break in upon the Infantry, re repulfed with confiderable lofs. On the 13th the whole army . Indore and encamped two cofs from that city, where Mailian waiting for them; having evacuated Engien on finding by Colonial Sutherland's route, that the former was threatened. During the night of the 13th, Colonel Sutherland made preparations for attacking the enemy at day light with eight battations of the 1st Brigade, and the Robillas, and as many guns as could be ferviceable on each flink and in centre, besides the battalion guns of which there are 4 or 5 attached to each corps. The other sive bittalions were allotted for the protection of the baggage, which as usual in these armies, was simmenfe.

Holkar however having changed his ground during the night, Colonel Sutherland was under the necessity of making a movement to his right over such broken ground, that it was three o'clock in the afternion before the action commenced. The enemy about that time opened a fire from upwards of eighty pieces of comon, and the action soon became general. The behaviour of Scindia's Insantry, on the occasion is spoken of in terms of the highest praise, and they were led on by English officers who burned with impatience to revenge the late massacre of their countrymen. In this they suby succeeded; for at 6 o'clock Holkar's army was totally deserted—75 pr.c.s of cannon, of which three are 24 pounders, and an immense quantity of ammunition remaining in the lands of the confidence, with on the following day entered Indore, Holkar's capital, on triumph. No other particulars of the loss of the enemy are mentioned; and the killed and wounded of Scindia's troops do not exceed 170, among whom there is fortunately no European officer.

Holkar after his defeat fled with his cavery towards Mahaler, and it is reported he had dishanded his broken battalions which fled with him. Scindia was expected to join his victorious army in a few days

Another account, also dated from Indose 18th ultimo, states the number of guns of what is called the great Park which Colonel Sutherland had with him to have been twenty, and the horse to have consisted of 7000 Prudanes and hetween 5 and 6000 Hindoostanee and Mahranacavilry. By this account it appears to have been at a River called the Siphara, where Ilolkar's cavalry made the most ferious attack on Colonel Supherland during a fever, that Col. Filose put a period to his existence, and that he was succeeded in the commend of his brigade by Captain Manoel de Bano Nato. The number of Holkar's guns are stated in the letter at present before us to have been no less than one hundred and cleven, of which one hundred are said to have been takens it retaination for Jesswant Row's cruolty at Ougien, the city of Indorewas given up to plunder, and many parts of it were let on fire and reduced to ashes.

By Older of the Acting President and Members of the Marine Board, J. SHORE, Sec.

The following is the narrative of the loss of the ship Fazy Album, Capt. Balen, and the subsequent proceedings of the crew. It was drawn up by Mr. William Kinser, the first officer of that use fortunate ship who arrived at Mocha, on the 10th Sept. on the ship Jehanger in company with the Hercules. We are happy to hear that three more of the Crewhad found their way to Mocha, and a Dow had been dispatched to Bunder Felix to ascertain the fate of the remainder and bring back as many of the survivors as possible.

On the 7th June at 1 P. M. they saw the land bearing W. b. S. Williams off shore about 10 miles; after steering different Courses and making and shortening sail as was requisite, breakers were seen a hear to P. M. The Ship's head then to the Westward lying to. Che Baird immediately made sail and wore but soon after struck and the made a breach over the ship fore and aft. The language of the Fore

Main rigging were cut in order to discumber the wreek of the Masts, and soon after the main mast and fore mast went over board, the mizen mast being very short, stood.

At this time the ship lay more upright, and the Lee Guns were ordered to be thrown over-board, but not one of the Lascars would lend a hand nor a man to clear the wreck from along side. The wind intreased every minute. The sca about 12 o'Clock stove in the Cabin windows and the Gun Deck was immediately full; we now saw no resource and accordingly secured all the small spars as well as we could to surmish the means of getting on shore at day light. We at first were apprehensive that it was a reef on which we had struck; but about 4 A. M. when the moon got up, to our great joy we saw the main land; and at day light discovered a sine sandy beach, full of small bushes; at some single sew of the lascars ventured, on shore, first on small planks and spars. About an hour after, the Captain, second officer, and all the Seatunnies went office a raft, made of studying sail booms, the people after the start start and start they law the Captain leave the ship wellt off in numbers upon small rafts.

About 10 A. M. the 2d mate with Lout thirteen more left the ship in the long boat; foon afterwards I Lit the ship in a raft with 10 mores and left Lieut. Dundas on board, who I could not persuade to leave to ship at that time. About 10 minutes after I left the ship I got on shore and got a dry shift of cloaths for the Lascars, which they had preserved dry by putting it in the fouttle cask, half an hour after I met the ad officer, who told me that he had found the body of Lieut Dundas, and had paried it in the fand: about a P. M. we were vilited by a few natives, who were very thy at first; they did not offer us any violence, and after picking up what they could, they left us, and were followed by all the Captain Baird then directed the Europeans to roll up all the empty water casks they could find, and make a barricado, for defence is accessive against the natives; at 6 P. M. the 8th, a few Lascars came back from the place where they had followed the nature, and informed as that there was a village a few miles from where we were, and the state of the whole we were, and the state of the whole we were, and the state of the stat metives were very ill disposed towards us. We flept all signif under the which we had the good fortune to find on the dry light; we who slept together, to the number of about'20, Officers, and Seacunnies, with 3 or 4 Europearhand Lalears, the the beach to roll up all the full casks of water and Sait Page
